

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

Volume 26, Number 50

Full Leased Wire Service of United Press Association

BRAINERD, MINNESOTA, SATURDAY, JULY 31, 1926

Printed on Paper Made in Brainerd

Price Three Cents

150 FISHERMEN LOST IN THE STORM AT NASSAU

SHIPS NOW CONDUCTING WIDE SEARCH

SO FAR NO TRACE OF SPONGE FLEET OR TWO MAIL BOATS FOUND

BAHAMA CITIES ENGAGED IN TASK OF REBUILDING HOMES

Miami, Fla., July 31.—(UP)—The fate of 150 persons still missing from Nassau as a result of the hurricane there probably will be known today according to word from the Bahamas port this morning. An all day search yesterday by ships which survived the storm failed to reveal any trace of the sponge fleet or the two mail boats which have not been heard from since Sunday. Today the task of visiting outlying islands in the hope of finding survivors is expected to be completed.

Nassau had almost given up hope for the sponge fleet, which sailed from the harbor a week ago today before the storm broke and has not been heard from since. Hope is still held out for the mail boats Brontes and Albertine Adon with 60 persons on board, however.

Meanwhile the Bahama cities have set about the task of cleaning up debris and rebuilding homes.

Wireless communication with Nassau is still undependable.

AIMS TO CLEAN OUT VICE IN CANTON, OHIO

Canton, O., July 31.—(UP)—Joseph R. Roach, Chicago attorney, became advisory counsel to acting Chief of Police Earl Hexamer today at the appointment of Mayor S. M. Swartz to clean out the Canton vice and liquor interests, believed responsible for the murder of Don R. Mellett, reform publisher.

The new city official will be paid with funds raised by the executive committee of civic organizations at whose suggestion he was appointed. In reality he will represent city clubs and organizations in the murder investigation with order of the mayor. Roach is credited with cleaning up Terre Haute and Indianapolis and other cities.

Prosecutor C. B. McClintock, who refused to accept Roach as an aid to his office, said after the appointment that close cooperation would be maintained between his and Hexamer's forces.

BANDIT HOLDS UP CARLTON FILLING STATION, GETS $15

Carlton, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—A bandit who held up the attendant at a Standard Oil company filling station here Friday night picked the wrong place. He got only $15 for his pains. A description of the man has been given to authorities.

JAPANESE FREIGHTER GIVES DISTRESS SIGN

Cordova, Alaska, July 31.—(UP)—The Japanese freighter Yabon Maru, bound from the Orient to Portland, Ore., is in distress somewhere in the north Pacific, according to a report picked up by the Dutch Harbor, Alaska, naval radio station today.

Exact position of the ship was uncertain as fragments of the distress signals were copied through interference, the Dutch Harbor station advised.

SPENT $15,000 A YEAR ON WEEKLY INCOME OF $15

London, July 31.—(UP)—Expenditures of $15,000 a year when he was drawing only $15 a week income have brought the young Earl of Kinnoull to bankruptcy courts. He says he lived on money borrowed from professional money lenders.

RAN OVER DOG AND LANDED IN DITCH

Osakis, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—Running over a dog proved disastrous to Mrs. and Mrs. Ed Aiken of Osakis, while they were enroute to Alexandria. They attempted to miss the animal, but ran over it and into a ditch. Passersby found both unconscious along the road and in a serious condition, but they will recover.

Brainerd's Annual Tourist Golf Tourney Sunday

POINCARE GETS VOTE OF CONFIDENCE IN THE CHAMBER

Paris, July 31.—(UP)—Premier Poincare received a vote of confidence in the chamber today when that body 380 to 190 agreed to immediate consideration of financial projects.

SANITY INQUEST TO BE ASKED FOR MANUFACTURER

WALTER H. FLETCHER, ST. PAUL, CARRIES ON IN UNUSUAL MANNER

DECLARED TO HAVE MADE HIS HOME A MEDICAL TORTURE CHAMBER

St. Paul, July 31.—(UP)—A sanity inquest was to be asked today for Walter H. Fletcher, 37, a manufacturer, who is declared to have made his home a medical torture chamber for Edward Horrigan, 29, a city fireman, and kept Horrigan prisoner for five hours.

When police broke into the Fletcher home Friday night, they found Horrigan handcuffed to a chair and helpless in a makeshift strait jacket of canvas webbing. Roy Kleinsmith, 18, stood guard over him with a rifle and nearby was Fletcher, bending over a table holding safety razors, matches, pliers and a blacksnake.

Horrigan said the inquisition started by Fletcher beating him to insensibility with his feet, then slicing wafers of skin from his body, next holding lighted matches against his skin and finally lashing him with the blacksnake whip.

The fireman fainted three times during the ordeal, he said, but Fletcher revived him with dashes of cold water and continued the torture while Kleinsmith, an employee of Fletcher, stood guard.

Horrigan was at a loss to explain the torture. He said he had known the manufacturer for some time but that they had no difficulties. Only recently, he said, Fletcher had invited him on an automobile trip to Rochester, Minn., but he declined. Fletcher lured him to the house by ruse and then overpowered him.

Police said that with Horrigan helpless and marked by the torture, Fletcher attempted to get a photographer to take a picture of the fireman and boasted of his exploit to a neighbor, who notified authorities.

Kleinsmith said Fletcher forced him to assist in the torture, first using him as a messenger to induce Horrigan to come to the house and then as a guard.

Fletcher threatened to kill him, Kleinsmith said.

5 MEN BURIED IN MINE CAVEIN, TIMBERS GIVE WAY

RESCUE WORKERS TRY TO SAVE MEN AT WEST PORTAL, COLORADO

MOFFATT TUNNEL MINE IS THE SCENE OF THE ACCIDENT

West Portal, Colo., July 31.—(UP)—Five men were still buried today in a cave-in in the Moffatt tunnel mine, which occurred when timbering gave way beneath the weight of the mountain through which the tunnel passes.

Rescue crews worked throughout the night putting in new timbering and removing the tons of rock that fell into the bore.

Little hope is held out for the men although it is said air could have reached them through the mass of rock and splintered timber.

NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH IN DULUTH

Duluth, July 31.—(UP)—Mrs. Jennifer Lynch narrowly escaped death early today when her home and an adjoining house were destroyed by fire. She fled after the flames had gained headway. Both houses were owned by Mrs. Lynch.

SAYS FRANCE WILL PAY ALL OBLIGATIONS

"NO QUESTION OF REPUDIATION OF OUR DEBTS," SAYS POINCARE

DECLARATION MADE AFTER THE CHAMBER VOTES CONFIDENCE

By A. L. BRADFORD (United Press Staff Correspondent) Paris, July 31.—"There is absolutely no question of the repudiation of our debts," Premier Poincare told the chamber of deputies today in discussing taxation.

"Foreign countries must know that France never dreams of repudiating her engagements."

The declaration was made after the chamber had voted confidence in the premier by agreeing to immediate discussion of the government's financial projects, 380 to 150, communists and socialists having joined in attacking the measures.

"The recent rise in the value of the pound and the dollar was caused by an unreasonable panic," Poincare said.

"It was scandalous. There were times when foreign countries showed more confidence in France than certain French people."

Communists, excited at the vote, booed Poincare.

Deputy Cachin, communist leader, declared:

"You, projects strike at the poor and relieve the rich."

Paris, July 31.—Premier Poincare today received two votes of confidence from the French chamber as taxation plans were debated.

The second vote came late in the day when the chamber, by a vote of 296 to 178 passed the third article of the financial project including taxes on wine, a project many deputies had protested. The first two articles of the financial project had been passed viva voce.

Earlier in the day he had been given a vote of confidence, 380 to 150, when the chamber agreed to immediate discussion of the financial projects.

The second vote came shortly after the premier had told the chamber that France did not intend repudiation of debts.

TOOK 3 OFFICIALS TO TACK UP A QUARANTINE SIGN

Canby, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—It took three officials to tack up a quarantine sign against the protests of Mrs. Elsie Carter, 40, who lives with her husband and three children in a tent near here. A Canby doctor and a township supervisor were unsuccessful and Deputy Sheriff Nortum was bitten in the hand in trying to enforce the quarantine. The sign finally went up and Mrs. Carter is serving a 30-day jail sentence.

GIRL WHO WOULD BE A BOY TELLS OF METAMORPHOSIS

St. Paul, July 31.—(UP)—A girl who would be a boy—and was for a while—was on her way back to Chicago to be a girl again.

Eunice Evelyn Day, 18, of Chicago, who tramped almost 4,000 miles to the Pacific coast and back, posing as a boy, was successful with her deception until she accepted an automobile ride with a woman who saw through her duplicity and notified authorities here.

"I studied the boys a long time—even learned to smoke," Eunice explained. "Then one day last spring I just vanished."

Chicago, July 31.—(UP)—Police today investigated the story of Eunice Evelyn Day, 18 year old girl, who was held in St. Paul after posing as a boy for several months and found that several facts in her tale were false. The address she gave as her Chicago home is non-existent, it was said at the detective bureau and officers have been unable to locate relatives here.

RECALL PETITION AGAINST SUPERIOR MAYOR PROBABLE

Superior, Wis., July 31.—(UP)—A recall election in conjunction with the September primary election was believed probable today following the filing of petitions bearing 3,133 names asking that Mayor Fred A. Baxter be removed from office.

Baxter's assumption of duties as head of the city street department after the city council had removed Street Commissioner John Schaefer precipitated the recall movement.

Opponents declared Baxter had no right to the position.

MINING STOCK PROMOTER TAKEN TO PENITENTIARY

HENRY UNSCHULD, MINNEAPOLIS, STARTS SERVING HIS SENTENCE

FOUND GUILTY OF EMBEZZLING $15,000 FROM DEFUNCT BANK

Buffalo, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—Henry Unschuld, of Minneapolis, a mining stock promoter, was taken to the Stillwater state penitentiary today to begin serving a one-to-ten year term imposed on him after he was found guilty of embezzling $15,000 from the defunct Maple Lake State Bank.

Unschuld will become a prisoner of Hugo H. Sievers, former president of the First National Bank of Buffalo, who recently was given a similar term for grand larceny of $23,000 from the Maple Lake State Bank. Unschuld, Sievers and Carl H. Melberg, former president of the Maple Lake bank, were jointly indicted for the $15,000 theft.

These three men are alleged to have been principals in a gigantic bank wrecking conspiracy by which it was charged the wrecking of four banks in this part of the state was accomplished with a loss estimated at $600,000 to $1,000,000 or more.

The charge on which Unschuld was found guilty was predicated upon a transaction by which the Maple Lake bank bought $50,000 in bonds issued in the name of the Montana and Minnesota Mining Company.

The state charged that the only evidence that any money actually changed hands in the consideration was the crediting of $15,000 to Unschuld's account, that the bonds were worthless and that the issue was not authorized by stockholders until three months later.

Although his trial required more than two weeks and was cluttered up with numerous technicalities, Unschuld was found guilty in less than four hours.

GIRL FROM CROSBY DISOWNS MOTHER

DAUGHTER DESCRIBES PARENT AS COOK WHEN ARRESTED FOR SHOPLIFTING

New York, July 31.—A touching story of a mother's sacrifice, including working as a hotel chambermaid, so that her daughter might live on Riverside drive and study for the stage, was told in court today. It was revealed that the mother had even accepted, without denial, the daughter's description of her as cook instead of mother.

Mrs. Mary Tapola, 48 years old, and her daughter, Mrs. Marian Abrams, 19, who came here two years ago from Crosby, Minn., were brought to court for sentence on a shoplifting charge, the mother having pleaded guilty and the daughter having been convicted of taking two dresses from a Broadway store.

A probation officer told that at the time of arrest the daughter had denied any relationship with her mother, had said she had met her by chance in the store, and that the elder woman used to be her cook. The mother made no denial of these statements, accepted full responsibility, and pleaded guilty. The daughter was dressed in fashionable and expensive clothes while the mother was shabbily attired.

Fines of $50 each were imposed and paid.—Minneapolis Tribune.

IOWA MOURNS THE PASSING OF SEN. CUMMINS

DEATH STRUCK SUDDENLY AND ALMOST WITHOUT WARNING LATE FRIDAY

TODAY TRIBUTES BY THE HUNDREDS POUR INTO HIS OLD HOME

By IRWIN M. FEMRITE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Des Moines, Iowa, July 31.—The milestone marking the end of the long and distinguished political career of Senator Albert Baird Cummins has been reached and today all Iowa mourns the death of her most illustrious son. Death struck suddenly and almost without warning late Friday after a brief illness of 36 hours. Senator Cummins had entered his 76th year when an attack of the heart brought on the end. He died at the home of his sisters here, the Misses Anne and Margaret Cummins, where he had been living since his return from Washington several weeks ago.

He complained of acute indigestion and a pain in his heart. Heart specialists were called in and after consultations he was ordered to bed. Not until two hours before the end was his condition considered beyond recovery.

At his bedside were his sisters and his daughter, Mrs. Hollie A. Rawson. The end came at 4:15 o'clock. Several days prior to his recent illness had been spent working diligently to complete his autobiography. As late as Wednesday Senator Cummins spent the entire day at his office working on the book in which he had hoped to recount his early political struggles and his rise from a carpenter apprentice to the highest office within the gift of the republican party in Iowa. But fate intervened and only the memory of services performed for his people live as a permanent record of nearly a quarter of a century in public life.

Funeral services for the late senator probably will be held tomorrow with the commonwealth of Iowa providing the reverent honors which his past quarter of a century of service to the state merits.

Governor John Hammill today wired the Cummins family offering Iowa's capitol for the bier of the statesman and directing Adjutant General Louis G. Lasher to provide the proper military guard and escort for a state funeral. He also authorized Lieutenant Governor Clem F. Kimball of Council Bluffs to officially represent him at the funeral.

The governor is in Wyoming where he has been attending the national conference of governors.

Today tributes by the hundreds poured into the old Cummins home, all expressing admiration and respect for this outstanding republican leader. Included in these were expressions of sorrow from Colonel Smith W. Brookhart and Senator Steck, From Yellowstone National Park, where Governor Hammill is vacationing also came his expression of sorrow for the passing of "a fearless and honest man."

While the immediate cause of his death was heart failure there are those who will say that the keen disappointment arising from the expressed will of the voters in the primary last June hastened his end. Even the victor, Colonel Smith W. Brookhart, intimated that his victory was a rebuke to the administration, whom Cummins more nearly represented in matters other than farm relief than it was to the efforts of the white haired senior senator.

Not in a decade had the republican party in Iowa had a more forceful and fearless leader. The span of Cummins' political career is broad, having had its beginning in 1887 when he was named an independent candidate for the state legislature and elected. Followed then his election as governor in 1901 which place he held until his election to the senate in 1908.

Curiously enough Cummins was elected to the senate on a wave of economic discontent which was sweeping the country as a progressive. Later he became conservative of the first order after having been reviled as a demagogue and radical in his early days.

Had Cummins served out his present term he would have completed 18 years continuous service in Washington. Perhaps his most outstanding accomplishment in the senate

DENY THAT BORIS IS ENGAGED TO ITALIAN PRINCESS

Rome, July 31.—(UP)—The Italian foreign office has denied reports that King Boris of Bulgaria is engaged to Princess Giovanna, daughter of the king of Italy.

STATE CONTROL IS SUFFICIENT AT THIS TIME

OPERATORS OF TRUCKS AND BUSES VOICE THEIR OPINIONS

SAY UNNECESSARY REGULATION BY GOVERNMENT WOULD BE TO DISADVANTAGE

St. Paul, July 31.—(UP)—Operators of trucks and busses in Minnesota have added their voices to the opinion that state regulation of trucks and busses was satisfactory to shippers and federal regulation was not advisable at this time.

Operators who appeared before the interstate commerce commission hearing which was to be concluded here today were unanimous in the following expressions:

Trucks and busses are best fitted to serve shippers and passengers over short distances.

Unnecessary regulations by the government would work to a disadvantage.

Some railroads (Great Northern particularly) were quick to realize the advantage of the truck and bus in the short haul and had entered the field.

The business is increasing rapidly and is profitable.

Thirteen companies in the state carried 2,308,805 passengers during the first six months of the year.

Perishable goods and live stock are transported by truck more quickly and at a saving.

Regulation must be extended to all who haul for hire as well as the public common carrier.

STRIKE LEADERS GO TO JAIL

FOUND GUILTY OF CONTEMPT FOR VACATION OF AN INJUNCTION

Indianapolis, July 31.—(UP)—John Parker and Robert Armstrong, leaders of the strike of union street car men in Indianapolis, today were sentenced to 90 days in jail by Federal Judge Baltzel, for contempt of court.

They were found guilty of contempt for vacation of an injunction issued by Judge Baltzel before the strike was called on July 5.

Both are officers of the Amalgamated Association of Street & Electric Railway Employees.

and one which seriously impeded his work in succeeding session was his part in enacting the Esch-Cummins act providing for return of railroads to private ownership after the war. His part in this legislation developed much opposition against him. The campaign against him was carried to the farmer and some consider this resulted in his defeat for renomination last June.

St. Paul, July 31.—Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa was praised by John J. Esch, former Wisconsin congressman and co-author of the Esch-Cummins railroad bill, as "one of the most experienced statesmen of our day" with "great knowledge of interstate regulation and laws."

Esch is now a member of the interstate commerce commission and is in St. Paul conducting a series of bus hearings.

Cummins and Esch were close friends.

Paul Smith's, N. Y., July 31.—President Coolidge today prepared a message of condolence to the family of Senator Albert B. Cummins, who died in Des Moines yesterday. The president and members of his party were greatly affected by the death of the senator, who it was recalled emphasized his physical fitness on his last visit to the White House.

EXPECT TOURISTS FROM 10 STATES TO ENTER PLAY

MANY VISITING GOLFERS PRACTICED THIS WEEK ON LOCAL LINKS

THE BRAINERD COUNTRY CLUB BREATHES ROYAL WELCOME FOR VISITORS

Brainerd's second annual "tourist" tournament will be held at the Brainerd Country club Sunday afternoon, beginning at 1:30 o'clock sharp and all tourists and local golfers are invited. A tourist tournament was held for the first time last year and proved to be such a success and attraction for the visiting golfers that it is being repeated this year. Credit is due to J. H. Krelberg for this idea of entertaining tourist friends.

Many visitors that were present last year have returned, bringing friends with them and will be present at tomorrow's events. Many visiting golfers have been on local links for the past week in preparation for tomorrow's tournament and one party from Iowa, who have been staying at Gull lake, made arrangements to remain for tomorrow's festivities.

Representatives from the following states are expected: Iowa, Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, North and South Dakota and people from the southern part of the state. Many of these states' best players will be present and fully 100 to 150 tourist golfers are expected.

The club urges the co-operation of all local members and asks that they do all in their power to entertain the tourists and to make the tournament a success. The tournament is really a civic proposition and every citizen and business man should take a keen interest and lend hearty moral and financial support. This method of "getting acquainted" has proven popular, creating a very friendly feeling and is one of the best methods Brainerd has to entertain its visitors.

The tournament committee has been working hard to make the tournament "bigger and better than ever" and the grounds are reported to be in excellent shape. Refreshments will be served by the entertainment committee and prizes for all visiting golfers will be awarded. Prizes were donated by local merchants and include some very handsome and practical gifts.

NO ACTION ON PAROLE ASKED BY WALTER BURKE

Milwaukee, Wis., July 31.—(UP)—No action as yet has been taken regarding the application for parole made to Washington by Walter Burke, former Kenosha attorney now serving a five year sentence in Leavenworth on a charge of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws, the United Press ascertained today.

Burke, once accused of being the "king of the $3,000,000 Kenosha-Milwaukee" booze ring, has served three years and three months of his five year sentence and according to prison rules is eligible to apply for parole.

Under the prison regulations, Burke's time would expire in December without parole, inasmuch as he is allowed "good behavior time," authorities said.

BLACK RUST IS CAUSING DAMAGE

Faribault, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—Black rust is causing damage to wheat fields in some sections around Faribault, according to word received here today.

Farmers indicated that the yield would be somewhat below normal but were encouraged by the outlook for a bumper corn crop.

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS CONVICTION OF DR. O. E. FRENCH

St. Paul, July 31.—(UP)—The Minnesota supreme court today upheld conviction of Dr. Charles E. French in St. Louis county court on a first degree manslaughter charge growing out of an illegal operation.

150 FISHERMEN LOST IN THE STORM AT NASSAU

SHIPS NOW CONDUCTING WIDE SEARCH

SO FAR NO TRACE OF SPONGE FLEET OR TWO MAIL BOATS FOUND

BAHAMA CITIES ENGAGED IN TASK OF REBUILDING HOMES

Miami, Fla., July 31.—(UP)—The fate of 150 persons still missing from Nassau as a result of the hurricane there probably will be known today according to word from the Bahamas port this morning. An all day search yesterday by ships which survived the storm failed to reveal any trace of the sponge fleet or the two mail boats which have not been heard from since Sunday. Today the task of visiting outlying islands in the hope of finding survivors is expected to be completed.

Nassau had almost given up hope for the sponge fleet, which sailed from the harbor a week ago today before the storm broke and has not been heard from since. Hope is still held out for the mail boats Brontes and Albertine Adon with 60 persons on board, however.

Meanwhile the Bahama cities have set about the task of cleaning up debris and rebuilding homes.

Wireless communication with Nassau is still undependable.

AIMS TO CLEAN OUT VICE IN CANTON, OHIO

Canton, O., July 31.—(UP)—Joseph R. Roach, Chicago attorney, became advisory counsel to acting Chief of Police Earl Hexamer today at the appointment of Mayor S. M. Swartz to clean out the Canton vice and liquor interests, believed responsible for the murder of Don R. Mellett, reform publisher.

The new city official will be paid with funds raised by the executive committee of intercity organizations at whose suggestion he was appointed. In reality he will represent city clubs and organizations in the murder investigation with order of the mayor.

Roach is credited with cleaning up Terre Haute and Indianapolis and other cities.

Prosecutor C. B. McClintock, who refused to accept Roach as an aid to his office, said after the appointment that close cooperation would be maintained between his and Hexamer's forces.

BANDIT HOLDS UP CARLTON FILLING STATION, GETS $15

Carlton, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—A bandit who held up the attendant at a Standard Oil company filling station here Friday night picked the wrong place. He got only $15 for his pains. A description of the man has been given to authorities.

JAPANESE FREIGHTER GIVES DISTRESS SIGN

Cordova, Alaska, July 31.—(UP)—The Japanese freighter Yabon Maru, bound from the Orient to Portland, Ore., is in distress somewhere in the north Pacific, according to a report picked up by the Dutch Harbor, Unalakleet, naval radio station today.

Exact position of the ship was uncertain as fragments of the distress signals were copied through interference, the Dutch Harbor station advised.

SPENT $15,000 A YEAR ON WEEKLY INCOME OF $15

London, July 31.—(UP)—Expenditures of $15,000 a year when he was drawing only $15 a week income have brought the young Earl of Kinnoull to bankruptcy courts. He says he lived on money borrowed from professional money lenders.

RAN OVER DOG AND LANDED IN DITCH

Osakis, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—Running over a dog proved disastrous to Mrs. and Mrs. Ed Aiken of Osakis, while they were enroute to Alexandria. They attempted to miss the animal, but ran over it and into a ditch. Passersby found both unconscious along the road and in a serious condition, but they will recover.

Brainerd's Annual Tourist Golf Tourney Sunday

POINCARE GETS VOTE OF CONFIDENCE IN THE CHAMBER

Paris, July 31.—(UP)—Premier Poincare received a vote of confidence in the chamber today when that body 380 to 190 agreed to immediate consideration of financial projects.

SANITY INQUEST TO BE ASKED FOR MANUFACTURER

WALTER H. FLETCHER, ST. PAUL, CARRIES ON IN UNUSUAL MANNER

DECLARED TO HAVE MADE HIS HOME A MEDICAL TORTURE CHAMBER

St. Paul, July 31.—(UP)—A sanity inquest was to be asked today for Walter H. Fletcher, 37, a manufacturer, who is declared to have made his home a medical torture chamber for Edward Horrigan, 29, a city fireman, and kept Horrigan prisoner for five hours.

When police broke into the Fletcher home Friday night, they found Horrigan handcuffed to a chair and helpless in a makeshift strait jacket of canvas webbing. Roy Kleinsmith, 18, stood guard over him with a rifle and nearby was Fletcher, bending over a table holding safety razors, matches, pliers and a black snake.

Horrigan said the inquisition started by Fletcher beating him to insensibility with his feet, then slicing wafers of skin from his body, next holding lighted matches against his skin and finally lashing him with the blacksnake whip.

The fireman fainted three times during the ordeal, he said, but Fletcher revived him with dashes of cold water and continued the torture while Kleinsmith, an employee of Fletcher, stood guard.

Horrigan was at a loss to explain the torture. He said he had known the manufacturer for some time but that they had no difficulties. Only recently, he said, Fletcher had invited him on an automobile trip to Rochester, Minn., but he declined. Fletcher lured him to the house by ruse and then overpowered him.

Police said that with Horrigan helpless and marked by the torture, Fletcher attempted to get a photographer to take a picture of the fireman and boasted of his exploit to a neighbor, who notified authorities.

Kleinsmith said Fletcher forced him to assist in the torture, first using him as a messenger to induce Horrigan to come to the house and then as a guard.

Fletcher threatened to kill him, Kleinsmith said.

5 MEN BURIED IN MINE CAVEIN, TIMBERS GIVE WAY

RESCUE WORKERS TRY TO SAVE MEN AT WEST PORTAL, COLORADO

MOFFATT TUNNEL MINE IS THE SCENE OF THE ACCIDENT

West Portal, Colo., July 31.—(UP)—Five men were still buried today in a cave-in in the Moffatt tunnel mine, which occurred when timbering gave way beneath the weight of the mountain through which the tunnel passes.

Rescue crews worked throughout the night putting in new timbering and removing the tons of rock that fell into the bore.

Little hope is held out for the men although it is said air could have reached them through the mass of rock and splintered timber.

NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH IN DULUTH

Duluth, July 31.—(UP)—Mrs. Jennifer Lynch narrowly escaped death early today when her home and an adjoining house were destroyed by fire. She fled after the flames had gained headway. Both houses were owned by Mrs. Lynch.

SAYS FRANCE WILL PAY ALL OBLIGATIONS

"NO QUESTION OF REPUDIATION OF OUR DEBTS," SAYS POINCARE

DECLARATION MADE AFTER THE CHAMBER VOTES CONFIDENCE

By A. L. BRADFORD (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, July 31.—"There is absolutely no question of the repudiation of our debts," Premier Poincare told the chamber of deputies today in discussing taxation.

"Foreign countries must know that France never dreams of repudiating her engagements."

The declaration was made after the chamber had voted confidence in the premier by agreeing to immediate discussion of the government's financial projects, 380 to 150, communists and socialists having joined in attacking the measures.

"The recent rise in the value of the pound and the dollar was caused by an unreasonable panic," Poincare said.

"It was scandalous. There were times when foreign countries showed more confidence in France than certain French people."

Communists, excited at the vote, booed Poincare.

Deputy Cachin, communist leader, declared:

"Your projects strike at the poor and relieve the rich."

Paris, July 31.—Premier Poincare today received two votes of confidence from the French chamber as taxation plans were debated.

The second vote came late in the day when the chamber, by a vote of 296 to 178 passed the third article of the financial project including taxes on wine, a project many deputies had protested. The first two articles of the financial projects had been passed by a vote.

Earlier in the day he had been given a vote of confidence, 380 to 150, when the chamber agreed to immediate discussion of the financial project.

The second vote came shortly after the premier had told the chamber that France did not intend repudiation of debts.

TOOK 3 OFFICIALS TO TACK UP A QUARANTINE SIGN

Canby, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—It took three officials to tack up a quarantine sign against the protests of Mrs. Elsie Carter, 40, who lives with her husband and three children in a tent near here. A Canby doctor and a township supervisor were unsuccessful and Deputy Sheriff Snortum was bitten in the hand in trying to enforce the quarantine. The sign finally went up and Mrs. Carter is serving a 30-day jail sentence.

GIRL WHO WOULD BE A BOY TELLS OF METAMORPHOSIS

St. Paul, July 31.—(UP)—A girl who would be a boy—and was for a while—was on her way back to Chicago to be a girl again.

Eunice Evelyn Day, 18, of Chicago, who tramped almost 4,000 miles to the Pacific coast and back, posing as a boy, was successful with her deception until she accepted an automobile ride with a woman who saw through her duplicity and notified authorities here.

"I studied the boys a long time—even learned to smoke," Eunice explained. "Then one day last spring I just vanished."

Chicago, July 31.—(UP)—Police today investigated the story of Eunice Evelyn Day, 18 year old girl, who was held in St. Paul after posing as a boy for several months and found that several facts in her tale were false. The address she gave as her Chicago home is non-existent, it was said at the detective bureau and officers have been unable to locate relatives here.

RECALL PETITION AGAINST SUPERIOR MAYOR PROBABLE

Superior, Wis., July 31.—(UP)—A recall election in conjunction with the September primary election was believed probable today following the filing of petitions bearing 3,133 names asking that Mayor Fred A. Baxter be removed from office.

Baxter's assumption of duties as head of the city street department after the city council had removed Street Commissioner John Schaefer precipitated the recall movement.

Opponents declared Baxter had no right to the position.

MINING STOCK PROMOTER TAKEN TO PENITENTIARY

HENRY UNSCHULD, MINNEAPOLIS, STARTS SERVING HIS SENTENCE

FOUND GUILTY OF EMBEZZLING $15,000 FROM DEFUNCT BANK

Buffalo, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—Henry Unschuld, of Minneapolis, a mining stock promoter, was taken to the Stillwater state penitentiary today to begin serving a one-to-ten year term imposed on him after he was found guilty of embezzling $15,000 from the defunct Maple Lake State Bank.

Unschuld will become a prison mate of Hugo H. Sievers, former president of the First National Bank of Buffalo, who recently was given a similar term for grand larceny of $23,000 from the Maple Lake State bank. Unschuld, Sievers and Carl H. Melberg, former president of the Maple Lake bank, were jointly indicted for the $15,000 theft.

These three men are alleged to have been principals in a gigantic bank wrecking conspiracy by which it was charged the wrecking of four banks in this part of the state was accomplished with a loss estimated at $600,000 to $1,000,000 or more.

The charge on which Unschuld was found guilty was predicated upon a transaction by which the Maple Lake bank bought $50,000 in bonds issued in the name of the Montana and Minnesota Mining Company.

The state charged that the only evidence that any money actually changed hands in the consideration was the crediting of $15,000 to Unschuld's account, that the bonds were worthless and that the issue was not authorized by stockholders until three months later.

Although his trial required more than two weeks and was cluttered up with numerous technicalities, Unschuld was found guilty in less than four hours.

GIRL FROM CROSBY DISOWNS MOTHER

DAUGHTER DESCRIBES PARENT AS COOK WHEN ARRESTED FOR SHOPLIFTING

New York, July 31.—A touching story of a mother's sacrifice, including working as a hotel chambermaid, so that her daughter might live on Riverside drive and study for the stage, was told in court today. It was revealed that the mother had even accepted, without denial, the daughter's description of her as cook instead of mother.

Mrs. Mary Tapola, 48 years old, and her daughter, Mrs. Marian Abrams, 19, who came here two years ago from Crosby, Minn., were brought to court for sentence on a shoplifting charge, the mother having pleaded guilty and the daughter having been convicted of taking two dresses from a Broadway store.

A probation officer told that at the time of arrest the daughter had denied any relationship with her mother, had said she had met her by chance in the store, and that the elder woman used to be her cook. The mother made no denial of these statements, accepted full responsibility, and pleaded guilty. The daughter was dressed in fashionable and expensive clothes while the mother was shabbily attired.

Fines of $50 each were imposed and paid.—Minneapolis Tribune.

IOWA MOURNS THE PASSING OF SEN. CUMMINS

DEATH STRUCK SUDDENLY AND ALMOST WITHOUT WARNING LATE FRIDAY

TODAY TRIBUTES BY THE HUNDREDS POUR INTO HIS OLD HOME

By IRWIN M. FEMRITE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Des Moines, Iowa, July 31.—The milestone marking the end of the long and distinguished political career of Senator Albert Baird Cummins has been reached and today all Iowa mourns the death of her most illustrious son. Death struck suddenly and almost without warning late Friday after a brief illness of 36 hours. Senator Cummins had entered his 76th year when an attack of the heart brought on the end. He died at the home of his sisters here, the Misses Anne and Margaret Cummins, where he had been living since his return from Washington several weeks ago.

He complained of acute indigestion and a pain in his heart. Heart specialists were called in and after consultations he was ordered to bed. Not until two hours before the end was his condition considered beyond recovery.

At his bedside were his sisters and his daughter, Mrs. Hollie A. Rawson. The end came at 4:15 o'clock. Several days prior to his recent illness had been spent working diligently to complete his autobiography. As late as Wednesday Senator Cummins spent the entire day at his office working on the book in which he had hoped to recount his early political struggles and his rise from a carpenter apprentice to the highest office within the gift of the republican party in Iowa. But fate intervened and only the memory of services performed for his people live as a permanent record of nearly a quarter of a century in public life.

Funeral services for the late senator probably will be held tomorrow with the commonwealth of Iowa providing the reverent honors which his past quarter of a century of service to the state merits.

Governor John Hammill today wired the Cummins family offering Iowa's capitol for the bier of the statesman and directing Adjutant General Louis G. Lasher to provide the proper military guard and escort for a state funeral. He also authorized Lieutenant Governor Clem F. Kimball of Council Bluffs to officially represent him at the funeral.

The governor is in Wyoming where he has been attending the national conference of governors.

Today tributes by the hundreds poured into the old Cummins home, all expressing admiration and respect for this outstanding republican leader. Included in these were expressions of sorrow from Colonel Smith W. Brookhart and Senator Steck. From Yellowstone National Park, where Governor Hammill is vacationing also came his expression of sorrow for the passing of "a fearless and honest man."

While the immediate cause of his death was heart failure there are those who will say that the keen disappointment arising from the expressed will of the voters in the primary last June hastened his end. Even the victor, Colonel Smith W. Brookhart, intimated that his victory was a rebuke to the administration, whom Cummins more nearly represented in matters other than farm relief than it was to the efforts of the white haired senator.

Not in a decade had the republican party in Iowa had a more forceful and fearless leader. The span of Cummins' political career is broad, having had its beginning in 1887 when he was named an independent candidate for the state legislature and elected. Followed then his election as governor in 1901 which place he held until his election to the senate in 1908.

Curiously enough Cummins was elected to the senate on a wave of economic discontent which was sweeping the country as a progressive. Later he became conservative of the first order after having been reviled as a demagogue and radical in his early days.

Had Cummins served out his present term he would have completed 18 years continuous service in Washington. Perhaps his most outstanding accomplishment in the senate

DENY THAT BORIS IS ENGAGED TO ITALIAN PRINCESS

Rome, July 31.—(UP)—The Italian foreign office has denied reports that King Boris of Bulgaria is engaged to Princess Giovanna, daughter of the king of Italy.

STATE CONTROL IS SUFFICIENT AT THIS TIME

OPERATORS OF TRUCKS AND BUSES VOICE THEIR OPINIONS

SAY UNNECESSARY REGULATION BY GOVERNMENT WOULD BE TO DISADVANTAGE

St. Paul, July 31.—(UP)—Operators of trucks and busses in Minnesota have added their voices to the opinion that state regulation of trucks and busses was satisfactory to shippers and federal regulation was not advisable at this time.

Operators who appeared before the interstate commerce commission hearing which was to be concluded here today were unanimous in the following expressions:

Trucks and busses are best fitted to serve shippers and passengers over short distances.

Unnecessary regulations by the government would work to a disadvantage.

Some railroads (Great Northern particularly) were quick to realize the advantage of the truck and bus in the short haul and had entered the field.

The business is increasing rapidly and is profitable.

Thirteen companies in the state carried 2,308,805 passengers during the first six months of the year.

Perishable goods and live stock are transported by truck more quickly and at a saving.

Regulation must be extended to all who haul for hire as well as the public common carrier.

STRIKE LEADERS GO TO JAIL

FOUND GUILTY OF CONTEMPT FOR VACATION OF AN INJUNCTION

Indianapolis, July 31.—(UP)—John Parker and Robert Armstrong, leaders of the strike of union street car men in Indianapolis, today were sentenced to 90 days in jail by Federal Judge Baltzel, for contempt of court.

They were found guilty of contempt for vacation of an injunction issued by Judge Baltzel before the strike was called on July 5.

Both are officers of the Amalgamated Association of Street & Electric Railway Employees.

and one which seriously impeded his work in succeeding session was his part in enacting the Esch-Cummins act providing for return of railroads to private ownership after the war. His part in this legislation developed much opposition against him. The campaign against him was carried to the farmer and some consider this resulted in his defeat for renomination last June.

St. Paul, July 31.—Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa was praised by John J. Esch, former Wisconsin congressman and co-author of the Esch-Cummins railroad bill, as "one of the most experienced statesmen of our day" with "great knowledge of interstate regulation and laws."

Esch is now a member of the interstate commerce commission and is in St. Paul conducting a series of bus hearings.

Cummins and Esch were close friends.

Paul Smith's, N. Y., July 31.—President Coolidge today prepared a message of condolence to the family of Senator Albert B. Cummins, who died in Des Moines yesterday. The president and members of his party were greatly affected by the death of the senator, who it was recalled emphasized his physical fitness on his last visit to the White House.

EXPECT TOURISTS FROM 10 STATES TO ENTER PLAY

MANY VISITING GOLFERS PRACTICED THIS WEEK ON LOCAL LINKS

THE BRAINERD COUNTRY CLUB BREATHEES ROYAL WELCOME FOR VISITORS

Brainerd's second annual "tourist" tournament will be held at the Brainerd Country club Sunday afternoon, beginning at 1:30 o'clock sharp and all tourists and local golfers are invited. A tourist tournament was held for the first time last year and proved to be such a success and attraction for the visiting golfers that it is being repeated this year. Credit is due to J. H. Krekelberg for this idea of entertaining tourist friends.

Many visitors that were present last year have returned, bringing friends with them and will be present at tomorrow's events. Many visiting golfers have been on local links for the past week in preparation for tomorrow's tournament and one party from Iowa, who have been staying at Gull lake, made arrangements to remain for tomorrow's festivities.

Representatives from the following states are expected: Iowa, Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, North and South Dakota and people from the southern part of the state. Many of these states' best players will be present and fully 100 to 150 tourist golfers are expected.

The club urges the co-operation of all local members and asks that they do all in their power to entertain the tourists and to make the tournament a success. The tournament is really a civic proposition and every citizen and business man should take a keen interest and lend hearty moral and financial support. This method of "getting acquainted" has proven popular, creating a very friendly feeling and is one of the best methods Brainerd has to entertain its visitors.

The tournament committee has been working hard to make the tournament "bigger and better than ever" and the grounds are reported to be in excellent shape. Refreshments will be served by the entertainment committee and prizes for all visiting golfers will be awarded. Prizes were donated by local merchants and include some very handsome and practical gifts.

NO ACTION ON PAROLE ASKED BY WALTER BURKE

Milwaukee, Wis., July 31.—(UP)—No action as yet has been taken regarding the application for parole made to Washington by Walter Burke, former Kenosha attorney now serving a five year sentence in Leavenworth on a charge of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws, the United Press ascertained today.

Burke, once accused of being the "king of the $3,000,000 Kenosha-Milwaukee" booze ring, has served three years and three months of his five year sentence and according to prison rules is eligible to apply for parole.

Under the prison regulations, Burke's time would expire in December without parole, inasmuch as he is allowed "good behavior time," authorities said.

BLACK RUST IS CAUSING DAMAGE

Faribault, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—Black rust is causing damage to wheat fields in some sections around Faribault, according to word received here today.

Farmers indicated that the yield would be somewhat below normal but were encouraged by the outlook for a bumper corn crop.

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS CONVICTION OF DR. O. E. FRENCH

St. Paul, July 31.—(UP)—The Minnesota supreme court today upheld conviction of Dr. Charles E. French in St. Louis county court on a first degree manslaughter charge growing out of an illegal operation.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES

Items for this column will be gladly received. Telephone 74

WEATHER

WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR THE WEEK

Chicago, July 31.—Weather outlook for the period of August 2 to August 7: Upper Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys—mostly fair first half showers period later half; temperature near normal first of week, warmer near close.

Minnesota.—Mostly fair tonight and Sunday except possibly showers in extreme southeast portion. Not much change in temperature.

July 30.—In evening 70.
July 31.—Maximum 85, minimum 59. At 8 a. m. 70. Northeast wind. Clear.

Miss Hildegard Schneider left for Austin, Minn.

Mrs. B. F. Bellows left for a week end visit to the twin cities.

Miss June Kruger of Minneapolis is a guest of Miss Edna Davis.

J. H. Thomas left on the noon train for a week end visit in Stillwater.

Mrs. Earl Reuter left for Detroit, Mich., where she will make her future home.

Big Victor Record Sale at Hall's 4818

Miss Eleanor Murphy of Aitkin was a guest of Miss Mary Spears yesterday.

George Mather returned to St. Paul after taking a course at the local shops.

Tom Wagner motored to Brainerd yesterday on business.—Little Falls Daily Transcript.

Dance at Ramsdell's barn tonight. Music by Gloom Chasers. 11p

Miss Alice G. Johnson left today for Minneapolis where she will visit for a few days.

Dan Clark is expected home today from Duluth for a week end visit with his parents.

Wm. Burke left this noon for Milwaukee for a two week's visit with his brother Tom.

SPECIAL DANCE SUNDAY NIGHT

WEST'S BIRCHDALE AMUSEMENT PARK

Music by
Hedstrom and His Hot Points
Everybody Welcome

Mrs. H. P. Dunn and son Joseph returned last evening from a visit in the twin cities.

Mrs. C. C. Colletter and daughter and Clara Colletter Jones are in the city from Spencer, Ia.

The Misses Lydia and Helen Noeske of Bertha were guests of Mrs. P. A. McGarry yesterday.

VICTOR RECORD Clearance Sale

4 for $1.00
FOLSOM MUSIC CO.

Miss Myrtle Smith arrived this afternoon from Minneapolis to be the guest of Mrs. Eva Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Day of Chicago are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brady.

Jack Hoxie is at the Lyceum tonight in a western picture. 11

Mrs. Wm. Meyers and two children accompanied by Mary Jane Black left for the Twin cities.

The Misses Winifred Spencer and Betty Murphy returned last night from a visit in the twin cities.

Mrs. D. A. Brown recently arrived from Omaha, Neb., and will spend six weeks in and around Brainerd.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Houle left on the noon train for Minneapolis where they will spend the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Pearson returned to their home in Chicago after visiting at the home of John A. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Nelson of Cloquet are spending the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Werner.

DANCE

at Marshall's Log Pavilion
Saturday Night
Music by LOU'S BAND

Mrs. Donnett took her little son Bobby to Brainerd Wednesday to have his tonsils removed.—Deerwood Enterprise.

By all means see Lon Chaney in "The Road to Mandalay," at the Lyceum Sunday and Monday. It's great. 11

Mrs. R. B. McMeekin of St. Paul returned to her home after visiting Mrs. A. Burke, and other friends for two weeks.

Ole Skillestad left for Oldham, S. D., yesterday after receiving a telegram notifying him of the death of his father.

Mr. and Mrs. Mal Clark are spending the week end as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Reilly at Detroit Lake.

F. P. Whitney of the J. C. Penney company of Dickinson, N. D., is spending a few weeks vacationing at Gull Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sammons and family return tomorrow from a vacation trip spent at Pine Lodge, on Lake Edward.

OLSON & WELS

USED CAR EXCHANGE
We Buy-Sell-Trade
Cash Paid for Good Used Cars
At All Times
Sales Lot Opposite City Hall
Office and Repair Shop
Phone 124 617 Norwood St.

Mrs. Ray Fredstrom and Mrs. Frank Alexander left today for Minneapolis where they will visit friends and relatives.

Mrs. Clyde Fields returned to her home in Elkhardt, Ind., after visiting at the home of her mother Mrs. L. H. Stallman.

Chicken Dinner Sunday from 6 to 8 p. m. at the Ideal Hotel. 11

Thomas R. Aiton returned to his home in Alexander yesterday after visiting at the home of his son John Aiton and family.

Joe Lyons left for Minneapolis where he will join his wife and three children who have been visiting there the past week.

James Cullen was able to leave St. Joseph's hospital Wednesday and is now convalescing at his home, after his recent operation.

A. M. Olson, assistant manager of the local J. C. Penney company and family leave Monday on a vacation trip to the Iron Range.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Day and two children from Joliet, Ill., arrived Friday, to be the guests of their uncle, George Stillwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Cartwright of Blackduck arrived in the city this morning for a visit with friends and relatives over the week end.

Judge and Mrs. B. F. Wright are expected home today from Walker, where they spent the past few days on business.—Park Rapids Enterprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Grenier and three children who have been visiting at the home of his father Oliver Grenier returned to their home in Chicago.

Miss Myrtle Richard, Dr. Nordquist and Joseph Burnning of Brainerd, visited with Miss Isabelle Casey on Tuesday evening.—Deerwood Enterprise.

George S. Dugree who has been a guest of his brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Benson returned to his home in Pontiac, Mich., this noon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Lindberg and family left for Livermore, Calif., to visit Mr. Lindberg's brother, A. O.

Lindberg and will also visit in Pasco, Seattle and Tacoma.

Mrs. Osborn Olson, and the Misses Evelyn Olson and Ann Smith returned to their homes in Chicago after being the guests of Wm. Smith at Atwater Lodge, Cross Lake.

Miss Lenora Perkins who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Miller at their summer home at St. Colomb, expects to leave this week end for her home in Baton Rouge, La.

SAVE YOUR EYES—Have your eyes examined and glasses properly fitted by Dr. C. G. Mack, Brainerd, Minn. Office over Burgs store. Hours 9:30 to 4:30. 4516

Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Erickson left yesterday for St. Cloud where the doctor is attending a dental convention and from where Mrs. Erickson left for a visit in the twin cities.

Melvin Peterson, who has been "chasing the cure" for ten years and has spent all the time in the sanatorium, was discharged Sunday and left for his home in Brainerd.—Deerwood Enterprise.

NOTICE—We personally have seen Lon Chaney in the picture "The Road to Mandalay" and highly recommend it. Lyceum Sunday and Monday. 11

Miss Mary Beck who has been the guest of Miss Alice Johnstone at the Johnstone summer home at St. Colomb, Gull Lake left for Pillager where she will visit before returning to her home in Chicago.

Miss Edith DeRoche returned from a week end visit at the Dr. Brick cabin on Lake Watab near St. Cloud. Mrs. Brick was a former class mate of Miss DeRoche at the St. Cloud Teachers college.

Big Dance at Grand View Lodge
TONIGHT
HEDSTROM'S HOT POINTS
No dance at Midland

Mr. and Mrs. R. Evans of Bell Rapids, S. D., who have been the guests of Mrs. A. C. Weber have left for Pine River where they will visit before going on to Bemidji and other points en route to their home.

Postmaster and Mrs. John Oberg and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Olson and their families, returned Wednesday night from a camping trip in the northern part of the state.—Deerwood Enterprise.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gemmell and Kathleen drove to Deer River this morning and will visit there and at Grand Rapids, Bemidji and International Falls, returning to Hubert Friday of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Buelow spent Sunday in St. Paul with Mr. Buelow's brother, who is ill. During their absence Darby Gray of Brainerd substituted at the N. P. station for Mr. Buelow.—Aitkin Independent Age.

Former Aitkin residents who were calling on old time friends here Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McGrane of Minneapolis; Ernest Butler and his mother, Mrs. Eli Butler, of Brainerd.—Aitkin Independent Age.

Miss Rosa Anderson of the Brainerd Commercial college recently received a call from a firm in St. Paul requesting the services of a stenographer. The request is unusual and proves the fame and worth of the local college.

Mrs. Fred Moody and daughter Leah of Fifth ward left this morning for Brainerd for a few days visit with relatives. They returned home Tuesday from Eveleth where they spent a week with relatives.—Bemidji Daily Pioneer.

The Messrs. Eugene Hitch, Herbert Webb, Wm. Graham, Joe Dunn, and the Misses Betty Murphy and Winifred Spencer are week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Arthur at their summer home at Arthur's Point, Hackensack.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ellison motored to the cities early this morning, where they will meet Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ellison who have spent a couple of weeks visiting Mrs. Chas. Ellison's brother at Weyerhaeuser, Wis. They expect to return Sunday.

A cottonwood, snow storm raged yesterday at Gregory park when the few remaining cottonwood trees shed their downy whiteness, the wind carrying it to the beautiful green lawns of residences opposite the park. It was rather a unique storm for the 30th day of July.

Walter Stowell and children of Grand Rapids visited here Sunday at the Clifford Wagner home. They made a trip to Brainerd Monday morning accompanied by Mr. Stowell's sister, Mrs. Milly Wakefield, and returned to Grand Rapids that afternoon.—Aitkin Independent Age.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hamilton and their guests, Robert Clark, Misses Nell and Fan Clark, of Sharron, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Falconer, Miss Rilla Falconer, Miss Anna Madden and Miss Iva Poston formed a picnic party that spent Sunday afternoon at Breezy Point.—Aitkin Independent Age.

The water level of Belle Tain (or Elbok) lake has been lowered 14 inches since last spring and residents and property owners are wondering when the low point will be reached. That the condition that now exists has occurred before, is the statement of early residents of this section, and the belief is quite generally held that when the cycle of wet years comes again the water level will return to the stage that has been maintained until quite recently. Although the lake is now at a very low stage, there are places where stumps can still be found under water, it is said, indicating that for a long period the level of the lake was even lower than at present. The cause of the changing stages of water is not clearly understood, but many hold to the belief that through some process the places of seepage became closed and then the water level begins to rise and continues to do so until unexplained causes force an underground opening, and the lake is drained into the Crow Wing and other adjacent lakes.—Park Rapids Enterprise.

UNITY LODGE INSTALLS OFFICERS

Guy O. Bacon to Serve as Noble Grand of Local Lodge 194

RUSHWORTH ENCAMPMENT High Branch of Odd Fellowship Also Installs New Officers

The regular meeting of Unity Lodge No. 194 was held Wednesday, July 21, and the following new officers were installed to serve until January 1.

N. G.—Guy O. Bacon.
V. G.—Roy Kuehnel.
Chaplain—Dan Chord.

Warden—R. C. Fredstrom.
R. S. to N. G.—M. M. Paine.
L. S. to N. G.—N. A. Jepson.
R. S. to V. G.—John Howard.
L. S. to V. G.—A. Wahlstrand.
I. G.—F. Strout.
O. G.—J. K. Hill.
L. S. S.—Charles Roberts.
R. S. S.—Albert Fox.
C.—Charles Rice.
Rushworth Encampment No. 19, I. O. O. F. installed their officers Thursday, July 29. A large number were present from Ironton, Deerwood and Motley.

The following were installed:
C. P.—Guy O. Brown.
H. P.—C. Bruhn.
S. W.—Lewis Mollanen.
Scribe—V. W. Mackey.
Treasurer—Charles Risk.

Bricks Lasted Long
Six bricks, said to be nearly 800 years old, were removed from the debris of a building being torn down in Albany, N. Y., recently. Cuyler Reynolds, Albany historian, carried them to the mayor's office, and declared them to be the oldest in the United States. He said that when the building was reconstructed more than 50 years ago, the same bricks were used, and that this had been the custom when the structure was rebuilt on several previous occasions. Mr. Reynolds intends to send the bricks to various historical societies.

Captive Monkeys Happy
Monkeys no longer mope in the London zoo since they have had installed over their quarters a roof made of a special glass which lets in the ultra-violet rays. According to Dr. Charles Mitchell, director of the zoo, the ultra-violet rays which are excluded by the ordinary window glass, are just what the simians crave and they have responded automatically to the stimulus. They chatter and swing, and hurl their coconuts around with twice the abandon they showed before.

Mystery of Mackerel
The mystery of the mackerel is being investigated by the bureau of fisheries. It has long been known that mackerel mysteriously appear and disappear, making it difficult for fishermen to locate them. Hence the hauls are erratic. Now the bureau is making a study of the mackerel's movements and migration.

Over Thousand Colors Listed
Colors of every tone and shade, to the number of 1,400, are displayed in an index recently issued. There are no duplicates in the list, which was compiled from the productions of dye makers all over the world. Many scores seem exactly alike to the eye, but tests show that they are not. America sent samples from 29 factories, while England and Germany were each represented by 32.—Popular Mechanics.

Flemish Patriot-Martyr
The count of Eguant, the great Flemish general and popular hero, was one of the victims of the blood-thirsty duke of Alva in the Netherlands. He was seized by treachery and put to death in 1568.

A REMINDER

That Saturday Will Be Our Big Bargain Day
On

Dresses, Dresses, Dresses

We will have all sizes and colors in Tom-Boy Dresses Saturday and the Price is only $4.95. Pretty new ties just received.

See Our Windows

Murphy's
THE STORE OF QUALITY

Visit Our
Smart Shop

TODAY'S FIVE BEST RADIO FEATURES

Copyright 1926 by United Press
All Central Standard Time

WJZ, New York (454), and WRC, WGY, 6:25 p. m.—New York Philharmonic Orchestra, Lewisohn Stadium.

WNYC, New York (526) 1 p. m.—Maximilian Pilzer and the Hamburg Symphonic Orchestra, Central Park.

WEAF, New York (492), and WWJ, WGR, 6:30 p. m.—Goldman Band Concert, New York U Campus.

WDAF, Kansas City (366) 11:45 p. m.—Night Hawk Frolic.

WLS, Chicago (345) 6:15 p. m.—National Barn Dance.

Sunday

All Central Standard Time
WNYC, New York (526) 1 p. m.—Paul Whiteman and His Concert Orchestra, The Mall, Central Park.

WPG, Atlantic City (300), and WIP, Philadelphia (508) 7:15 p. m.—Marie Tiffany, soprano, and Judson House, tenor.

WBZ, Springfield (333) 7 p. m.—Golden Rule Hour.

KOA, Denver (322) 9 p. m.—Municipal Band Concert.

WEAF Hookup, 5:20 p. m.—Capitol Theater Program.

Monday

All Central Standard Time
KOA, Denver (322) 9:15 p. m.—Colorado Semi-Centennial Concert.

WEAF, New York (492), and WWJ, WTIC, 6:30 p. m.—Goldman Band Concert.

WCCO, Minneapolis-St. Paul (416) 9 p. m.—Scandinavian Ensemble.

Vacation Time

If you didn't have enough cash to take a good vacation trip this year, think how many thousand Pullman miles fifty two deposits will carry you next year.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
Forty-four Years of Safe Successful Banking

WPG, Atlantic City (300) 7:30 p. m.—Vessella's Concert Band.
WCX, Detroit (517) 7 p. m.—Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

W. F. WIELAND
ATTORNEY AT LAW
3rd Floor Court House

DR. NESMITH NELSON
Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat
211 Citizens State Bank Bldg.
Telephone 943 Brainerd, Minn.

JAS. H. WARNER
Attorney-at-Law
Walverman Building, Front St.
Telephone 971

D. E. WHITNEY
DIRECTOR OF FUNERALS
720 Front St.
BRAINERD, MINN.

L. W. SHERLUND
Plumbing and Heating
All kinds of pipes, fittings and valves.

Painting and Paper Hanging
CLAUDE C. BOWEN
Phone 988-W 617 Main St.

DR. R. A. HALLQUIST
Veterinarian
Phones: Office, City Hall, 782-W
Residence 782-R
BRAINERD MINNESOTA

Rheumatism
BAUME BENGUE (Ba.-Gay) gives quick relief from the agonizing pain of Rheumatism, Neuritis, and every ache and pain. Its penetrating warmth relieves the congestion and soothes the inflamed nerves.

GET THE ORIGINAL FRENCH
BAUME BENGUE
(ANALGESIQUE)

Anything to Sell,
Buy or Exchange?
ADVERTISE

HEAR KEN NELSON and His Breezy Point Orchestra

Sunday Night
at

Midland Pavilion
Mille Lacs Lake

There will be No Dance Saturday Night

LOCAL NEWS NOTES

Items for this column will be gladly received. Telephone 74

WEATHER

WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR THE WEEK

Chicago, July 31.—Weather outlook for the period of August 2 to August 7: Upper Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys—mostly fair first half showers period later half; temperature near normal first of week, warmer near close.

Minnesota—Mostly fair tonight and Sunday except possibly showers in extreme southeast portion. Not much change in temperature.

July 30.—In evening 70.
July 31.—Maximum 85, minimum 59. At 8 a. m. 70.
Northeast wind. Clear.

Miss Hildegarde Schneider left for Austin, Minn.

Mrs. B. F. Bellows left for a week end visit to the twin cities.

Miss June Kruger of Minneapolis is a guest of Miss Edna Davis.

J. H. Thomas left on the noon train for a week end visit in Stillwater.

Mrs. Earl Reuter left for Detroit, Mich., where she will make her future home.

Big Victor Record Sale at Hall's.

Miss Eleanor Murphy of Aitkin was a guest of Miss Mary Spears yesterday.

George Mather returned to St. Paul after taking a course at the local shops.

Tom Wagner motored to Brainerd yesterday on business.—Little Falls Daily Transcript.

Dance at Ramsdell's barn tonight. Music by Gloom Chasers.

Miss Alice G. Johnson left today for Minneapolis where she will visit for a few days.

Dan Clark is expected home today from Duluth for a week end visit with his parents.

Wm. Burke left this noon for Milwaukee for a two week's visit with his brother Tom.

SPECIAL DANCE SUNDAY NIGHT

WEST'S BIRCHDALE AMUSEMENT PARK

Music by
Hedstrom and His Hot Points
Everybody Welcome

Mrs. H. P. Dunn and son Joseph returned last evening from a visit in the twin cities.

Mrs. C. C. Colletter and daughter and Clare Colletter Jones are in the city from Spencer, Ia.

The Misses Lydia and Helen Noeske of Bertha were guests of Mrs. P. A. McGarry yesterday.

VICTOR RECORD Clearance Sale 4 for $1.00 FOLSOM MUSIC CO.

Miss Myrtle Smith arrived this afternoon from Minneapolis to be the guest of Mrs. Eva Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Day of Chicago are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brady.

Jack Hoxie is at the Lyceum tonight in a western picture.

Mrs. Wm. Meyers and two children accompanied by Mary Jane Black left for the Twin cities.

The Misses Winifred Spencer and Betty Murphy returned last night from a visit in the twin cities.

Mrs. D. A. Brown recently arrived from Omaha, Neb., and will spend six weeks in and around Brainerd.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Foulc left on the noon train for Minneapolis where they will spend the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Pearson returned to their home in Chicago after visiting at the home of John A. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Nelson of Cloquet are spending the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Werner.

DANCE at Marshall's Log Pavilion Saturday Night Music by LOU'S BAND

Mrs. Donnet took her little son Bobby to Brainerd Wednesday to have his tonsils removed.—Deerwood Enterprise.

By all means see Lon Chaney in "The Road to Mandalay," at the Lyceum Sunday and Monday. It's great.

Mrs. R. B. McMeekin of St. Paul returned to her home after visiting Mrs. A. Burke, and other friends for two weeks.

Ole Skillestad left for Oldham, S. D., yesterday after receiving a telegram notifying him of the death of his father.

Mr. and Mrs. Mal Clark are spending the week end as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Reilly at Detroit Lake.

F. P. Whitney of the J. C. Penney company of Dickinson, N. D., is spending a few weeks vacationing at Gull Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sammons and family return tomorrow from a vacation trip spent at Pine Lodge, on Lake Edward.

OLSON & WELS USED CAR EXCHANGE We Buy-Sell-Trade Cash Paid for Good Used Cars At All Times Sales Lot Opposite City Hall Office and Repair Shop Phone 124 617 Norwood St.

Mrs. Ray Fredstrom and Mrs. Frank Alexander left today for Minneapolis where they will visit friends and relatives.

Mrs. Clyde Fields returned to her home in Elkhart, Ind., after visiting at the home of her mother Mrs. L. H. Stallman.

Chicken Dinner Sunday from 6 to 8 p. m. at the Ideal Hotel.

Thomas R. Aiton returned to his home in Alexander yesterday after visiting at the home of his son John Aiton and family.

Jos. Lyonais left for Minneapolis where he will join his wife and three children who have been visiting there the past week.

James Cullen was able to leave St. Joseph's hospital Wednesday and is now convalescing at his home, after his recent operation.

A. M. Olson, assistant manager of the local J. C. Penney company and family leave Monday on a vacation trip to the Iron Range.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Day and two children from Joliet, Ill., arrived Friday, to be the guests of their uncle, George Stillwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Cartwright of Blackduck arrived in the city this morning for a visit with friends and relatives over the week end.

Judge and Mrs. B. F. Wright are expected home today from Walker, where they spent the past few days on business.—Park Rapids Enterprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Grenier and three children who have been visiting at the home of his father Oliver Grenier returned to their home in Chicago.

Miss Myrtle Richard, Dr. Nordquist and Joseph Burnning of Brainerd, visited with Miss Isabelle Casey on Tuesday evening.—Deerwood Enterprise.

George S. Dugree who has been a guest of his brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Benson returned to his home in Pontiac, Mich., this noon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Lindberg and family left for Livermore, Calif., to visit Mr. Lindberg's brother, A. O.

Lindberg and will also visit in Pasco, Seattle and Tacoma.

Mrs. Osborn Olson, and the Misses Evelyn Olson and Ann Smith returned to their homes in Chicago after being the guests of Wm. Smith at Atwater Lodge, Cross Lake.

Miss Lenora Perkins who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Miller at their summer home at St. Colomb, expects to leave this week end for her home in Baton Rouge, La.

SAVE YOUR EYES—Have your eyes examined and glasses properly fitted by Dr. C. G. Mack, Brainerd, Minn. Office over Burgs store. Hours 9:30 to 4:30. 4516

Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Erickson left yesterday for St. Cloud where the doctor is attending a dental convention and from where Mrs. Erickson left for a visit in the twin cities.

Melvin Peterson, who has been "chasing the cure" for ten years and has spent all the time in the sanatorium, was discharged Sunday and left for his home in Brainerd.—Deerwood Enterprise.

NOTICE—We personally have seen Lon Chaney in the picture "The Road to Mandalay," and highly recommend it. Lyceum Sunday and Monday. 11

Miss Mary Beck who has been the guest of Miss Alice Johnstone at the Johnstone summer home at St. Colomb, Gull Lake left for Pillager where she will visit before returning to her home in Chicago.

Miss Edith DeRoche returned from a week end visit at the Dr. Brick cabin on Lake Watab near St. Cloud. Mrs. Brick was a former class mate of Miss DeRoche at the St. Cloud Teachers college.

Big Dance at Grand View Lodge TONIGHT HEDSTROM'S HOT POINTS No dance at Midland

Mr. and Mrs. R. Evans of Bell Rapids, S. D., who have been the guests of Mrs. A. C. Weber have left for Pine River where they will visit before going on to Bemidji and other points en route to their home.

Postmaster and Mrs. John Oberg and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Olson and their families, returned Wednesday night from a camping trip in the northern part of the state.—Deerwood Enterprise.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gemmell and Kathleen drove to Deer River this morning and will visit there and at Grand Rapids, Bemidji and International Falls, returning to Hubert Friday of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Buelow spent Sunday in St. Paul with Mr. Buelow's brother, who is ill. During their absence Darby Gray of Brainerd substituted at the N. P. station for Mr. Buelow.—Aitkin Independent Age.

Former Aitkin residents who were calling on old time friends here Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McGrane of Minneapolis; Ernest Butler and his mother, Mrs. Eli Butler, of Brainerd.—Aitkin Independent Age.

Miss Rosa Anderson of the Brainerd Commercial college recently received a call from a firm in St. Paul requesting the services of a stenographer. The request is unusual and proves the fame and worth of the local college.

Mrs. Fred Moody and daughter Leah of Fifth ward left this morning for Brainerd for a few days visit with relatives. They returned home Tuesday from Eveleth where they spent a week with relatives.—Bemidji Daily Pioneer.

The Messrs. Eugene Hitch, Herbert Webb, Wm. Graham, Joe Dunn, and the Misses Betty Murphy and Winifred Spencer are week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Arthur at their summer home at Arthur's Point, Hackensack.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ellison motored to the cities early this morning, where they will meet Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ellison who have spent a couple of weeks visiting Mrs. Chas. Ellison's brother at Weyerhaeuser, Wis. They expect to return Sunday.

A cottonwood, snow storm raged yesterday at Gregory park when the few remaining cottonwood trees shed their downy whiteness, the wind carrying it to the beautiful green lawns of residences opposite the park. It was rather a unique storm for the 30th day of July.

Walter Stowell and children of Grand Rapids visited here Sunday at the Clifford Wagner home. They made a trip to Brainerd, Monday morning accompanied by Mr. Stowell's sister, Mrs. Milly Wakefield, and returned to Grand Rapids that afternoon.—Aitkin Independent Age.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hamilton and their guests, Robert Clark, Misses Nell and Fan Clark, of Sharron, Pa.,

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Falconer, Miss Rilla Falconer, Miss Anna Madden and Miss Iva Poston formed a picnic party that spent Sunday afternoon at Breezy Point.—Aitkin Independent Age.

The water level of Belle Tain (or Elbok) lake has been lowered 14 inches since last spring and residents and property owners are wondering when the low point will be reached. That the condition that now exists has occurred before, is the statement of early residents of this section, and the belief is quite generally held that when the cycle of wet years comes again the water level will return to the stage that has been maintained until quite recently. Although the lake is now at a very low stage, there are places where stumps can still be found under water, it is said, indicating that for a long period the level of the lake was even lower than at present. The cause of the changing stages of water is not clearly understood, but many hold to the belief that through some process the places of seepage become closed and then the water level begins to rise and continues to do so until unexplained causes force an underground opening, and the lake is drained into the Crow Wing and other adjacent lakes.—Park Rapids Enterprise.

UNITY LODGE INSTALLS OFFICERS

Guy O. Bacon to Serve as Noble Grand of Local Lodge 194

RUSHWORTH ENCAMPMENT

High Branch of Odd Fellowship Also Installs New Officers

The regular meeting of Unity Lodge No. 194 was held Wednesday, July 21, and the following new officers were installed to serve until January 1.

N. G.—Guy O. Bacon.

V. G.—Roy Kuehmichel.

Chaplain—Dan Chord.

Warden—R. C. Fredstrom.

R. S. to N. G.—M. M. Paine.

L. S. to N. G.—N. A. Jepson.

R. S. to V. G.—John Howard.

L. S. to V. G.—A. Wahlstrand.

I. G.—F. Strout.

O. G.—J. K. Hill.

L. S. S.—Charles Roberts.

R. S. S.—Albert Fox.

C.—Charles Rice.

Rushworth Encampment No. 19, I. O. F. installed their officers Thursday, July 29. A large number were present from Ironton, Deerwood and Motley.

The following were installed:

C. P.—Guy O. Bacon.

H. P.—C. Bruhn.

S. W.—Lewis Moilanen.

Scribe—V. W. Mackey.

Treasurer—Charles Risk.

Bricks Lasted Long

Six bricks, said to be nearly 300 years old, were removed from the debris of a building being torn down in Albany, N. Y., recently. Cuyler Reynolds, Albany historian, carried them to the mayor's office, and declared them to be the oldest in the United States. He said that when the building was reconstructed more than 50 years ago, the same bricks were used, and that this had been the custom when the structure was rebuilt on several previous occasions. Mr. Reynolds intends to send the bricks to various historical societies.

Captive Monkeys Happy

Monkeys no longer mope in the London zoo since they have had installed over their quarters a roof made of a special glass which lets in the ultra-violet rays. According to Dr. Charles Mitchell, director of the zoo, the ultra-violet rays which are excluded by the ordinary window glass, are just what the simians crave and they have responded automatically to the stimulus. They chatter and swing, and hurl their coconuts around with twice the abandon they showed before.

Over Thousand Colors Listed

Colors of every tone and shade, to the number of 1,400, are displayed in an index recently issued. There are no duplicates in the list, which was compiled from the productions of dye makers all over the world. Many scores seem exactly alike to the eye, but tests show that they are not. America sent samples from 29 factories, while England and Germany were each represented by 82.—Popular Mechanics.

Flemish Patriot-Martyr

The count of Egmont, the great Flemish general and popular hero, was one of the victims of the blood-thirsty duke of Alva in the Netherlands. He was seized by treachery and put to death in 1568.

A REMINDER

That Saturday Will Be Our Big Bargain Day

On

Dresses, Dresses, Dresses

We will have all sizes and colors in Tom-Boy Dresses Saturday and the Price is only $4.95. Pretty new ties just received.

See Our Windows

Murphy's
THE STORE OF QUALITY

Visit Our Smart Shop

TODAY'S FIVE BEST RADIO FEATURES

Copyright 1926 by United Press
All Central Standard Time

WJZ, New York (454), and WRC, WGY, 6:25 p. m.—New York Philharmonic Orchestra, Lewisohn Stadium.

WNYC, New York (526) 1 p. m.—Maximilian Pizer and the Hamburg Symphonic Orchestra, Central Park.

WEAF, New York (492), and WWJ, WGR, 6:30 p. m.—Goldman Band Concert, New York U Campus.

WDAF, Kansas City (366) 11:45 p. m.—Night Hawk Frolic.

WLS, Chicago (345) 6:15 p. m.—National Barn Dance.

Sunday

All Central Standard Time
WNYC, New York (526) 1 p. m.—Paul Whiteman and His Concert Orchestra, The Mall, Central Park.

WPG, Atlantic City (300), and WIP, Philadelphia (508) 7:15 p. m.—Marie Tiffany, soprano, and Judson House, tenor.

WBZ, Springfield (334) 7 p. m.—Golden Rule Hour.

KOA, Denver (322) 9 p. m.—Municipal Band Concert.

WEAF Hookup, 5:20 p. m.—Capitol Theater Program.

Monday

All Central Standard Time
KOA, Denver (322) 9:15 p. m.—Colorado Semi-Centennial Concert.

WEAF, New York (492), and WWJ, WTIC, 6:30 p. m.—Goldman Band Concert.

WCCO, Minneapolis-St. Paul (416) 9 p. m.—Scandinavian Ensemble.

Vacation Time

If you didn't have enough cash to take a good vacation trip this year, think how many thousand Pullman miles fifty two deposits will carry you next year.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
Forty-four Years of Safe Successful Banking

WPG, Atlantic City (300) 7:30 p. m.—Vessella's Concert Band.
WCX, Detroit (517) 7 p. m.—Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

RADIO TAYLOR SALES SERVICE 708 Laurel St. Phone 544-W

Grades in Safety
Safe conditions are good, but safe men are better, remarks the National Safety council.

W. F. WIELAND
ATTORNEY AT LAW
3rd Floor Court House

DR. NESMITH NELSON
Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat
211 Citizens State Bank Bldg.
Telephone 948 Brainerd, Minn.

JAS. H. WARNER
Attorney-at-Law
Walverman Building, Front St.
Telephone 971

D. E. WHITNEY
DIRECTOR OF FUNERALS
720 Front St.
BRAINERD, MINN.

L. W. SHERLUND
Plumbing and Heating
All kinds of pipes, fittings and valves.

Painting and Paper Hanging
CLAUDE C. BOWEN
Phone 282-W 617 Main St.

DR. R. A. HALLQUIST
Veterinarian
Phones: Office, City Hall, 782-W
Residence 782-B
BRAINERD MINNESOTA

Rheumatism
BAUME BENGUE (Ba-Gay) gives quick relief from the agonizing pain of Rheumatism, Neuritis, and every ache and pain. Its penetrating warmth relieves the congestion and soothes the inflamed nerves.
GET THE ORIGINAL FRENCH
BAUME BENGUE
(ANALGESIQUE)

Anything to Sell, Buy or Exchange?
ADVERTISE

HEAR KEN NELSON and His Breezy Point Orchestra

Sunday Night

at

Midland Pavilion Mille Lacs Lake

There will be No Dance Saturday Night

The Awful Clown

By CLARISSA MACKIE

(Copyright.)
"MARRY Tom Wasson?" repeated Mrs. Vane in a scandalized voice, "my dear Caroline, why, the man is a boor."

Caroline blushed hotly. "Mother! Tom is a gentleman born and bred."

"You know as well as I do, my dear, that he is not the drawing-room type."

"I don't want to marry a drawing-room type—I want a real manly husband—besides we never expect to have a drawing-room."

"Probably not," said the older woman serenely. "A flat I suppose."

"What I want, mother, is a small house in the country with a room that we can call a 'parlor,' yet live in it all the time."

"Tom is far from poor, mother—you know we are not rich ourselves."

"Rich—my child, we are facing ruin!" declared Mrs. Vane.

Caroline paled. "Really?" she faltered.

"Really and truly," asserted her mother; "you know your Uncle Frederick advised me to sell those City Water bonds and buy something he was handling—well, I did it!"

"And—lost?" asked Caroline.

"Every cent. Unless you can arrange to love where money is, the place will have to be sold!" finished Mrs. Vane.

Caroline stood there pale and rigid. She knew what her mother meant by her last remark. Unless Caroline married Oscar Mumford, they would be ruined—the home lost. Ever since Mr. Vane's death a year ago, his widow had made one foolish investment after another. Fred Vane, her brother, was her chosen advisor. Oscar Mumford! Dark, plump, olive-skinned, a rich widower with grown children.

"Of course, you mean Oscar Mumford," said Caroline at last.

"It would save everything," said her mother.

"And you do not approve of Tom—he has some money."

"It would make me nervous to have him around."

"It is because he is such a big man, mother. Out of doors he seems the most active, graceful of them all. Being clumsy seems such a little thing—beside love."

Mrs. Vane hesitated. She really liked Tom Wasson, had always liked him, but lately she had lost so much money, and had been so obsessed by worry that her judgment was warped.

"Here comes Tom now—I will tell him," said Caroline dreamily.

"I hope he won't sit in the remaining Sheraton chair—your great aunt Marcia would be discouraged if she could see what has happened to the chairs she left me," sighed Mrs. Vane.

"Well, Mrs. Vane, how do you do?" boomed Tom's big voice as he shook hands with her.

"Not very well, Tom," was the answer, and it was the truth. She was heartsick.

"Is Caroline at home?" he asked as he sat down—in the remaining Sheraton chair.

"Oh!" screamed Mrs. Vane.

"B-r-r!" growled Tom.

Caroline stood in the door, breathlessly watching her lover picking himself out of the remains of the treasured chair.

"There, you've broken all of them; I hope you're satisfied," sobbed Mrs. Vane, suddenly breaking down.

"Confound it all, I am sorry, Mrs. Vane—I know you think I am an awful clown. Say something, Caroline!" he turned to the girl who was looking down at the chair. She advanced a daintily shod foot and turned over the stuffed seat that had separated from the legs.

"What is that?" she demanded pointing to a piece of blue paper that protruded from the lining of the chair.

Mrs. Vane dried her eyes, and looked interested. Aunt Marcia had been given to wrapping her possessions in bright blue tissue paper and her heirs had found all sorts of valuables secreted in odd places about her old house.

"Tom, my dear," she said pathetically, "please bring the seat here. Caroline, child, don't look so woe-begone. I have been thinking it over and I have come to the conclusion that you might as well marry Tom and we will all be poor together."

"Poor? Who is poor? I'm not with twenty thousand a year! Why, I'll be richer still, when I marry Caroline and have a real mother of my own—never had one—mother's been dead so long," he finished bashfully.

"Dear boy," whispered Mrs. Vane, kissing him. Caroline was smiling now. With her hand in Tom's she watched her mother snipping away at the seat lining.

"More hidden treasure?" asked Tom.

Mrs. Vane pulled out blue tissue paper, and then a little box. Inside the box was a brooch containing hair from the long defunct head of Aunt Marcia's first husband.

Tom wanted to laugh, and the effort to check it brought the tears to his eyes.

"Well, mother, shall I buy the house from you, or can I finance things to tide you over until things are better?"

"Please, Tom, buy it—and let me have the east wing for myself," said Mrs. Vane, with a son and daughter on either side of her. "I never had a real son before."

Longer Skirts on Program for Fall

Garment to Be Well Below Knee; Drapes, Panels Below Hemline.

Now that every woman has overhauled her wardrobe and found out that all the short dresses she wore last summer are at least a generous hem longer than the present mode, it is time to think about the fall skirt length. Truth to tell, writes a fashion correspondent in the Kansas City Star, one really is surprised to find a dress of last year's vintage and find it ridiculously long.

All this brings one to the truth of the matter: the mode includes the long skirt of the period frock, the uneven skirt length shorter in the front than in the back, and the really short skirt; in fact, a skirt must be short to keep its identity in this day of many skirt lengths.

With fashion's love of change, the new skirt length is predicted well below the knee; drapes and panels fall below the hemline, simulating a longer skirt, thereby gracefully gliding from the shorter to the longer skirt without a marked change from season to season.

As the straws blow, the descent of the hemline will be as gradual as its ascent. While skirts will remain in the category as "short" and indeed they will still be that even if the mode fulfills its prediction and lengthens them to four to six inches below the knee.

Paris has spoken its favor in behalf of moire for midseason and fall frocks. Every effort is being made to convince womanhood that the new moire has all the loveliness of the old-time fabric, but none of its stiffness. How can this be? Seeing is believing, and certainly the samples of this 1926 moire from Paris are more pliable than the moire of other days. It comes in lovely shades, to be sure. The chanel reds, claret, burgundy, garnet and antique ruby, mauve, blue fox, bisque, castor and navy and black are in keeping with the fall color card. Whether a black moire can be lifted from the classification of "an elderly lady's dress" remains a problem for those who sell moire to wrestle with for the next few weeks.

The Skirt Is Billowy and Hangs in Irregular Folds.

An attractive evening gown is of pale green georgette with a bolero-effect blouse trimmed with rhinestones and iridescent beads. The skirt is billowy and is featured by irregular folds.

Many Capes Hip Length; Popular Summer Fashion

There are almost as many varieties of capes this year as there are flowers. Nearly every woman wants one for morning wear, for motoring, for afternoon costumes and for traveling, to say nothing of the befrilled and be-ribboned capes for evening wear. Sometimes the cape is a mere appendage on a tailored suit, dress or coat. The sleeves sometimes give a cape effect but the "real" cape is usually of three-quarters or full length. The short hip length is chosen frequently by those not possessed of slenderness.

Vagabond Hat Favored; It Sticks on the Head

The vagabond hat outstrips all others for sheer popularity among those who go in for the outdoor life. It sticks on the head, it can be crushed into any conceivable or becoming shape, it shades the eyes and, added to all this, it has a tremendous air of smartness about it. One can find them in all colors to match the bright-hued sports clothes or those of more sober tones. But perhaps the best looking of all are those in the tan, brown and beige shades. At any rate, these are the best liked among the leaders in the smart younger set.

W. H. Triplett

Little Visits

Around the Rural Section

Written especially for the Dispatch by W. H. Triplett, travelling editor for this paper and The Farmer of St. Paul.

The farmers in Long Lake township are getting pretty well along with their harvest, some of the fields are completely cut and shocked and they are not so thin as one might expect. I have heard several remarks the barley and rye is good and the oats will hold their own. The writer received a letter from relatives in Iowa stating that threshing had begun and report good yields.

The first farmer on Route 6 whom we called on this morning was Herman Alliger who formerly lived at Gregory and was burned out there two years ago, losing over 16 head of stock, consequently his progress has been somewhat retarded. At present he is farming 160 acres, 80 of which are into crops, and I can say that they all look good. Eight cows of Red Durham breed make up his dairy herd. This morning I found him painting a wagon which not only improves the appearance but increases its period of usefulness. This is one thing every farmer should do as often as needed, not only wagons, but all machinery. The cost of paint will be more than offset by the increased longevity of the machinery.

Peder Madsen started up farming over 23 years ago and during this time he states that he never had soft corn but one year, and from the appearance of his crop he will not have to worry about it this year. Mr. Madsen always makes good use of all feeds raised, marketing it through the livestock. A purebred Red Poll sire is at the head of his herd of 14 milk cows. With the aid of his daughter Mabel, they farm 220 acres and have 1½ acres of alfalfa that looks very good. Miss Mabel is making plans to attend the D. O. T. S. outing at Clearwater Lake the second week in August.

Eddie Peterson and his mother live far off from the road, farming 158 acres, the latter having lived in the community over 45 years. Eddie has farmed the place for himself for the past 13 years; he has been feeling under the weather for the last few months. We wish him rapid recovery. He has 20 acres of oats that he started cutting yesterday and it looks very good.

Carl Engholm was taking it easy when I called and one sure had to yesterday as the heat took all the ambition one had. He informed us that he was renting over 90 acres besides farming his own place and has lived in the community 15 years.

Oscar Stueck sure had a hot job yesterday repairing fence. He has a very attractive location for his farmstead, the buildings being surrounded by white pine. The buildings are all well-kept, including the silo which he says saved enough feed the first year to pay for itself; it not only saved the feed, but a decided increase in milk production could be seen. He has two acres of alfalfa which has been cut the second time and he reports a fair stand for both cuttings. Besides farming his own 80 acre place and renting 160, he has over 30 miles of road to maintain and also the duties of treasurer of the school district to handle so one can take it for granted that he is always busy.

Somewhat over 36 years ago C. J. Albertson started farming using an ox team for power, and he says "talking about trees, there were plenty, and water was more than plentiful and one never had to worry about being lonesome as the mosquitoes were always there to keep one company." He has cleared 160 acres, and at present is milking 11 cows of mixed breed. A new ice house was built this spring to replace the old one that was built a good many years ago. Daisy Ferris is visiting this summer at the Albertson home.

W. H. TRIPLETT.

Not Thorough

A magazine writer says that our modern cooking schools are not thorough. Probably he would have them teach the pupils how to treat dyspepsia.—Boston Transcript.

Careless

Cop—"Hey, where did you get that red light?" "Whassay think, ossifer, some careless person left it right on the edge of a big ditch."—Auto Sparks.

Stock Company Furnishes Training School for Stage

VIVIAN MARLOWE

My own, my own, my very own—Tell me it's true that you are mine alone.

Vivian Marlowe Thinks Every Actress Should Start There

New York City.—The training school of the stage is the stock company.

This is the opinion of Vivian Marlowe, who has captured New York with her singing of "My Own" in the popular musical comedy, "Merry Merry."

"All the best actors I have known," says Miss Marlowe, "have served their apprenticeship in the stock company. Sometimes, of course, they have found themselves the pupils of a hard school. There is probably no training so calculated to amputate a man or woman's vanity."

"You may be a riot in a part one night, and when the next rolls around, you may find your-

Just a Little Make-Believe

By EUDORA R. RICHARDSON

(Copyright.)

FOR three years now Florrie Malone, the little servant girl at the Reynolds, had lived in the dream world she created all for herself. She was in some one else's bungalow, making some one else's house as charming as she could, cooking delicious food for some one else's table. She loved her work, did Florrie Malone, and therefore it was all done so beautifully that many was the time she heard guests say that there was never a maid so ideal as Florrie.

She was not doing her work so well because she loved work for its own dear sake, but because Florrie loved her dreams. When she polished the brass knob on the front door or watered the flowers that bloomed in the boxes on the porch, she was making her own house lovely for the joy of those who passed by. When she swept the pretty rugs or dusted the mahogany aluminum pans or wiped the spots off the white enamel table, Florrie honestly believed that she was mistress of her little realm, and in her happy dreams there was the lover who made it all such radiant joy.

Yet in her whole life Florrie had never had a lover. She was just seventeen when she set out from the old country, taking for the passage over the bit of money her mother had left her. Now she was all of twenty, but still round-faced and blue-eyed and withal very sweet.

Now suddenly Florrie had become a wee bit sad. She was tired of living a make-believe life full of dreams.

Every day until just recently there had come into Florrie Malone's pretty kitchen a lad who made Florrie a little happier. He used to come not to visit Florrie—though well he might—but to bring groceries.

"And the hens are layin' lovely now," Florrie had said from time to time, smiling brightly as she peeped into the basket.

Or in winter when the snow was on the ground, he used to grin and apologize for the price of his wares.

"There's nothin' but greens and cabbage now, and even my sweet potatoes are frost-bitten. Several o' the ole hens is layin' though, and I brought ya all the eggs my mother could spare ya."

"And will ye tell the dear creature that I'll be thinkin' o' her while I make the fluffy omelet?" Florrie would half ask, half answer as her red lips parted and showed the even row of pearly teeth.

Then Johnny Tolliver used to leave, whistling the merriest tune he had heard on his rounds, and Florrie would hum softly as she hurried to the next task on her schedule. She knew very well that Johnny had no farm where on the vegetables he delivered grew, and she knew that he knew her to be just a little maid making the best of working for somebody else. Florrie and Johnny had never talked except as characters in their little play, but the two minutes each day of making believe with somebody else—instead of all alone—made life quite a happy thing to be living.

Now Johnny didn't come any more, and Florrie missed him, though she wouldn't admit even to herself that she did.

"Oh, dear, and why should I be worryin'?" Florrie asked herself as she hunted pansies in the winter bed behind the kitchen. "Tonight I'll be comin' out to watch the fairies play, and I'll be askin' him to send Florrie a dream ever so much prettier."

Then she covered her face with her little work-worn hands and sobbed gently.

"Oh, but, fairies, it isn't a dream I'll be wantin' the rest o' my life!" The pansies that had slipped from Florrie's warm fingers lay half withered in her lap as she sat weeping on the back steps, her glossy black hair catching the slanting rays of the afternoon sun. How was she to hear the garden gate open softly? How was she to see that some one walked across the lawn and stood by her side fumbling a worn cap in his reddened hands and looking down upon her ever so compassionately? But a voice did come to her, and she wiped her eyes on her little white apron and met the kindly gaze of Johnny Tolliver.

"Were you playin' the game then or was it real?" he was asking.

"Real," Florrie replied, trying to smile below the mist of tears. "What else would you expect but that a poor lone girl wid have her homesick spells once in awhile?"

Uninvited Johnny sat down by Florrie's side and went on twirling his cap. "I've been homesick, too, and play-actin' isn't enough. We don't have to do it any more. My uncle died and left me a little farm where there's chickens an' pigs an' a cow an' a vegetable garden. Can't ya come, Florrie, an' make your own house pretty an' let me bring you the things I'm not jes' making believe to raise on a farm that isn't?"

"Are you meanin' that you want me to marry you, Johnny?"

"That's it. I'd like to know who else I'd want?"

Florrie's happy blue eyes danced, and her pink cheeks dimpled. "It's the fairies, Johnny. They brought my wish before I'd had the chance to make it. You do believe in fairies, don't you, Johnny, dear?"

"I do," replied Johnny Tolliver solemnly as he held the hand of Florrie Malone and looked not where fairies played in mystic rings but into the blue eyes of his sweetheart.

Lyceum

"The Pick of All Pictures"

TONIGHT ONLY
7 and 9—10c and 25c

A Dandy Western

Also Last Episode of
"FIGHTING HEART"
and News Weekly

ered in her lap as she sat weeping on the back steps, her glossy black hair catching the slanting rays of the afternoon sun. How was she to hear the garden gate open softly? How was she to see that some one walked across the lawn and stood by her side fumbling a worn cap in his reddened hands and looking down upon her ever so compassionately? But a voice did come to her, and she wiped her eyes on her little white apron and met the kindly gaze of Johnny Tolliver.

"Were you playin' the game then or was it real?" he was asking.

"Real," Florrie replied, trying to smile below the mist of tears. "What else would you expect but that a poor lone girl wid have her homesick spells once in awhile?"

Uninvited Johnny sat down by Florrie's side and went on twirling his cap. "I've been homesick, too, and play-actin' isn't enough. We don't have to do it any more. My uncle died and left me a little farm where there's chickens an' pigs an' a cow an' a vegetable garden. Can't ya come, Florrie, an' make your own house pretty an' let me bring you the things I'm not jes' making believe to raise on a farm that isn't?"

"Are you meanin' that you want me to marry you, Johnny?"

"That's it. I'd like to know who else I'd want?"

Florrie's happy blue eyes danced, and her pink cheeks dimpled. "It's the fairies, Johnny. They brought my wish before I'd had the chance to make it. You do believe in fairies, don't you, Johnny, dear?"

"I do," replied Johnny Tolliver solemnly as he held the hand of Florrie Malone and looked not where fairies played in mystic rings but into the blue eyes of his sweetheart.

Florrie's happy blue eyes danced, and her pink cheeks dimpled. "It's the fairies, Johnny. They brought my wish before I'd had the chance to make it. You do believe in fairies, don't you, Johnny, dear?"

"I do," replied Johnny Tolliver solemnly as he held the hand of Florrie Malone and looked not where fairies played in mystic rings but into the blue eyes of his sweetheart.

Florrie's happy blue eyes danced, and her pink cheeks dimpled. "It's the fairies, Johnny. They brought my wish before I'd had the chance to make it. You do believe in fairies, don't you, Johnny, dear?"

"I do," replied Johnny Tolliver solemnly as he held the hand of Florrie Malone and looked not where fairies played in mystic rings but into the blue eyes of his sweetheart.

Florrie's happy blue eyes danced, and her pink cheeks dimpled. "It's the fairies, Johnny. They brought my wish before I'd had the chance to make it. You do believe in fairies, don't you, Johnny, dear?"

"I do," replied Johnny Tolliver solemnly as he held the hand of Florrie Malone and looked not where fairies played in mystic rings but into the blue eyes of his sweetheart.

Florrie's happy blue eyes danced, and her pink cheeks dimpled. "It's the fairies, Johnny. They brought my wish before I'd had the chance to make it. You do believe in fairies, don't you, Johnny, dear?"

"I do," replied Johnny Tolliver solemnly as he held the hand of Florrie Malone and looked not where fairies played in mystic rings but into the blue eyes of his sweetheart.

Florrie's happy blue eyes danced, and her pink cheeks dimpled. "It's the fairies, Johnny. They brought my wish before I'd had the chance to make it. You do believe in fairies, don't you, Johnny, dear?"

"I do," replied Johnny Tolliver solemnly as he held the hand of Florrie Malone and looked not where fairies played in mystic rings but into the blue eyes of his sweetheart.

Florrie's happy blue eyes danced, and her pink cheeks dimpled. "It's the fairies, Johnny. They brought my wish before I'd had the chance to make it. You do believe in fairies, don't you, Johnny, dear?"

"I do," replied Johnny Tolliver solemnly as he held the hand of Florrie Malone and looked not where fairies played in mystic rings but into the blue eyes of his sweetheart.

Florrie's happy blue eyes danced, and her pink cheeks dimpled. "It's the fairies, Johnny. They brought my wish before I'd had the chance to make it. You do believe in fairies, don't you, Johnny, dear?"

"I do," replied Johnny Tolliver solemnly as he held the hand of Florrie Malone and looked not where fairies played in mystic rings but into the blue eyes of his sweetheart.

Florrie's happy blue eyes danced, and her pink cheeks dimpled. "It's the fairies, Johnny. They brought my wish before I'd had the chance to make it. You do believe in fairies, don't you, Johnny, dear?"

"I do," replied Johnny Tolliver solemnly as he held the hand of Florrie Malone and looked not where fairies played in mystic rings but into the blue eyes of his sweetheart.

Florrie's happy blue eyes danced, and her pink cheeks dimpled. "It's the fairies, Johnny. They brought my wish before I'd had the chance to make it. You do believe in fairies, don't you, Johnny, dear?"

"I do," replied Johnny Tolliver solemnly as he held the hand of Florrie Malone and looked not where fairies played in mystic rings but into the blue eyes of his sweetheart.

Florrie's happy blue eyes danced, and her pink cheeks dimpled. "It's the fairies, Johnny. They brought my wish before I'd had the chance to make it. You do believe in fairies, don't you, Johnny, dear?"

"I do," replied Johnny Tolliver solemnly as he held the hand of Florrie Malone and looked not where fairies played in mystic rings but into the blue eyes of his sweetheart.

Florrie's happy blue eyes danced, and her pink cheeks dimpled. "It's the fairies, Johnny. They brought my wish before I'd had the chance to make it. You do believe in fairies, don't you, Johnny, dear?"

"I do," replied Johnny Tolliver solemnly as he held the hand of Florrie Malone and looked not where fairies played in mystic rings but into the blue eyes of his sweetheart.

Florrie's happy blue eyes danced, and her pink cheeks dimpled. "It's the fairies, Johnny. They brought my wish before I'd had the chance to make it. You do believe in fairies, don't you, Johnny, dear?"

"I do," replied Johnny Tolliver solemnly as he held the hand of Florrie Malone and looked not where fairies played in mystic rings but into the blue eyes of his sweetheart.

LYCEUM

Sunday and Monday

WHERE the human wreckage of the Seven Seas foregather, this powerful tale of love and intrigue is told.

Lon Chaney in The Road to Mandalay

Directed by T. G. BROWNING

with Lois Moran
Owen Moore
and
Henry B. Walthall

MONEY TALKS

Salesman, Salesladies and Retail Merchant. My items fit all of you. Salesman averages $1.00 profit for every dealer called on. Costs dealer $2.00, he sells for $3.50 makes $1.50 on $2.00 invested. Salesman makes $1.00. If you are a Salesman or wish to become one. If you never sold anything in your life I will tell you how to make better than $100 a week. Address, Geo. L. Lane, Mansfield, Ohio.

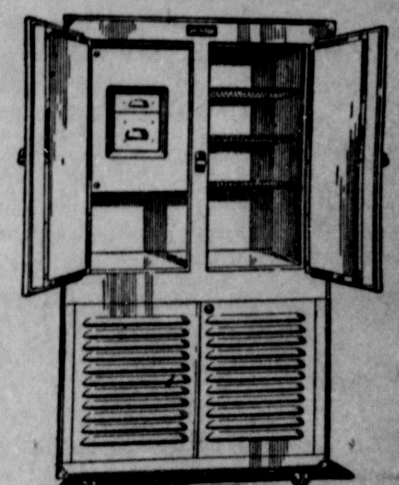

When You Want a Long Cold Drink

you can put the clink in the glass with a cube of pure ice made by

Frigidaire

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION

which keeps all foods as you've never known them to be kept before. See it at

Taylor Sales Service
708 Laurel St.

Babies Love It

For all stomach and intestinal troubles and disturbances due to teething, there is nothing better than a safe Infants' and Children's Laxative.

Mrs. Winslow's Syrup

New Film Gives Chaney Chance to Trace Degeneration of Handsome Youth

"The Road to Mandalay," a bizarre mystery drama of Singapore, Mandalay and the Bay of Bengal, is Lon Chaney's new starring vehicle, coming Sunday to the Lyceum The-

The Awful Clown

By CLARISSA MACKIE

(Copyright.)
"MARRY Tom Wasson?" repeated Mrs. Vane in a scandalized voice, "my dear Caroline, why, the man is a boor."

Caroline blushed hotly. "Mother! Tom is a gentleman born and bred. You know as well as I do, my dear, that he is not the drawing-room type."

"I don't want to marry a drawing-room type—I want a real manly husband—besides we never expect to have a drawing-room."

"Probably not," said the older woman serenely. "A flat I suppose."

"What I want, mother, is a small house in the country with a room that we can call a 'parlor,' yet live in it all the time."

"Tom is far from poor, mother—you know we are not rich ourselves."

"Rich—my child, we are facing ruin!" declared Mrs. Vane.

Caroline paled. "Really?" she faltered.

"Really and truly," asserted her mother; "you know your Uncle Frederick advised me to sell those City Water bonds and buy something he was handling—well, I did it!"

"And—lost?" asked Caroline.

"Every cent. Unless you can arrange to love where money is, the place will have to be sold!" finished Mrs. Vane.

Caroline stood there pale and rigid. She knew what her mother meant by her last remark. Unless Caroline married Oscar Mumford, they would be ruined—the home lost. Ever since Mr. Vane's death a year ago, his widow had made one foolish investment after another. Fred Vane, her brother, was her chosen advisor. Oscar Mumford! Dark, plump, olive-skinned, a rich widower with grown children.

"Of course, you mean Oscar Mumford," said Caroline at last.

"It would save everything," said her mother.

"And you do not approve of Tom—he has some money."

"It would make me nervous to have him around."

"It is because he is such a big man, mother. Out of doors he seems the most active, graceful of them all. Being clumsy seems such a little thing—beside love."

Mrs. Vane hesitated. She really liked Tom Wasson, had always liked him, but lately she had lost so much money, and had been so obsessed by worry that her judgment was warped.

"Here comes Tom now—I will tell him," said Caroline readily.

"I hope he won't sit in the remaining Sheraton chair—your great aunt Marcia would be discouraged if she could see what has happened to the chairs she left me," sighed Mrs. Vane.

"Well, Mrs. Vane, how do you do?" boomed Tom's big voice as he shook hands with her.

"Not very well, Tom," was the answer, and it was the truth. She was heartsick.

"Is Caroline at home?" he asked as he sat down in the remaining Sheraton chair.

"Oh!" screamed Mrs. Vane.

"B-r-r!" growled Tom.

Caroline stood in the door, breathlessly watching her lover picking himself out of the remains of the treasured chair.

"There, you've broken all of them; I hope you're satisfied," sobbed Mrs. Vane, suddenly breaking down.

"Confound it all, I am sorry, Mrs. Vane—I know you think I am an awful clown. Say something, Caroline!" he turned to the girl who was looking down at the chair. She advanced a daintily shod foot and turned over the stuffed seat that had separated from the legs.

"What is that?" she demanded pointing to a piece of blue paper that protruded from the lining of the chair.

Mrs. Vane dried her eyes, and looked interested. Aunt Marcia had been given to wrapping her possessions in bright blue tissue paper and her heirs had found all sorts of valuables secreted in odd places about her old house.

"Tom, my dear," she said pathetically, "please bring the seat here. Caroline, child, don't look so woe-begone. I have been thinking it over and I have come to the conclusion that you might as well marry Tom and we will all be poor together."

"Poor? Who is poor? I'm not with twenty thousand a year! Why, I'll be richer still, when I marry Caroline and have a real mother of my own—never had one—mother's been dead so long," he finished bashfully.

"Dear boy," whispered Mrs. Vane, kissing him. Caroline was smiling now. With her hand in Tom's she watched her mother snipping away at the seat lining.

"More hidden treasure?" asked Tom.

Mrs. Vane pulled out blue tissue paper, and then a little box. Inside the box was a brooch containing hair from the long defunct head of Aunt Marcia's first husband.

Tom wanted to laugh, and the effort to check it brought the tears to his eyes.

"Well, mother, shall I buy the house from you, or can I finance things to tide you over until things are better?"

"Please, Tom, buy it—and let me have the east wing for myself," said Mrs. Vane, with a son and daughter on either side of her. "I never had a real son before."

Longer Skirts on Program for Fall

Garment to Be Well Below Knee; Drapes, Panels Below Hemline.

Now that every woman has overhauled her wardrobe and found out that all the short dresses she wore last summer are at least a generous hem longer than the present mode, it is time to think about the fall skirt length. Truth to tell, writes a fashion correspondent in the Kansas City Star, one really is surprised to find a dress of last year's vintage and find it ridiculously long.

All this brings one to the truth of the matter: the mode includes the long skirt of the period frock, the uneven skirt length shorter in the front than in the back, and the really short skirt; in fact, a skirt must be short to keep its identity in this day of many skirt lengths.

With fashion's love of change, the new skirt length is predicted well below the knee; drapes and panels fall below the hemline, simulating a longer skirt, thereby gracefully gliding from the shorter to the longer skirt without a marked change from season to season. As the straws blow, the descent of the hemline will be as gradual as its ascent. While skirts will remain in the category as "short" and indeed they will still be that even if the mode fulfills its prediction and lengthens them to four to six inches below the knee.

Paris has spoken its favor in behalf of moire for midseason and fall frocks. Every effort is being made to convince womanhood that the new moire has all the loveliness of the old-time fabric, but none of its stiffness. How can this be? Seeing is believing, and certainly the samples of this 1926 moire from Paris are more pliable than the moire of other days. It comes in lovely shades, to be sure. The chanel reds, claret, burgundy, garnet and antique ruby, mauve, blue fox, bisque, castor and navy and black are in keeping with the fall color card. Whether a black moire can be lifted from the classification of "an elderly lady's dress" remains a problem for those who sell moire to wrestle with for the next few weeks.

The Skirt is Billowy and Hangs in Irregular Folds.

An attractive evening gown is of pale green georgette with a bolero-effect blouse trimmed with rhinestones and iridescent beads. The skirt is billowy and is featured by irregular folds.

Many Capes Hip Length; Popular Summer Fashion

There are almost as many varieties of capes this year as there are flowers. Nearly every woman wants one for morning wear, for motor, for afternoon costumes and for traveling, to say nothing of the befrilled and be-ribboned capes for evening wear. Sometimes the cape is a mere appendage on a tailored suit, dress or coat. The sleeves sometimes give a cape effect but the "real" cape is usually of three-quarters or full length. The short hip length is chosen frequently by those not possessed of slenderness.

Vagabond Hat Favored; It Sticks on the Head

The vagabond hat outstrips all others for sheer popularity among those who go in for the outdoor life. It sticks on the head, it can be crushed into any conceivable or becoming shape, it shades the eyes and, added to all this, it has a tremendous air of smartness about it. One can find them in all colors to match the bright-hued sports clothes or those of more somber tones. But perhaps the best looking of all are those in the tan, brown and beige shades. At any rate, these are the best liked among the leaders in the smart younger set.

Little Visits

Around the Rural Section

W. H. Triplett

Written especially for the Dispatch by W. H. Triplett, travelling editor for this paper and The Farmer of St. Paul.

The farmers in Long Lake township are getting pretty well along with their harvest, some of the fields are completely cut and shocked and they are not so thin as one might expect. I have heard several remark the barley and rye is good and the oats will hold their own. The writer received a letter from relatives in Iowa stating that threshing had begun and report good yields.

The first farmer on Route 6 whom we called on this morning was Herman Allinger who formerly lived at Gregory and was burned out there two years ago, losing over 16 head of stock, consequently his progress has been somewhat retarded. At present he is farming 160 acres, 80 of which are into crops, and I can say that they all look good. Eight cows of Red Durham breed make up his dairy herd. This morning I found him painting a wagon which not only improves the appearance but increases its period of usefulness. This is one thing every farmer should do as often as needed, not only wagons, but all machinery. The cost of paint will be more than offset by the increased longevity of the machinery.

Peder Madsen started up farming over 23 years ago and during this time he states that he never had soft corn but one year, and from the appearance of his crop he will not have to worry about it this year. Mr. Madsen always makes good use of all feeds raised, marketing it through the livestock. A purebred Red Poll sire is at the head of his herd of 14 milk cows. With the aid of his daughter Mabel, they farm 220 acres and have 1½ acres of alfalfa that looks very good. Miss Mabel is making plans to attend the D. O. T. S. outing at Clearwater Lake the second week in August.

Eddie Peterson and his mother live far off from the road, farming 158 acres, the latter having lived in the community over 45 years. Eddie has farmed the place for himself for the past 13 years; he has been feeling under the weather for the last few months. We wish him rapid recovery. He has 20 acres of oats that he started cutting yesterday and it looks very good.

Carl Engholm was taking it easy when I called and one sure had to yesterday as the heat took all the ambition one had. He informed us that he was renting over 90 acres besides farming his own place and has lived in the community 15 years.

Oscar Stuck sure had a hot job yesterday repairing fence. He has a very attractive location for his farmstead, the buildings being surrounded by white pine. The buildings are all well-kept, including the silo which he says saved enough feed the first year to pay for itself; it not only saved the feed, but a decided increase in milk production could be seen. He has two acres of alfalfa which has been cut the second time and he reports a fair stand for both cuttings. Besides farming his own 80 acre place and renting 160, he has over 30 miles of road to maintain and also the duties of treasurer of the school district to handle so one can take it for granted that he is always busy.

Somewhat over 36 years ago C. J. Albertson started farming using an ox team for power, and he says "talking about trees, there were plenty, and water was more than plentiful and one never had to worry about being lonesome as the mosquitoes were always there to keep one company." He has cleared 160 acres, and at present is milking 11 cows of mixed breed. A new ice house was built this spring to replace the old one that was built a good many years ago. Daisy Ferris is visiting this summer at the Albertson home.

W. H. TRIPLETT.

Not Thorough

A magazine writer says that our modern cooking schools are not thorough. Probably he would have them teach the pupils how to treat dyspepsia.—Boston Transcript.

Careless

Cop—"Hey, where did you get that red light?" "Whassyn think, ossifer, some careless person left it right on the edge of a big ditch."—Auto Sparks.

Stock Company Furnishes Training School for Stage

VIVIAN MARLOWE

My own, my own, my very own. Tell me it's true that you are mine alone.

Vivian Marlowe Thinks Every Actress Should Start There

New York City.—The training school of the stage is the stock company.

This is the opinion of Vivian Marlowe, who has captured New York with her singing of "My Own" in the popular musical comedy, "Merry Merry."

"All the best actors I have known," says Miss Marlowe, "have served their apprenticeship in the stock company. Sometimes, of course, they have found themselves the pupils of a hard school. There is probably no training so calculated to land a man or woman's vanity."

"You may be a riot in a part one night, and when the next rolls around, you may find yourself a complete frost, practically hissed by the audience.

"You learn, therefore, humility, self-control, perseverance, and manage, if you're lucky, so to encase yourself in an imperviousness to hard knocks that, when you finally land on Broadway scarcely anything will seem like disaster.

"I think so highly of the training you get in stock companies that I have worked out a plan, hereby offered free of charge to university heads, under which stock companies might be run as adjuncts of universities. The first university to try it will get a lot of new students, I will wager."

Although she was born in Mount Vernon, N. Y., Miss Marlowe never attempted to land a job in New York City until after she had undergone rigorous training with a Westchester County stock company.

Just a Little Make-Believe

By EUDORA R. RICHARDSON

(Copyright.)

FOR three years now Florrie Malone, the little servant girl at the Reynoldses, had lived in the dream world she created all for herself. She was in some one else's bungalow, making some one else's house as charming as she could, cooking delicious food for some one else's table. She loved her work, did Florrie Malone, and therefore it was all done so beautifully that many was the time she heard guests say that there was never a maid so ideal as Florrie.

She was not doing her work so well because she loved work for its own dear sake, but because Florrie loved her dreams. When she polished the brass knob on the front door or watered the flowers that bloomed in the boxes on the porch, she was making her own house lovely for the joy of those who passed by. When she swept the pretty rugs or dusted the mahogany aluminum pans or wiped the spots off the white enamel table, Florrie honestly believed that she was mistress of her little realm, and in her happy dreams there was the lover who made it all such radiant joy.

Yet in her whole life Florrie had never had a lover. She was just seventeen when she set out from the old country, taking for the passage over the bit of money her mother had left her. Now she was all of twenty, but still round-faced and blue-eyed and withal very sweet.

Now suddenly Florrie had become a wee bit sad. She was tired of living a make-believe life full of dreams.

Every day until just recently there had come into Florrie Malone's pretty kitchen a lad who made Florrie a little happier. He used to come not to visit Florrie—though well he might—but to bring groceries.

"And the hens are layin' lovely now," Florrie had said from time to time, smiling brightly as she peeped into the basket.

Or in winter when the snow was on the ground, he used to grin and apologize for the price of his wares.

"There's nothin' but greens and cabbage now, and even my sweet potatoes are frost-bitten. Several o' the ole hens is layin' though, and I brought ya all the eggs my mother could spare ya."

"And will ye tell the dear creature that I'll be thinkin' o' her while I make the fluffy omelet?" Florrie would half ask, half answer as her red lips parted and showed the even row of pearly teeth.

Then Johnny Tolliver used to leave, whistling the merriest tune he had heard on his rounds, and Florrie would hum softly as she hurried to the next task on her schedule. She knew very well that Johnny had no farm where-on the vegetables he delivered grew, and she knew that he knew her to be just a little maid making the best of working for somebody else. Florrie and Johnny had never talked except as characters in their little play, but the two minutes each day of jinking believe with somebody else—instead of all alone—made life quite a happy thing to be living.

Now Johnny didn't come any more, and Florrie missed him, though she wouldn't admit even to herself that she did.

"Oh, dear, and why should I be worryin'?" Florrie asked herself as she hunted pansies in the winter bed behind the kitchen. "Tonight I'll be comin' out to watch the fairies play, and I'll be askin' him to send Florrie a dream ever so much prettier."

Then she covered her face with her little work-worn hands and sobbed gently.

"Oh, but, fairies, it isn't a dream I'll be wantin' the rest o' my life!" The pansies that had slipped from Florrie's warm fingers lay half with-

Lyceum

"The Pick of All Pictures"

TONIGHT ONLY
7 and 9—10c and 25c

A Dandy Western

Also Last Episode of
"FIGHTING HEART"
and News Weekly

ered in her lap as she sat weeping on the back steps, her glossy black hair catching the slanting rays of the afternoon sun. How was she to hear the garden gate open softly? How was she to see that some one walked across the lawn and stood by her side fumbling a worn cap in his reddened hands and looking down upon her ever so compassionately? But a voice did come to her, and she wiped her eyes on her little white apron and met the kindly gaze of Johnny Tolliver.

"Were you playin' the game then or was it real?" he was asking.

"Real," Florrie replied, trying to smile below the mist of tears. "What else would you expect but that a poor lone girl wld have her homestead spells once in awhile?"

Uninvited Johnny sat down by Florrie's side and went on twitting his cap.

"I've been homesick, too, and play-actin' isn't enough. We don't have to do it any more. My uncle died and left me a little farm where there's chickens an' pigs an' a cow an' a vegetable garden. Can't ya come, Florrie, an' make your own house pretty an' let me bring you the things I'm not jes' making believe to raise on a farm that isn't?"

"Are you meanin' that you want me to marry you, Johnny?"

"That's it. I'd like to know who else I'd want?"

Florrie's happy blue eyes danced, and her pink cheeks dimpled. "It's the fairies, Johnny. They brought my wish before I'd had the chance to make it. You do believe in fairies, don't you, Johnny, dear?"

"I do," replied Johnny Tolliver solemnly as he held the hand of Florrie Malone and looked not where fairies played in mystic rings but into the blue eyes of his sweetheart.

Hoxie Looks Half Dressed Without His Gun

Jack Hoxie fans are due for a real surprise at the Lyceum Theatre tonight when they see their idol, who has in the past been looked on as a "two-gun man" or a "gun totin' cowboy," without his trusty six-shooter dangling at his side.

True the gun plays a big part in his new production, "Barb-Wire," and nearly gets him in serious trouble—but Jack, himself, does not carry it in a single scene—he uses his fists in true "he-man" fashion.

LON CHANEY, OWEN MOORE and LOIS MORAN in
"THE ROAD TO MANDALAY"

New Film Gives Chaney Chance to Trace Degeneration of Handsome Youth

"The Road to Mandalay," a bizarre mystery drama of Singapore, Mandalay and the Bay of Bengal, is Lon Chaney's new starring vehicle, coming Sunday to the Lyceum Theatre, and presenting the famous actor in one of the strangest disguises he has even worn in the role of "Singapore Joe," sinister ruler of an Oriental underworld. Lois Moran, Owen Moore, Henry B. Walthall and other noted players appear in the story, directed by Tod Browning at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

LYCEUM Sunday and Monday

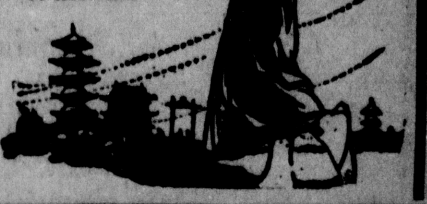

WHERE the human wreckage of the Seven Seas foregather, this powerful tale of love and intrigue is told.

LON CHANEY in The ROAD TO MANDALAY

Directed by TOD BROWNING

with Lois Moran
Owen Moore
and
Henry B. Walthall

MONEY TALKS

Salesman, Salesladies and Retail Merchant. My items fit all of you. Salesman averages $1.00 profit for every dealer called on. Costs dealer $2.00, he sells for $3.50 makes $1.50 on $2.00 invested. Salesman makes $1.00. If you are a Salesman or wish to become one. If you never sold anything in your life I will tell you how to make better than $100 a week. Address, Geo. L. Lane, Mansfield, Ohio.

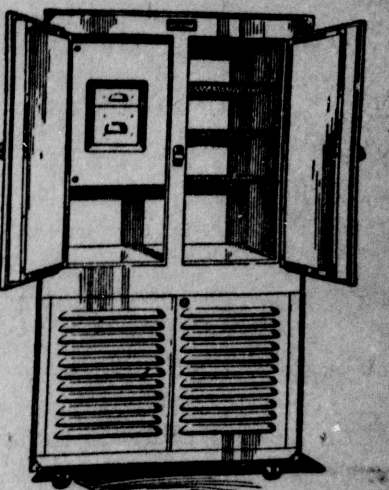

When You Want a Long Cold Drink

you can put the clink in the glass with a cube of pure ice made by

Frigidaire

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION

which keeps all foods as you've never known them to be kept before. See it at

Taylor Sales Service
708 Laurel St.

Babies Love It

For all stomach and intestinal troubles and disturbances due to teething, there is nothing better than a safe Infants' and Children's Laxative.

Mrs. Winslow's Syrup

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

THE BRAINERD DISPATCH CO.
Office in Dispatch Building, Sixth St. So.

Entered at the post office at Brainerd, Minn., as second class matter.

Advertising Rates Made Known on Application

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Daily Dispatch by Carrier—One month, 50c; three months $1.25; 1 year, $5.00.
Daily Dispatch by Mail, Outside of City—Three months $1.00; one year, $4.00.
Weekly Dispatch—One year, $1.50.

SATURDAY, JULY 31, 1926

NICE SHORT TALK ON BRAINERD

RECENTLY a traveling radio station, 6XBR, of Warner Brothers, motion picture producers of Hollywood, gave a Brainerd program at the Lyceum. R. R. Gould, president of the Chamber of Commerce, gave a four minute talk which was exceedingly good and we reproduce it for the benefit of our readers. Mr. Gould said:

"As president of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce, I am expected to tell you something of our city. I intend to do this, and more, as well as I may in a skeleton talk of four minutes.

"Brainerd is the Gateway to Northern Minnesota.

"Minnesota is a great state. Minnesota produces more iron than any other state. Minnesota ranks high in many other things. But you know we raise excellent cows, pigs, hens, sheep, grain, gardens, and beautiful flowers. You have heard of our big flour mills, and our prize milk and butter. From the standpoint of 'getting a living' Minnesota is one of the best states in the Union.

"Minnesota boasts Ten Thousand Lakes. And we have the goods. Seeing is believing, and we invite you to come and see. It may surprise you, as it did me back in 1912.

"We have three primary objects in asking you to see us. First, both you and we will enjoy our visit; then you are like us, and when you travel will spend some money somewhere, and we want you to spend it here; and lastly, you may do as I did and after seeing, decide to live here later on. Fourteen years has not proved enough for me, and I am still staying to enjoy myself.

"In 1917 we had very few tourists. In 1925 we had over a million. Old acquaintances came back, and new ones kept coming. Many built cottages on one of our beautiful lakes, and became regular summer residents. 'The tourist of today is the citizen of tomorrow.'

"Why? Why, Minnesota has the goods, and people are finding that our advertisements are true and really representative. And like us, they like Minnesota.

"We have good roads in Minnesota. One of the most excellent highway systems in the United States; and even as far north as Brainerd the highway count sometimes shows over 1,000 cars per day passing a given point.

"It may surprise you, but we have at Brainerd one of the finest equipped Tourist Camps to be found between Maine and California.

"We have good railroad service if you do not wish to drive your own car.

"And if you want to play golf, several good courses within the county, one at Brainerd, offer the ancient Scottish pastime.

"Brainerd is the county seat of Crow Wing county, and is called the Gateway to 10,000 Lakes. It is almost exactly in the center of Minnesota.

"Crow Wing county contains the famous Cuyuna Iron Range; and several hundred lakes tempting a long list of excellent commercial summer resorts and a great number of private summer cottages; and yet is not congested because of the hundreds of miles of beautiful lake frontage.

"We hoped to entertain President Coolidge at Breezy Point Lodge this summer, but owing probably to the distance from the nation's capital, it was not to be. But we did have part of his cabinet.

"We have the finest fishing almost at our doors. Boating, canoeing, swimming, and other water sports are our summer offering. Minnesota has been so fortunate at the hands of nature that we are proud of her every section.

"Write me as president of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce, and I will be glad to send you a descriptive map of our county; in addition to feeling complimented that you answered our invitation. The 10,000 Lakes of Minnesota Association, headquarters St. Paul, will also be glad to tell you more about Minnesota.

"But come and see for yourself. Ask daddy to bring you to Minnesota, spend your honeymoon in Minnesota, bring the children to Minnesota, recreate in Minnesota as the case may be. And when you return, tell your friends to also come to Minnesota. And do not fail to see Brainerd, Minnesota, the Gateway to Ten Thousand Lakes."

AN IMPORTANT ROTARY CONFERENCE

TWENTY-SEVEN Rotary Clubs of the state were represented by delegates at the state-wide conference at Minneapolis, considering ways and means of keeping the boys of the state interested in and satisfied with their farm homes and small town environment.

Minneapolis Rotarians were hosts to the visiting brothers of the luncheon club. The conference considered how best to serve the future of the state by making the boys of the farms and smaller communities happy and contented in their home surroundings, especially through preservation of their natural heritage, Minnesota's celebrated 10,000 lakes, with their fish and game.

Dr. Lotus D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota, assisted in preparing the topics for discussion.

"Whittier has immortalized the 'barefoot boy with cheek of tan,' going down to the ol' swimmin' hole with a cane pole and a can of worms," the invitation to the conference read. "Today, however, there is a recognized trend of the boy to the city. How are we going to keep the boy interested in his home surroundings? We believe a very important factor is to help keep those surroundings interesting.

"Are the home environments going to remain interesting if visiting fishermen and hunters take away the boy's fish and game, and the other allurements of Minnesota's natural vacation land, without some one replacing them?

"Our conference will be devoted to the serious consideration of proper means to protect the heritage and interests of the rural residents, particularly the boys, of the state of Minnesota. In conserving our lakes, and protecting the fish and game, aren't we taking the greatest step to keep the boyhood and young manhood of Minnesota on the farm and in the small town, and to keep them happier and better satisfied with conditions at home?"

Representative men such as Karl De Laitre, president of the Minneapolis Civic & Commerce Association, President Coffman, Dean E. E. Nicholson, of the state university, H. V. Jones, editor and publisher of The Minneapolis Journal, Charles K. Blandin, publisher of the St. Paul Pioneer Press and Dispatch, and W. F. Webster, superintendent of Minneapolis schools, participated in the conference.

Delegates were present from the Rotary clubs of Albert Lea,

Austin, Brainerd, Caledonia, Cloquet, Crookston, Detroit, Duluth, Ely, Eveleth, Fairmont, Faribault, Fergus Falls, Hibbing, Moorhead, Northfield, Owatonna, Rochester, St. Cloud, St. Paul, Staples, Stillwater, Thief River Falls, Two Harbors, Virginia and Winona.

We have heard of the man who ate a package of highly condensed breakfast food and topped it off with a pint of cream and then had his appetite satiated for three days thereafter. In line with such satisfying diet and filling properties is the novel predicament of a motor ship cruising in Chinese waters. The vessel carried a cargo of beans, sprung a leak, the beans acting like dried apples, gathered moisture and swelled, and the decks of the boat bulged and the seams opened. The high powered beans came near wrecking the craft and salvage craft effected a rescue in just the right time.

WITH a possible hay shortage nearing, farmers are urged to save their straw piles.

HOME, DAD AND THE BOY

By FRANK H. CHELEY

The Grouchy Dad

LET'S give him the advantage of the doubt—likely he suffers from indigestion.

For years he has made it a habit of his life to look for trouble and he has been wonderfully successful.

He looks upon every carefree, exuberant, noisy, dirty, fun-loving boy as a necessary nuisance that must be tolerated against the day he matures and can shift for himself.

He is always looking for the ulterior motive in every boy situation, and cannot believe there is anything worthwhile in the boy.

He is as friendly with his boy as are two strange bulldogs.

He doesn't realize there is no more sense in breaking the will of a boy than there is in sandbagging the engineer of a train.

Fifty thousand American boys revolted against grouchy Dads in this United States last year and ran away from home.

Yet a broken window is more easily mended than a ruined boy and any boy will tell the truth when he is not scared into lying. Down with the grouch!

H. Cheley, Denver, Colo.

BRAINERD
25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

July 31, 1901

Mrs. C. B. Bradford returned today from Seattle, Wash., where she has been visiting for about 10 months.

J. O. Peterson has resigned as clerk at the Arlington and has returned to his home in Sauk Center. W. Von Eschen is back behind the desk after an absence of a month or so.

John Hessel Jr. left this afternoon for Duluth on business.

Mrs. Henry I. Cohen and Harry and Jay Patek returned from the lake this morning.

Mrs. Abeer has returned from West Superior where she visited for a couple of days with her father.

Fred McKay has resigned his position at the N. P. depot to take effect September 1. He has accepted a position as bookkeeper in the office of the Brainerd Lumber company in this city.

Charles Long and George McIntosh both of Minneapolis have accepted a position in Spalding and Nemo's drug store, the former as pharmacist and the latter as the mixologist at the soda fountain.

Postmaster N. H. Ingersoll has finally received official notification from the U. S. Civil service commission of the establishing of a free delivery system in Brainerd by the Post Office department. While the system has been established and all instructions have been received the inaugurating of the same will not take place until Nov. 1. * * * Brainerd as soon as the free delivery is inaugurated will be classified and will be a civil service office from date and will be under the supervision of the United States Civil service Commission.

MERRY MOMENTS

Slight Difference

Flag—Doesn't Herbert make you weary?
Rush—No, wary.—Scarlet Saint.

Putting It Bluntly

Schoolmaster—Now, Rogers, what are you doing? Learning something?
Pupil—No, sir. I'm listening to you.

Foolish Fashion

Allice—"The new fashions will avoid everything freakish." Minna—"Won't they look absurd?"

Enumerating Them

"How many in your family now, Emily?"
"Six, I think. Me and twins."

Irresistible

"Why do you have so many lady friends, Casey?"
"Sure, nobody can resist an officer."

His Hard Luck

"Did your brother pass in college?"
"Yes; he passed a worthless check and got caught."

A Wide Range

Dorothy is a little girl living in North Rural street. She has curly hair, and, of course, is frequently asked that age-old question: "Do you eat bread crusts to make your hair curly?"

"Oh, yes," she replied to one inquisitor recently, "I eat both the front and the back crusts of the bread."—Indianapolis News.

Cautious Youth

A rather stout man was having difficulties under his car when he looked out and saw a boy sitting on the fence. "What are you doing there?" he asked. "I was just watchin'," replied the boy. "And if—"
"And if what?"
"And if I could run faster, I'd laugh."

Limbo

Lawyer—Better plead guilty. The judge will give you only two years at the outside.

Culprit—Yaas. But how many years on de inside he gwine gimme? Dat wat I want to know.

Or None

"I would like to give my uncle 100 of these cigars. Can you think of how I can give him even greater pleasures?"
"Yes. Give him only 50."—Munich Fliegende Blaetter.

Even Up

"I shouldn't think you could afford to sit at the game if you are so unlucky at it."

"Well, you see, what I lose at poker my wife makes up at bridge."—Boston Transcript.

The Poor Rich Man

"A few years ago Newrich didn't know where his next meal was coming from."

"Yes, and now that he does he's a martyr to dyspepsia."—Boston Transcript.

Black-Faced

"Say, did you see her flush?"
"Embarrassed?"
"No, all spades."—California Pelican.

Earth's Population

The population of the earth, gathered from latest statistics, is 1,748,000,000—or about 80 persons to the square mile on an average.

Fair Enough

"Do you consider it proper for a barber to call himself an artist?"
"I think so—if he is an artist."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Bit Too Slapdash

"Don't you think Madge has rather a good complexion?"
"Well, it strikes me as just a trifle too impressionistic."

Medically Tested

Bunker—My doctor tells me I can't play golf.
Clara—So he's played with you, too?

Foundation of Everything

All the scholastic scaffolding falls as a ruined edifice, before one single word—Faith.—Napoleon I.

No Wasted Effort

Professor—Young man, name a great universal time saver.
Lovesick Youth—Love at first sight.

Seemed Logical

"Why did you send your son into the air service?"
"Because he is no earthly good."

Knew Those Thoroughly

Mabel—With what verses are you the most familiar?
Foot—Reverses.

Turn of the Worm

"Massage, sir?"
"Yes, and if any more ladies come in give me another hair cut."

READ THE WANT ADS DAILY

Say, Call and See Real Concrete Blocks at Real Honest Prices

at 107 West Front Street

Will fill any order, large or small. Have over 7,000 well cured 8x16 inch blocks on hand made and handled by machinery endorsed by the Minneapolis Cement Block Association. Clean gravel and best quality cement used. Call around and see the best equipped cement product plant in the Northwest, men with 25 years experience at the concrete game at its head.

Well curb, road tile, chimney blocks, porch piers, silo block or staves, and brick. Houses raised, basements put in, well, all kinds of concrete work done. We specialize in floors and sidewalks. Have been in business in Brainerd since 1913. The old reliable.

THOMPSON BROTHERS & CLAUSEN

107 W. Front St.

Phone 603-W

Mid-Summer

Festival

August 2 to 7

6 BIG DAYS

6 BIG NIGHTS

The Blue Ribbon Shows

A carnival within the law, showing in Brainerd under auspices of

Brainerd N. P. City Ball Team

DON JUAN

by Inez Sabastien

is the

Serial Story

Starting in

The Daily Dispatch

on

Monday, August 2

Now is the time to become a Regular Subscriber, so as not to miss a single installment. Phone 74.

Read the Ads Before Shopping

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

THE BRAINERD DISPATCH CO.
Office in Dispatch Building, Sixth St. So.

Entered at the post office at Brainerd, Minn., as second class matter.

Advertising Rates Made Known on Application

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Daily Dispatch by Carrier—One month, 50c; three months $1.25; 1 year, $5.00.
Daily Dispatch by Mail, Outside of City—Three months $1.00; one year, $4.00.
Weekly Dispatch—One year, $1.50.

SATURDAY, JULY 31, 1926

NICE SHORT TALK ON BRAINERD

RECENTLY a traveling radio station, 6XBR, of Warner Brothers, motion picture producers of Hollywood, gave a Brainerd program at the Lyceum. R. R. Gould, president of the Chamber of Commerce, gave a four minute talk which was exceedingly good and we reproduce it for the benefit of our readers. Mr. Gould said:

"As president of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce, I am expected to tell you something of our city. I intend to do this, and more, as well as I may in a skeleton talk of four minutes.

"Brainerd is the Gateway to Northern Minnesota.

"Minnesota is a great state. Minnesota produces more iron than any other state. Minnesota ranks high in many other things. But you know we raise excellent cows, pigs, hens, sheep, grain, gardens, and beautiful flowers. You have heard of our big flour mills, and our prize milk and butter. From the standpoint of 'getting a living' Minnesota is one of the best states in the Union.

"Minnesota boasts Ten Thousand Lakes. And we have the goods. Seeing is believing, and we invite you to come and see. It may surprise you, as it did me back in 1912.

"We have three primary objects in asking you to see us. First, both you and we will enjoy our visit; then you are like us, and when you travel will spend some money somewhere, and we want you to spend it here; and lastly, you may do as I did and after seeing, decide to live here later on. Fourteen years has not proved enough for me, and I am still staying to enjoy myself.

"In 1917 we had very few tourists. In 1925 we had over a million. Old acquaintances came back, and new ones kept coming. Many built cottages on one of our beautiful lakes, and became regular summer residents. 'The tourist of today is the citizen of tomorrow.'

"Why? Why, Minnesota has the goods, and people are finding that our advertisements are true and really representative. And like us, they like Minnesota.

"We have good roads in Minnesota. One of the most excellent highway systems in the United States; and even as far north as Brainerd the highway count sometimes shows over 1,000 cars per day passing a given point.

"It may surprise you, but we have at Brainerd one of the finest equipped Tourist Camps to be found between Maine and California.

"We have good railroad service if you do not wish to drive your own car.

"And if you want to play golf, several good courses within the county, one at Brainerd, offer the ancient Scottish pastime.

"Brainerd is the county seat of Crow Wing county, and is called the Gateway to 10,000 Lakes. It is almost exactly in the center of Minnesota.

"Crow Wing county contains the famous Cuyuna Iron Range; and several hundred lakes tempting a long list of excellent commercial summer resorts and a great number of private summer cottages; and yet is not congested because of the hundreds of miles of beautiful lake frontage.

"We hoped to entertain President Coolidge at Breezy Point Lodge this summer, but owing probably to the distance from the nation's capital, it was not to be. But we did have part of his cabinet.

"We have the finest fishing almost at our doors. Boating, canoeing, swimming, and other water sports are our summer offering. Minnesota has been so fortunate at the hands of nature that we are proud of her every season.

"Write me as president of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce, and I will be glad to send you a descriptive map of our county; in addition to feeling complimented that you answered our invitation. The 10,000 Lakes of Minnesota Association, headquarters St. Paul, will also be glad to tell you more about Minnesota.

"But come and see for yourself. Ask daddy to bring you to Minnesota, spend your honeymoon in Minnesota, bring the children to Minnesota, recreate in Minnesota as the case may be. And when you return, tell your friends to also come to Minnesota. And do not fail to see Brainerd, Minnesota, the Gateway to Ten Thousand Lakes."

AN IMPORTANT ROTARY CONFERENCE

TWENTY-SEVEN Rotary Clubs of the state were represented by delegates at the state-wide conference at Minneapolis, considering ways and means of keeping the boys of the state interested in and satisfied with their farm homes and small town environment.

Minneapolis Rotarians were hosts to the visiting brothers of the luncheon club. The conference considered how best to serve the future of the state by making the boys of the farms and smaller communities happy and contented in their home surroundings, especially through preservation of their natural heritage, Minnesota's celebrated 10,000 lakes, with their fish and game.

Dr. Lotus D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota, assisted in preparing the topics for discussion.

"Whittier has immortalized the 'barefoot boy with cheek of tan,' going down to the ol' swimmin' hole with a cane pole and a can of worms," the invitation to the conference read. "Today, however, there is a recognized trend of the boy to the city. How are we going to keep the boy interested in his home surroundings? We believe a very important factor is to help keep those surroundings interesting.

"Are the home environments going to remain interesting if visiting fishermen and hunters take away the boy's fish and game, and the other allurements of Minnesota's natural vacation land, without some one replacing them?

"Our conference will be devoted to the serious consideration of proper means to protect the heritage and interests of the rural residents, particularly the boys, of the state of Minnesota. In conserving our lakes, and protecting the fish and game, aren't we taking the greatest step to keep the boyhood and young manhood of Minnesota on the farm and in the small town, and to keep them happier and better satisfied with conditions at home?"

Representative men such as Karl De Laitre, president of the Minneapolis Civic & Commerce Association, President Coffman, Dean E. E. Nicholson, of the state university, H. V. Jones, editor and publisher of The Minneapolis Journal, Charles K. Blandin, publisher of the St. Paul Pioneer Press and Dispatch, and W. F. Webster, superintendent of Minneapolis schools, participated in the conference.

Delegates were present from the Rotary clubs of Albert Lea,

Austin, Brainerd, Caledonia, Cloquet, Crookston, Detroit, Duluth, Ely, Eveleth, Fairmont, Faribault, Fergus Falls, Hibbing, Moorhead, Northfield, Owatonna, Rochester, St. Cloud, St. Paul, Staples, Stillwater, Thief River Falls, Two Harbors, Virginia and Winona.

We have heard of the man who ate a package of highly condensed breakfast food and topped it off with a pint of cream and then had his appetite satiated for three days thereafter. In line with such satisfying diet and filling properties is the novel predicament of a motor ship cruising in Chinese waters. The vessel carried a cargo of beans, sprung a leak, the beans acting like dried apples, gathered moisture and swelled, and the decks of the boat bulged and the seams opened. The high powered beans came near wrecking the craft and salvage craft effected a rescue in just the right time.

With a possible hay shortage nearing, farmers are urged to save their straw piles.

HOME, DAD AND THE BOY

By FRANK H. CHELEY

The Grouchy Dad

LET'S give him the advantage of the doubt—likely he suffers from indigestion.

For years he has made it a habit of his life to look for trouble and he has been wonderfully successful.

He looks upon every carefree, exuberant, noisy, dirty, fun-loving boy as a necessary nuisance that must be tolerated against the day he matures and can shift for himself.

He is always looking for the ulterior motive in every boy situation, and cannot believe there is anything worthwhile in the boy.

He is as friendly with his boy as are two strange bulldogs.

He doesn't realize there is no more sense in breaking the will of a boy than there is in sandbagging the engineer of a train.

Fifty thousand American boys revolted against grouchy Dads in this United States last year and ran away from home.

Yet a broken window is more easily mended than a ruined boy and any boy will tell the truth when he is not scared into lying. Down with the grouch!

(Copyright, 1926, Denver, Colo.)

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

July 31, 1901

Mrs. C. B. Brainerd returned today from Seattle, Wash., where she has been visiting for about 10 months.

J. O. Peterson has resigned as clerk at the Arlington and has returned to his home in Sauk Center. W. Von Eschen is back behind the desk after an absence of a month or so.

John Hessel Jr. left this afternoon for Duluth on business.

Mrs. Henry I. Cohen and Harry and Jay Patek returned from the lake this morning.

Mrs. Abear has returned from West Superior where she visited for a couple of days with her father.

Fred McKay has resigned his position at the N. P. depot to take effect September 1. He has accepted a position as bookkeeper in the office of the Brainerd Lumber company in this city.

Charles Long and George McIntosh both of Minneapolis have accepted a position in Spalding and Nemo's drug store, the former as pharmacist and the latter as the mixologist at the soda fountain.

Postmaster N. H. Ingersoll has finally received official notification from the U. S. Civil service commission of the establishing of a free delivery system in Brainerd by the Post Office department. While the system has been established and all instructions have been received the inaugurating of the same will not take place until Nov. 1. * * * Brainerd as soon as the free delivery is inaugurated will be classified and will be a civil service office from date and will be under the supervision of the United States Civil service Commission.

MERRY MOMENTS

Slight Difference

Flag—Doesn't Herbert make you weary?
Rush—No, wary.—Scarlet Saint.

Putting It Bluntly

Schoolmaster—Now, Rogers, what are you doing? Learning something?
Pupil—No, sir. I'm listening to you.

Foolish Fashion

Alice—"The new fashions will avoid everything freakish." Minna—"Won't they look absurd!"

Enumerating Them

"How many in your family now, Emily?"
"Six, I think. Me and twins."

Irresistible

"Why do you have so many lady friends, Casey?"
"Sure, nobody can resist an officer."

His Hard Luck

"Did your brother pass in college?"
"Yes; he passed a worthless check and got caught."

A Wide Range

Dorothy is a little girl living in North Rural street. She has curly hair, and, of course, is frequently asked that age-old question: "Do you eat bread crusts to make your hair curly?"

"Oh, yes," she replied to one inquisitor recently, "I eat both the front and the back crusts of the bread."—Indianapolis News.

Cautious Youth

A rather stout man was having difficulties under his car when he looked out and saw a boy sitting on the fence. "What are you doing there?" he asked.

"I was just watchin'," replied the boy. "And if—"

"And if what?"

"And if I could run faster, I'd laugh."

Limbo

Lawyer—Better plead guilty. The judge will give you only two years at the outside.

Culprit—Yaas. But how many years on de inside he gwine gimme? Dat wat I want to know.

Or None

"I would like to give my uncle 100 of these cigars. Can you think of how I can give him even greater pleasures?"

"Yes. Give him only 50."—Munich Fliegende Blaetter.

Even Up

"I shouldn't think you could afford to sit at the game if you are so unlucky at it."

"Well, you see, what I lose at poker my wife makes up at bridge."—Boston Transcript.

The Poor Rich Man

"A few years ago Newrich didn't know where his next meal was coming from."

"Yes, and now that he does he's a martyr to dyspepsia."—Boston Transcript.

Black-Faced

"Say, did you see her flush?"
"Embarrassed?"
"No, all spades."—California Pelican.

Earth's Population

The population of the earth, gathered from latest statistics, is 1,748,000,000—or about 30 persons to the square mile on an average.

Fair Enough

"Do you consider it proper for a barber to call himself an artist?"
"I think so—if he is an artist."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Bit Too Slapdash

"Don't you think Madge has rather a good complexion?"
"Well, it strikes me as just a trifle too impressionistic."

Medically Tested

Bunker—My doctor tells me I can't play golf.
Clara—So he's played with you, too?

Foundation of Everything
All the scholastic scaffolding falls, as a ruined edifice, before one single word—Faith.—Napoleon I.

No Wasted Effort
Professor—Young man, name a great universal time saver.
Lovesick Youth—Love at first sight.

Seemed Logical
"Why did you send your son into the air service?"
"Because he is no earthly good."

Knew Those Thoroughly
Mabel—With what verses are you the most familiar?
Poet—Reverses.

Turn of the Worm
"Massage, sir?"
"Yes, and if any more ladies come in give me another hair cut."

READ THE WANT ADS DAILY

Say, Call and See Real Concrete Blocks at Real Honest Prices at 107 West Front Street

Will fill any order, large or small. Have over 7,000 well cured 8x16 inch blocks on hand made and handled by machinery endorsed by the Minneapolis Cement Block Association. Clean gravel and best quality cement used. Call around and see the best equipped cement product plant in the Northwest, men with 25 years experience at the concrete game at its head.

Well curb, road tile, chimney blocks, porch piers, silo block or staves, and brick. Houses raised, basements put in, well, all kinds of concrete work done. We specialize in floors and sidewalks. Have been in business in Brainerd since 1913. The old reliable.

THOMPSON BROTHERS & CLAUSEN
107 W. Front St. Phone 603-W

Mid-Summer

Festival

August 2 to 7

6 BIG DAYS 6 BIG NIGHTS

The Blue Ribbon Shows

A carnival within the law, showing in Brainerd under auspices of

Brainerd N. P. City Ball Team

DON JUAN

by Inez Sabastien

is the

Serial Story

Starting in

The Daily Dispatch

on

Monday, August 2

Now is the time to become a Regular Subscriber, so as not to miss a single installment. Phone 74.

Read the Ads Before Shopping

SERVICES in the CHURCHES

Bethlehem Evangelical Church
(Corner Bluff and Main)
J. H. Bollens, pastor
English service, 10:30.
No Sunday school.

† † †
Swedish Baptist Church
Corner Main and Oak Streets
Sunday school at 10 A. M.
There are no other services during the day.
Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

† † †
Zion Lutheran Church
Missouri Synod
(Corner Main and Broadway)
10 A. M.—Divine services.
Religious instruction for children Monday at 9:30 A. M.

† † †
First Presbyterian Church
Rev. A. G. Patterson, Pastor
9:30 A. M.—Sunday school.
10:30 A. M.—Morning worship.
Fred E. Lind will conduct the service. All are cordially invited to worship with us at this service. There will be no evening services during August.

† † †
St. Paul's Episcopal Church
Seventh and Juniper Streets
Robert James Long, Rector
Services for August 1—
Holy communion—8 A. M.
Morning service and address—10 A. M.

The public is cordially invited to all our services.

† † †
Metropolitan Mission
315 South 7th Street
Sunday school at 2:30 P. M.
A lively time, send the children; they will enjoy it.

At 7:30 P. M. the old-fashioned Gospel will be preached, salvation from sin by way of repentance and restitution, etc. All welcome.

C. W. Weagby, Pastor.
† † †
Methodist Episcopal Church
Morris L. Eversz, Pastor
Sunday school at 9:45 A. M. Fred Lind, Supt.

Public worship at 11 A. M. Theme: "The Tonic of Christ's Out of Doors Teaching."

Epworth League at 6:45 on the parsonage lawn at 624 Bluff Avenue North.

Refreshments and review of Arrowhead Lecture.
† † †
Clara Lutheran Church
August Samuelson, Pastor
No Sunday school during the month of August.

Open air services at Gilbert lake at 11 o'clock.
Come and bring your family, friends and lunch basket.
We all meet at the church at 10 o'clock in the morning.
Services at Nisswa at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

† † †
St. Francis Catholic Church
402 North 9th St.
Sunday services—
First Mass, 7:45 a. m.
Second Mass, 9 a. m.
High Mass, 10 a. m.
Holy Hour, 7:30 p. m.
Baptisms, 1:30 to 2 p. m.
Instructions at all services.

Rev. Fr. James Hogan, pastor.
Rev. Fr. Michael Enright, assistant pastor.
† † †
Christian Science Society
Services are held in Iron Exchange Hall, Iron Exchange Building.
Sunday school, 10 A. M.
Sunday service at 11 A. M.
Topic: "Love."

Wednesday evening service, 8 P. M.
Reading room, Iron Exchange Hall, open Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3 to 5 p. m. Also Wednesday evening and Sunday morning.
All are welcome.

† † †
The Evangelical Church
Sunday school at 9:45.
Morning worship at 11.
A change has been made in our Sunday evening services for the summer months. The young people's meeting has been combined with the evening preaching service. This union service will be conducted from 7 to 8 o'clock. Worth while topics will be taken up. These will prove a blessing to all who come and learn. Don't forget the change in time.

L. F. Strothman, Pastor.
† † †
First Baptist Church
Sunday school—9:45 A. M.
Morning service—11 A. M.
Subject of sermon: "The Joy of the Christ-lover."

B. Y. P. U.—6:45 P. M.
Sunday evening prayer service—7:30 P. M.
Sunday evening preaching service—7:45 P. M.

Subject of sermon: "Ceasing From Man-Fear."
The Sunday school, instead of meeting in their respective departments for their opening exercises, will meet all together in the main auditorium of the church. After a short devotional period they will

DR. ROY SMITH'S SATURDAY NIGHT TALKS

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

NO MAN QUARRELS UNTO HIMSELF

A fine piece of cement road was being built through a small down state town. The State Highway Commission and the town council could not agree on the route that was to be followed through town and the paving has been held up for almost three years.

In the meantime traffic has been sent over a four mile detour which has become almost impassable. Day after day the tourists jolted across the ruts and gullies breaking springs, straining motors and losing the joy out of the trip paying for the quarrel between the town council and the Highway Commission.

No quarrel ever affects the quarrelers alone.

The sin of divorce is not in the effect on the divorcees, but in the long and tragic detour that the children have to take. Juvenile courts are crowded with youngsters who have run afoul of the law because they came from broken homes. Some authorities declare that as high as fifty per cent of the juvenile delinquents come from homes wrecked by divorce.

The public pays for the support of the juvenile courts and other machinery of the law, the children pay with heartaches, trouble, moral breakdowns and ethical bankruptcy. A divorce would be a simple matter except for the fact that a lot of people have to take the detour it involves.

The war for power in the Congress of the United States has sent the whole nation over rough detours on scores of occasions. While the politicians sparred for advantageous positions or filibustered for spite the country has waded through business depression and moral morasses paying the cost of partisan quarrels.

A quarrel between law enforcement officers will delay justice, breed disrespect for law, allow criminals to go free and break down all the forces of orderly government—the public, meanwhile, taking a rough and tortuous detour.

A quarrel between two church leaders can disrupt the work of years.

A quarrel between a husband and wife will blast the life of a little child.

A quarrel in a town council will drive out industries, discourage business and stagnate a town.

Who is paying for your quarrels?

separate and go to their departments. The adult class of the Sunday school is an interesting one and worthy of the interest of all of the older folks. Why not come to this class and bring your questions and problems? The postponed Sunday school picnic will be held next Friday afternoon at Lum park. A good time is expected by all. Also remember the Thursday night prayer meeting. It will continue all through the summer. You will be helped if you come.

† † †
The Salvation Army
Holiness meeting, Sunday, 10:50 A. M.
Sunday school and Bible class, 2:30 P. M.
Young People's meeting, 6:30 P. M.

Open air meeting, 7:30 P. M.
Public salvation meeting for all, 8 P. M.

† † †
Week Meetings
Tuesday, Soldiers' meeting, 8 P. M.
Thursday, open air meeting, 7:30. Inside, 8 P. M.
Saturday, open air meeting, 7:30. Public praise inside, 8 P. M.
All are welcome!
Capt. and Mrs. H. J. Bollinger in charge.

† † †
Bethlehem Lutheran Church
South Seventh Street
J. R. Michaelson, Pastor
Sunday, August 1st—
Morning worship, Norwegian, at 11 A. M. Anthems by the junior church choir. Soprano and tenor duet, Mrs. O. A. Koskinen and J. R. Michaelson.

No Sunday school during August.
In the afternoon at 3 o'clock, services at Kedron church, Pequot. The Young People's society will meet at 7:30 P. M.

The Kedron ladies' aid, Pequot, will meet at the home of Mrs. Martin Torkelson Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Bethel Young People's society will give an ice cream social at the church, South Long Lake, Wednesday evening. Serving begins at 7 o'clock.

The Bethel confirmation class meets for instruction Friday at 3 P. M.

The Cyclone a Providence

By MARTHA M. WILLIAMS

(Copyright.)

JOE HOPSON and Jean Graham had been romping comrades since the day they could toddle. Thus it had come to be said: "What a pity the boy wasn't the girl, the girl the boy!"—he was so much the prettier, she much more the figure and temper that promised a man. Not exactly ugly—but with a thin face she could screw into ninety-seven shapes at pleasure, darkling eyes, and of a supple strength almost uncanny. Joe, just her height, had evolved from a rose-leaf baby, a fetching Cupidon, into a manly beauty he truly hated, notwithstanding he had his full share of sex vanity. Girls went down before him like gr: in before the sickle—Jean was the honorable exception proving the rule.

Therefore, such is human contrariness—he fought protective battles with her over everything she chose to approve. He had rather die than have her laugh at his loving—and laugh she would, being as to sentiment utterly hard-boiled. His trustiest shield was a pretended fear of being married out of hand—which she feigned to resent hotly. She grumbled openly: "Why can't you submit to Fate's decree, man? Why else do Hopson and Graham lands lie broadside one to another? Make the finest plantation in seven counties—and you know I'm a born land-lover—I'd manage so it would outdo any other in the state."

To which he countered: "Buy it if you want it so badly. You can have fifty years' time to pay for it—I'll feel like a freed bird with the wretched acres off my hands." The pair were, to speak the truth, in the grip of emotional static—so welded by use and wont they had vital need of each other, but withheld by frankish habit from admitting the fact.

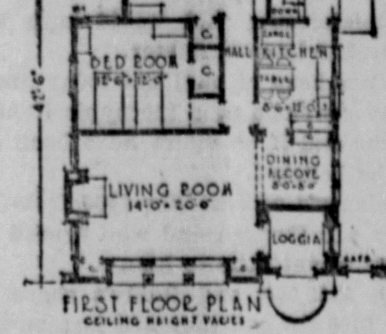

This state might have run on indefinitely had not Mrs. Modred Mallinson blown across their path. Blown literally—a limited cyclone wrecked her car just at the boundaries of Graham and Hopson—so succor fell impartially to both houses. Joe helped first—pulling her half insensible from the shattered vehicle, then taking her to Jean, since even in disarray she was too young and pretty for a bachelor's guest. Her gratitude to both reached the height of fine art—even Jean could not discount it—for two whole days. Then she kept silence—but an appraising one, as Joe, also silently, discerned. A gossamer idea came to him through the discerning—it strengthened so fast by next day he chuckled at thought of it—though outwardly he held a countenance of grave anxiety.

Mrs. Modred Mallinson had intuitions—they made her sense rather than see in the cyclone a providence better than many cars. She kept the bed two days, the couch five more. By that time she had possessed herself of many leading facts—by help mainly of Mammy Charlotte to whom Jean had generously given her over. Mammy was in the main truthful—except upon the subject of Jean and Joe. Rich? Dee was richer'n cream an' peaches—dee owned er bank and er railroad, sides der lan'. Kep' hit dest 'cause it had 'longed-ter de fambly frum way back. No'm, dee wasn't sweethearts—dest sorter begaged—had ter wait dey weddin' 'twell Jean gwine on twenty-three—so she mought wa'ar de jewelry—pearls and dimonds an' sech like—Ole Miss her great-gramm had lef' der away.

Sufficient, even more than sufficient, for a widow, whose fascination was her fortune, whose new weeds were her weapon. Men she knew as she never knew books. Joe found himself elected the prop and stay of her faltering steps. Indeed, she almost clung to him, laughing a thought hysterically as she drooped against him at the least slacking of his arm. Slim, sinuous, yet curvey who shall blame her for refusing to grow stronger? She ate like a hurt bird, no matter how she was tempted. But Jean smiled gayly.

She also had intuitions—long ago she had divined Joe's case—and played him, using, however, in the playing Walton's caution as to the bait: "Use him as though you loved him." Now she saw as clearly through the wiles of her involuntary guest, and in her secret mind, rejoiced over them—they gave her the excuse she had wanted this year and more for a change of mood and mind. In gratitude she insisted upon leaving a laden tray accessible to Mrs. Modred the night through—Mammy said there must be spirits somwhars round, Eve's grain erd crum ob cake and biscuit, and all de chick'n bres' was gone. Cat! Hm! Cat mought a clumb through de wh-

Practical Four-Room Plan for that "Castle In Spain"

Being only thirty-one feet across, it can be placed on a fifty-foot lot and should preferably be set rather well back in order to get the full effect of the terracing. And, like practically every other house, it needs careful and intelligent landscaping if you are going to give it the natural setting it deserves.

Notice how the front wall is extended out to accommodate the pretty little gate through which the service entrance is reached. Besides giving a tasteful balance to the house as a whole, this serves to conceal unsightly refuse cans and incinerator.

The loggia is recessed to give shelter from the weather and has a floor of red tiles. Entering directly from the loggia into the story and a half living room one is immediately impressed with its generous proportions, the triple arched windows reaching from the floor almost to the ceiling and der, but nebbor could a clumb back agn'n—too heavy after eating all dat—whereat Jean gave Mammy a silencing look, and ran clear to the lawn gate intent upon waylaying Joe.

"Behold a missionary!" she greeted him: "I've just found out I want and need something ever so badly—will you give it to me?"

"Life, fortune, honor—my sheered honor—all lie at your feet. Take your choice!" Joe cried gaily. "Say which—and when! Tight quick."

"Why—I believe all three—they fill the measure of—my husband," Jean answered with the faintest blush. Joe reeled in saddle—but next minute had her in his arms. She released herself after five minutes, saying: "How about tomorrow? So Mrs. Modred can see the great event?"

"I never welched yet—too late to begin," Joe grinned. "By the way—wasn't the cyclone a providence?"

Newest Evening Scarf Is Like Spanish Shawl

For evening, the scarf takes on large square proportions in imitation of the Spanish shawl. Vivid velvet squares bordered and lined in silver or gold cloth and painted in floral or modernistic designs are among the newest of evening wraps. A green velvet square, for instance, is bordered in silver and printed in silver and black design. The young miss about town wears large square shawls of chiffon, georgette, lace or tulle which she throws over her chair while dancing. Her heavier wrap is removed before she enters the dining room. Such a square of black lace has bands of rose chiffon adorning the underneath side in border effect. The black square is bordered with tulle ruffles. Worn over a flesh-toned chiffon frock the effect is very stunning.

Sunburn Scarf One New Accessory for Sports

To prevent the appearance of the V-shaped red patch on neck and chest, the bane of the woman tennis player, an accessory to this season's tennis outfit is the "sunburn scarf." Made of double crepe de chine, the scarfs are just long enough to twist around neck and throat except for the embroidered ends, one of which falls over the chest as a sunshield while the other does the same service for the back of the neck.

Waistline Near Normal

Waistlines, like the cost of dressing, are creeping up. Dresses of light material such as voile or lace are usually draped or bloused over the hip. Stiffer materials such as taffeta and satin are made rather on princess lines, close fitting at the waist, which is raised. Dresses which have platted skirts mounted on the bodice show a really high-waisted effect.

Page Nicodemus

Aunt Melinda, who does the cooking for a Dorchester family, had just been told that Ham, the son of Noah, was the founder of the negro race. The old negro woman snorted disdainfully. "Tain't so," she declared. "We all ain't 'scended from no Ham. We's 'scended from Nigger Demus."—Boston Transcript.

Most men go through life as rivers of the ground.—Josh Billings.
A few less the sea, following the lay of the land.—Josh Billings.

the cypress beamed ceiling which follows the roof line. The open fireplace is flagged with a small casement windows. Either side of the studio windows, a closet has been provided, one near the front door for wraps and umbrellas, the other for general storage. One of the beauties of such a room, is that it requires only a few well chosen pieces to furnish it, as the beamed ceilings, fireplace and balcony windows give it a furnished appearance even when empty.

The dining room alcove is well set off from the living room and needs but a simple, attractive breakfast set to complete it. A small china closet is built-in.

The day of the "hired girl" seems gone forever and now that she has got used to the idea, the average housewife is satisfied to do her own work. In contrast to the "jerry building" that is going into many small houses today, this one has the best of materials and construction throughout. One significant aspect is the small amount of upkeep it will require. The stucco walls call for no attention and the tile roof, in addition to having so attractive an appearance, will last practically forever.

Temperature comfort has been built right into the very structure by complete insulation. The demand today is for houses that are warm and easily and economically heated in winter, while keeping out the heat during the summer months. Temperature comfort, therefore, has been built right into the very structure of this house, by sheathing the walls and roof with celotex.

If desired, this house can be built without basement, installing the heating plant off the kitchen. In this case, the floor also should be celotex insulated.

Jackie Was Lonesome
Jackie is a many little fellow, living on Eastern avenue. Sometimes when his mother has a business errand she has an older boy named Estel stay with him and Jackie apparently has taken a great liking to him, for a few days ago he said:
"Mother, won't you go away again so Estel can come to stay with me?"
—Indianapolis News.

Millions for Interest
The United States government has paid out more than $11,000,000,000 in interest on the public debt since 1771, says the Dearborn Independent. The greatest amount in one year was $1,055,088,000, paid in 1923. This year the estimated interest payment will be $730,000,000.

Unfortunate Affability
"What did you say to the judge?"
"I said 'Good morning!'"
"He couldn't take offense at that."
"He did. I sounded so genial and familiar that he took it for granted I was an old offender."

More and Less
Postmaster Solomon Seches of Memphis, discussing a mail swindle that had hit Tennessee hard, ended with the philosophic remark: "What America needs is more plow shares and less of the oil kind."

Find Lost Comet
Ensor's comet, which was lost from view after it passed near the sun this year, was located again by two German astronomers. It was then of the thirteenth magnitude and invisible to the naked eye.

Why He Went
Jones—Is the cashier in?
Boss—No; he's gone away.
Jones—Ah! For a rest, I presume?
Boss—No. To avoid arrest.—Good Hardware.

Art of Repetition
The average woman has a vocabulary of about 800 words, according to a Middle Western newspaper man. It is the turnover which produces the volume.—St. Louis City Tribune.

Practically So
He who stands still in this bustling age is going behind because others pass him.—Boston Transcript.

Big Head for Details

We were told of a wizard who recently played 10 games of chess and 28 of checkers at the same time. A man that can keep all that in his head should be able to remember to mail his wife's letters.

Where Eve Scores

Girl babies have a much better chance of life than boy babies. While the average Adam attains full height at twenty-one, Eve adds to her stature up to thirty. For every hundred men who go bald, there is only one Eve.

Staff Meetings of the Army of the Lord

THE marshals, generals and colonels of Christ's church militant—the general staff of the Army of the Lord—have been holding important conferences and conventions. The Baptists foregathered at Washington; the Presbyterians at Baltimore; the Episcopalians at New Orleans; the Methodists at Springfield; the Lutherans at St. Louis.

In June occurred the Eucharistic Congress at Chicago at which fifteen Cardinals and more than three thousand other high dignitaries of the Catholic Church were present.

Such events are news of intense interest to many thousands of newspaper readers, not only to the readers of this newspaper but to readers of other representative publications all over the country.

The comprehensive and accurate covering of these ecclesiastical events is just one more example of the superior news service we render through the UNITED PRESS.

This is a UNITED PRESS newspaper. "BY UNITED PRESS"—when printed over a dispatch—indicates that one of the greatest news-gathering organizations in the world has telegraphed, radioed or cabled the story WITH ACCURACY AND SPEED for your reading.

Remember the word "UNITED". Look for it as you read the news of the day. The newspaper which prints news "BY UNITED PRESS" is always a distinguished newspaper.

The Brainerd Dispatch

SERVICES in the CHURCHES

Bethlehem Evangelical Church
(Corner Bluff and Main)
J. H. Bollens, pastor
English service, 10:30.
No Sunday school.

† † †
Swedish Baptist Church
Corner 10th and Oak Streets
Sunday school at 10 A. M.
There are no other services during the day.
Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

† † †
Zion Lutheran Church
Missouri Synod
(Corner Main and Broadway)
10 A. M.—Divine services.
Religious instruction for children Monday at 9:30 A. M.
F. C. Rathert, Pastor.

† † †
First Presbyterian Church
Rev. A. G. Patterson, Pastor
9:30 A. M.—Sunday school.
10:30 A. M.—Morning worship.
Fred E. Lind will conduct the service. All are cordially invited to worship with us at this service. There will be no evening services during August.

† † †
St. Paul's Episcopal Church
Seventh and Juniper Streets
Robert James Long, Rector
Services for August 1—
Holy communion—8 A. M.
Morning service and address—10 A. M.
The public is cordially invited to all our services.

† † †
Metropolitan Mission
315 South 7th Street
Sunday school at 2:30 P. M.
A lively time, send the children; they will enjoy it.
At 7:30 P. M. the old-fashioned Gospel will be preached, salvation from sin by way of repentance and restitution, etc. All welcome.
C. W. Weagby, Pastor.

† † †
Methodist Episcopal Church
Morris L. Evers, Pastor
Sunday school at 9:45 A. M. Fred Lind, Supt.
Public worship at 11 A. M. Theme: "The Tonic of Christ's Out of Doors Teaching."
Epworth League at 6:45 on the parsonage lawn at 624 Bluff Avenue North.
Refreshments and review of Arrowhead Institute.

† † †
Clara Lutheran Church
August Samuelson, Pastor
No Sunday school during the month of August.
Open air services at Gilbert lake at 11 o'clock.
Come and bring your family, friends and lunch basket.
We all meet at the church at 10 o'clock in the morning.
Services at Nisswa at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

† † †
St. Francis Catholic Church
402 North 9th St.
Sunday services—
First Mass, 7:45 a. m.
Second Mass, 9 a. m.
High Mass, 10 a. m.
Holy Hour, 7:30 p. m.
Baptisms, 1:30 to 2 p. m.
Instructions at all services.
Rev. Fr. James Hogan, pastor.
Rev. Fr. Michael Enright, assistant pastor.

† † †
Christian Science Society
Services are held in Iron Exchange Hall, Iron Exchange Building.
Sunday school, 10 A. M.
Sunday service at 11 A. M.
Topic: "Love."
Wednesday evening service, 8 P. M.
Reading room, Iron Exchange Hall, open Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3 to 5 p. m. Also Wednesday evening and Sunday morning.
All are welcome.

† † †
The Evangelical Church
Sunday school at 9:45.
Morning worship at 11.
A change has been made in our Sunday evening services for the summer months. The young people's meeting has been combined with the evening preaching service. This union service will be conducted from 7 to 8 o'clock. Worth while topics will be taken up. These will prove a blessing to all who come and learn. Don't forget the change in time.
L. F. Strothman, Pastor.

† † †
First Baptist Church
Sunday school—9:45 A. M.
Morning service—11 A. M.
Subject of sermon: "The Joy of the Christ-lover."
B. Y. F. U.—6:45 P. M.
Sunday evening prayer service—7:30 P. M.
Sunday evening preaching service—7:45 P. M.
Subject of sermon: "Ceasing From Man-Fear."
The Sunday school, instead of meeting in their respective departments for their opening exercises, will meet all together in the main auditorium of the church. After a short devotional period they will

DR. ROY SMITH'S SATURDAY NIGHT TALKS

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

NO MAN QUARRELS UNTO HIMSELF

A fine piece of cement road was being built through a small down state town. The State Highway Commission and the town council could not agree on the route that was to be followed through town and the paving has been held up for almost three years.

In the meantime traffic has been sent over a four mile detour which has become almost impassable. Day after day the tourists jolted across the ruts and gullies breaking springs, straining motors and losing the joy out of the trip paying for the quarrel between the town council and the Highway Commission.

No quarrel ever affects the quarrelers alone. The sin of divorce is not in the effect on the divorcees, but in the long and tragic detour that the children have to take. Juvenile courts are crowded with youngsters who have run afoul of the law because they came from broken homes. Some authorities declare that as high as fifty per cent of the juvenile delinquents come from homes wrecked by divorce.

The public pays for the support of the juvenile courts and other machinery of the law, the children pay with heartaches, trouble, moral breakdowns and ethical bankruptcy. A divorce would be a simple matter except for the fact that a lot of people have to take the detour it involves.

The war for power in the Congress of the United States has sent the whole nation over rough detours on scores of occasions. While the politicians sparred for advantageous positions or filibustered for spite the country has waded through business depression and moral morasses paying the cost of partisan quarrels.

A quarrel between law enforcement officers will delay justice, breed disrespect for law, allow criminals to go free and break down all the forces of orderly government—the public, meanwhile, taking a rough and tortuous detour.

A quarrel between two church leaders can disrupt the work of years.

A quarrel between a husband and wife will blast the life of a little child.

A quarrel in a town council will drive out industries, discourage business and stagnate a town.

Who is paying for your quarrels?

separate and go to their departments. The adult class of the Sunday school is an interesting one and worthy of the interest of all of the older folks. Why not come to this class and bring your questions and problems?

The postponed Sunday school picnic will be held next Friday afternoon at Lum park. A good time is expected by all. Also remember the Thursday night prayer meeting. It will continue all through the summer. You will be helped if you come.

† † †
The Salvation Army
Holiness meeting, Sunday, 10:30 A. M.
Sunday school and Bible class, 2:30 P. M.
Young People's meeting, 6:30 P. M.
Open air meeting, 7:30 P. M.
Public salvation meeting for all, 8 P. M.

† † †
Week Meetings
Tuesday, Soldiers' meeting, 8 P. M.
Thursday, open air meeting, 7:30 P. M.
Saturday, open air meeting, 7:30 P. M.
Public praise inside, 8 P. M.
All are welcome!
Capt. and Mrs. H. J. Bollinger in charge.

† † †
Bethlehem Lutheran Church
South Seventh Street
J. R. Michaelson, Pastor
Sunday, August 1st—
Morning worship, Norwegian, at 11 A. M. Anthems by the junior church choir. Soprano and tenor duet, Mrs. O. A. Koskinen and J. R. Michaelson.

No Sunday school during August. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock, services at Kedron church, Pequot. The Young People's society will meet at 7:30 P. M.

The Kedron ladies' aid, Pequot, will meet at the home of Mrs. Martin Torkelson Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Bethel Young People's society will give an ice cream social at the church, South Long Lake, Wednesday evening. Serving begins at 7 o'clock.

The Bethel confirmation class meets for instruction Friday at 3 P. M.

The Cyclone a Providence

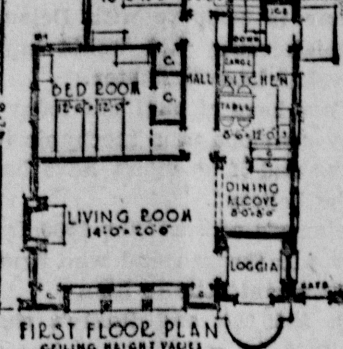

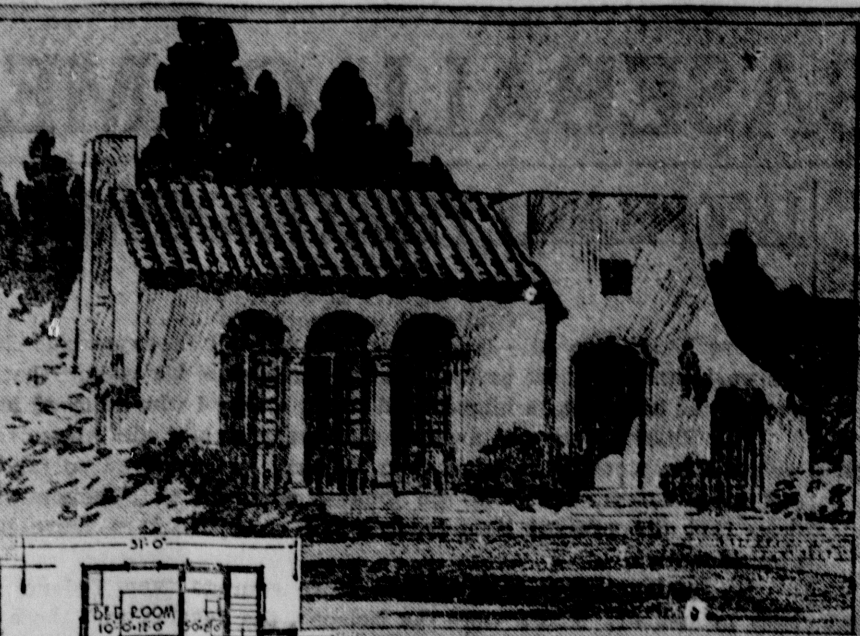

By MARTHA M. WILLIAMS

(Copyright.)

JOE HOPSON and Jean Graham had been romping comrades since the day they could toddle. Thus it had come to be said: "What a pity the boy wasn't the girl, the girl the boy"—he was so much the prettier, she much more the figure and temper that promised a man. Not exactly ugly—but with a thin face she could screw into ninety-seven shapes at pleasure, darkling eyes, and of a supple strength almost uncanny. Joe, just her height, had evolved from a rose-leaf baby, a fetching Cupidon, into a manly beauty he truly hated, notwithstanding he had his full share of sex vanity. Girls went down before him like grain before the sickle—Jean was the honorable exception proving the rule.

Therefore, such is human contrariness—he fought protective battles with her over everything she chose to approve. He had rather die than have her laugh at his loving—and laugh she would, being as to sentiment utter-

Practical Four-Room Plan for that "Castle In Spain"

FLAGSTONE terracing, iron grille balconies and a quaint wrought iron lantern-like distinction to this little old-world one-story house. Rough plaster walls and a colorful tile roof make an attractive exterior that will find a welcome in any neighborhood.

Being only thirty-one feet across, it can be easily placed on a fifty-foot lot and should preferably be set rather well back in order to get the full effect of the terracing. And, like practically every other house, it needs careful and intelligent landscaping if you are going to give it the natural setting it deserves.

Notice how the front wall is extended out to accommodate the pretty little gate through which the service entrance is reached. Besides giving a tasteful balance to the house as a whole, this serves to conceal unsightly refuse cans and incinerator.

The loggia is recessed to give shelter from the weather and has a floor of red tiles. Entering directly from the loggia into the story and a half living room one is immediately impressed with its generous proportions, the triple arched windows reaching from the floor almost to the ceiling and the cypress beamed ceiling which follows the roof line.

The open fireplace is flanked with a small casement window. Either side of the studio windows, a closet has been provided, one near the front door for wraps and umbrellas, the other for general storage. One of the beauties of such a room, is that it requires only a few well chosen pieces to furnish it, as the beamed ceilings, fireplace and balcony windows give it a furnished appearance even when empty.

The dining room alcove is well set off from the living room and needs but a simple, attractive breakfast set to complete it. A small china closet is built-in.

The day of the "hired girl" seems gone forever and now that she has got used to the idea, the average housewife is satisfied to do her own work until she enters the butler-footman-French-maid class. Only she must have everything planned for her convenience. With this in mind, the kitchen has received especially deft planning here, giving the greatest economy of space and handiness to working equipment. The sink is placed directly beneath the casement windows. The back entry way contains the refrigerator and the stairs leading down to the basement.

The bedrooms have been placed well at the back, quite shut off from the rest of the house and giving that sense of privacy which is apt to be lacking in one-story homes. Both the rooms have double exposure and generous sized closets. One of the rooms is big enough for twin beds.

In contrast to the "jerry building" that is going into many small houses today, this one has the best of materials and construction throughout. One significant aspect is the small amount of upkeep it will require. The stucco walls call for no attention and the tile roof, in addition to having so attractive an appearance, will last practically forever.

Temperature comfort has been built right into the very structure by complete insulation. The demand today is for houses that are warm and easily and economically heated in winter, while keeping out the heat during the summer months. Temperature comfort, therefore, has been built right into the very structure of this house, by sheathing the walls and roof with celotex. If desired, this house can be built without basement, installing the heating plant off the kitchen. In this case, the floor also should be celotex insulated.

Big Head for Details

We were told of a wizard who recently played 10 games of chess and 28 of checkers at the same time. A man that can keep all that in his head should be able to remember to mail his wife's letters.

Where Eve Scores

Girl babies have a much better chance of life than boy babies. While the average Adam attains full height at twenty-one, Eve adds to her stature up to thirty. For every hundred men who go bald, there is only one Eve.

Newest Evening Scarf Is Like Spanish Shawl

For evening, the scarf takes on large square proportions in imitation of the Spanish shawl. Vivid velvet squares bordered and lined in silver or gold cloth and painted in floral or modernistic designs are among the newest of evening wraps. A green velvet square, for instance, is bordered in silver and printed in silver and black design. The young miss about town wears large square shawls of chiffon, georgette, lace or tulle which she throws over her chair while dancing. Her heavier wrap is removed before she enters the dining room. Such a square of black lace has bands of rose chiffon adorning the underneath side in border effect. The black square is bordered with tulle ruffles. Worn over a flesh-toned chiffon frock the effect is very stunning.

Sunburn Scarf One New Accessory for Sports

To prevent the appearance of the V-shaped red patch on neck and chest, the bane of the woman tennis player, an accessory to this season's tennis outfit is the "sunburn scarf." Made of double crepe de chine, the scarfs are just long enough to twist around neck and throat except for the embroidered ends, one of which falls over the chest as a sunshield while the other does the same service for the back of the neck.

Waistline Near Normal

Waistlines, like the cost of dressing, are creeping up. Dresses of light material such as voile or lace are usually draped or bloused over the hip. Stiffer materials such as taffeta and satin are made rather on princess lines, close fitting at the waist, which is raised. Dresses which have plaited skirts mounted on the bodice show a really high-waisted effect.

Page Nicodemus

Aunt Melinda, who does the cooking for a Dorchester family, had just been told that Ham, the son of Noah, was the founder of the negro race. The old negro woman snorted disdainfully. "Tain't so," she declared. "We all ain't scended from no Ham. We's scended from Nigger Demus."—Boston Transcript.

Most men go through life as if they were blind. A few see, but following the lay of the wind.—Josh Billings.

Staff Meetings of the Army of the Lord

THE marshals, generals and colonels of Christ's church militant—the general staff of the Army of the Lord—have been holding important conferences and conventions. The Baptists foregathered at Washington; the Presbyterians at Baltimore; the Episcopalians at New Orleans; the Methodists at Springfield; the Lutherans at St. Louis.

In June occurred the Eucharistic Congress at Chicago at which fifteen Cardinals and more than three thousand other high dignitaries of the Catholic Church were present.

Such events are news of intense interest to many thousands of newspaper readers, not only to the readers of this newspaper but to readers of other representative publications all over the country.

The comprehensive and accurate covering of these ecclesiastical events is just one more example of the superior news service we render through the UNITED PRESS.

This is a UNITED PRESS newspaper. "BY UNITED PRESS"—when printed over a dispatch—indicates that one of the greatest news-gathering organizations in the world has telegraphed, radioed or cabled the story WITH ACCURACY AND SPEED for your reading.

Remember the word "UNITED". Look for it as you read the news of the day. The newspaper which prints news "BY UNITED PRESS" is always a distinguished newspaper.

The Brainerd Dispatch

HELEN WILLS IS WINNING BACK HER FORM

SAYS SHE HAS NEVER FELT BETTER IN HER LIFE

WILL PLAY IN TENNIS SINGLES AT SEABRIGHT TOURNAMENT

MAY ALSO PLAY IN THE MIXED DOUBLES, SHE SAID

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Easthampton, N. Y., July 31.—Helen Wills, national champion, who is winning into her old form after her operation, will meet Mrs. E. H. Roeser of New York in the semi-final round of the Maidstone Tennis club's annual invitation tourney this afternoon.

If she defeats Mrs. Roeser, Miss Wills will meet Mary K. Browne of California in the finals tomorrow, a match calculated to extend the championship to the utmost.

"I will have to move around more than I have been doing if I reach the finals," Miss Wills commented. She added that she "never felt better in my life" and plans an extensive program for the rest of the season.

Miss Wills said she would play in the singles at the Seabright tournament next week and might play in the mixed doubles.

"I want to play with Bud Chandler," she said. "I prefer California players."

Chandler is intercollegiate champion and was a class mate of Miss Wills at the University of California.

Miss Wills reached the semi-finals by her defeat of Mrs. Frederick Schmitz in a match that was easy for her, winning 6-2, 6-1.

Miss Browne qualified by a brilliant defeat of Molla Mallory in a hard fought match, 6-4, 6-4.

Maidstone Club, Easthampton, N. Y., July 31.—Miss Helen Wills, national tennis champion, entered the final round of the Maidstone invitation tournament here today, when she defeated Mrs. Edna Roeser, 6-3 and 9-7.

She will play Miss Mary K. Browne of California in the final round Sunday morning.

STANDINGS OF CLUBS

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	65	34	.657
Cleveland	56	44	.564
Philadelphia	51	48	.515
Detroit	52	40	.515
Chicago	51	49	.510
Washington	48	47	.505
St. Louis	41	58	.414
Boston	31	67	.316

Yesterday's Results
New York, 10; St. Louis, 8.
Cleveland, 4; Philadelphia, 1.
Boston, 4; Detroit, 3.
Chicago, 5; Washington, 4.

Games Today
New York at Chicago.
Philadelphia at Detroit.
Boston at Cleveland.
Washington at St. Louis.

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Pittsburgh	54	49	.574
Cincinnati	56	43	.566
St. Louis	53	44	.546
Chicago	50	47	.515
Brooklyn	50	49	.505
New York	46	49	.484
Philadelphia	38	56	.404
Boston	38	57	.400

Yesterday's Results
St. Louis, 5; New York, 2.
Brooklyn, 4; Chicago, 1.
Philadelphia, 6; Pittsburgh, 1.
Cincinnati at Boston, rain.

Games Today
St. Louis at New York, 2 games.
Chicago at Brooklyn.
Cincinnati at Boston, 2 games.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Louisville	66	36	.647
Milwaukee	64	37	.634
Indianapolis	63	40	.612
Toledo	50	48	.510
Kansas City	52	50	.510
St. Paul	46	58	.442
Minneapolis	43	59	.426
Columbus	24	78	.235

Yesterday's Results
Columbus, 10; Minneapolis, 5.
St. Paul, 12; Toledo, 8 (15 innings).
Louisville, 3; Milwaukee, 2.
Indianapolis, 7; Kansas City, 3.

Games Today
Minneapolis at Columbus.
St. Paul at Toledo.
Milwaukee at Louisville.
Kansas City at Indianapolis.

First Baseball Fatality
De Quoin, Ill.—The first baseball fatality of the season in Illinois occurred here yesterday when Marian Pinkham, 21, on the Christopher team, succumbed to injuries when he was struck by a ball pitched by O'Grady of the Carbondale nine.

NOVEL BASEBALL GAME AUGUST 4

TODAY'S GAMES

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION
St. Paul	000
Toledo	000
Batteries	— Mead and McCarthy;
Pfeiffer and Heving.
Minneapolis	111
Columbus	200
Batteries	— Hubbell and Buler; Sommers and Mueller.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
New York	00
Chicago	01
Batteries	— Jones and Severeid; Edwards and Schalk.
Philadelphia	01
Detroit	00
Batteries	— Quinn and Perkins; Wells and Woodall.
Boston	000
Cleveland	101
Batteries	— Harriss and Gaston;
Smith and L. Sewell.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
First game—	R. H. E.
St. Louis	201 000 000—6 12 1
New York	003 003 20x—8 13 3
Batteries	— Haines and O'Farrell;
Greenfield and McMullen.
Chicago	000 010
Brooklyn	200 000
Batteries	— Kaufmann and Gonzales;
Petty and Hargreaves.
Second game—	R. H. E.
Cincinnati	000 000 100—1 8 0
Boston	000 010 001—2 7 1
Batteries	— Rixey and Plcinich; Ben-
cy and J. Taylor.
Pittsburgh	101 2
Philadelphia	020 0
Batteries	— Yde and Gooch; Mitchell
and Wilson.
Second game—	R. H. E.
Cincinnati	000
Boston	011
Batteries	— Donohue and Hargreaves;
Goldsmith and J. Taylor.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
First game—	R. H. E.
St. Louis	201 000 000—6 12 1
New York	003 003 20x—8 13 3
Batteries	— Haines and O'Farrell;
Greenfield and McMullen.
Chicago	000 010
Brooklyn	200 000
Batteries	— Kaufmann and Gonzales;
Petty and Hargreaves.
Second game—	R. H. E.
Cincinnati	000 000 100—1 8 0
Boston	000 010 001—2 7 1
Batteries	— Rixey and Plcinich; Ben-
cy and J. Taylor.
Pittsburgh	101 2
Philadelphia	020 0
Batteries	— Yde and Gooch; Mitchell
and Wilson.
Second game—	R. H. E.
Cincinnati	000
Boston	011
Batteries	— Donohue and Hargreaves;
Goldsmith and J. Taylor.

SEALS WIN FIRST GAME OF HALF BY DOWNING Y.M.C.A.

RINGER HOLDS Y TO FIVE HITS, WINS HIS GAME 3 TO 1

LOSERS MAKE THREE DOUBLE PLAYS BUT CANNOT HIT WHEN NEEDED

Games Next Week
Monday—Seals vs. N. E.
Tuesday—Y.M.C.A. vs. B.A.C.
Thursday—Seals vs. B.A.C.
Friday—N.E. vs. Y.M.C.A.

The Seals won their first game of the second half last night by defeating the Y. M. C. A., first half champions. This was the first victory for the Seals in four starts this half. The score was 3 to 1.

The game was on a par with the other games played during the week, and finished one of the best weeks of the summer, as far as fast, clean and interesting baseball is concerned.

Ringer, taking up the pitching burden for the Seals, proved himself worthy of the job, holding his former mates to five safe hits, striking out five, and not issuing a single walk. Besides this, he hit a double and a single, scoring one run himself, and driving in another with his double. He had his fast ball working fine, fooling the Y on many occasions.

The Seals scored first, in the third inning, when with one out, Aro walked, and went to second on Fitzharris' infield out. Ringer singled, putting Aro on third, and Ringer stole second.

Both scored on Ziebell's long single to left center. Their other run came in the fifth, when Fitzharris was given a life on Engbretson's wild throw to first, which put Fitzharris on second. Ringer followed with his double to left center, scoring him.

The lone Y. M. C. A. tally came in the fourth, when Engbretson singled, with one out, went to second on Thompson's single. Brown forced Thompson at second, and on a double steal, Engbretson came home when the throw-back to the plate was late.

The Y. M. C. A. contributed three double plays to check rallies, but their work in the field could not offset their lack of work at the bat.

The box score:
Y. M. C. A. Ab r h po a e
Anderson, 2b.....3 0 1 3 4 0
Bernard, lf.....3 0 0 1 0 0
Hanson, 1b.....3 0 0 9 0 0
Dillon, c.....3 0 1 6 0 0
Engbretson, ss.....3 1 1 0 3 2
J. Thompson, 3b.....3 0 1 0 1 1
Brown, cf.....3 0 0 1 0 0
L. Thompson, rf.....3 0 1 1 0 0
Sandgren, p.....3 0 0 0 3 0

Totals27 1 5 21 11 3

Seals Ab r h po a e
Fitzharris, 3b.....4 1 0 0 2 0
White Sox, 1b.....3 1 2 0 2 0
Ringer, p.....3 1 2 0 2 0

JACK DELANEY, PERFECT FIGHTING MACHINE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, July 31.—Jack Delaney is the light-heavyweight champion of the world and the most perfect fighting machine of his weight that ever lived because he had faith in himself and found a friend who believed in him.

Bob Fitzsimmons was a more spectacular fighter and his world's heavy-weight championship is more than Delaney has achieved so far in his up-and-down career, but even the fondest admirers of Fitzsimmons will not deny that the present light-heavyweight champion is a more perfect all-around fighter.

No fighter that ever lived had more courage than Delaney and more faith in himself. There were the Nelsons, the Jeffries, and those who knew no fear in the ring, but there are none to compare with Delaney for the courage he exhibited in overcoming misfortunes that would have wrecked the patience and determination of a weaker hearted fighter.

Jack Delaney would be on the refuse heap of pugilism today and probably would be drawing his weekly pay envelope as a mechanic if he didn't believe that luck would turn some time and if he didn't have back of him, Pete Reilly, a friend who believed as he believed.

Three years ago, Reilly bought Delaney's contract for $900 from a manager who was convinced that the boxer was through and who figured he was getting a fancy price for a contract that meant little to him.

Today Delaney is probably worth $250,000, and Reilly's share of the firm's profits must have been at least $100,000 and they are just now in the big money.

Delaney had a right hand that would crumble against the body of an insect when Reilly took charge of his business affairs. He put Delaney under the care of the most skilled surgeon in New York, Dr. Frallick, and a miracle of surgery was performed.

The surgeon straightened out the bones in the bad right hand and built a new third joint knuckle on the second finger which has held up under the heaviest pressure.

This great turn in fortune was followed by more hard luck. Just after he had surprised the boxing world and elevated himself to a commanding position in his class by knocking out Paul Berlenbach, Delaney picked a little pimple on his arm and blood poisoning developed. He escaped without an amputation but he nearly lost his life when the poison spread through his system.

Doctors told him that it would be at least a year before he would recover his vitality but he fought himself back into condition and courageously granted Berlenbach a return bout.

He trained himself into good condition but a week before the fight he cut a deep gash under his knee while chopping wood. Instead of asking for a postponement he tried to keep the accident a secret and went into the fight practically on one leg. He lost the decision to Berlenbach that many thought should have been a draw.

He asked for a return bout and Berlenbach, who is one of the few real first class fighters, returned the favor by giving him a chance at the title and Delaney won the championship by a margin so wide that no one could question it.

Even Berlenbach, the defeated, said after Delaney's arm had been raised by the referee—"You won, Jack, good luck to you."

Although the jinx that nearly wrecked him for years seems to have been broken, the championship may not bring to Delaney the good fortune that it should.

He will make plenty of money as the light-heavyweight champion but he will not make as much as he would have if there were more good men in the class.

Berlenbach made most of his big money by fighting Delaney and Delaney now has no such a drawing card to draw the crowds.

Berlenbach may change his mind and remain in the 175-pound class for a time but this is to be doubted. He can make much more fighting in the heavyweight class where he will not be annoyed by boxing commissions or weakened by the necessity of making weight.

Delaney on the other hand, unless the commission takes one of its back-drops, will not be permitted to fight heavyweights and he will not have much fun or profit fighting Mike McTigue, Tommy Loughran or the others that might be classed as challengers.

Delaney's weight, which is naturally about 168 pounds, is also against him. He is too heavy for the middleweight class and although he can hold his own as a light-heavyweight he hardly can hope to build himself up to a heavyweight where the real money is. Berlenbach perhaps will grow into a 180 or 185 pounder and may prove a serious contender for the heavyweight championship.

Fitzsimmons won the heavyweight championship as a light-heavyweight, and Delaney might be able to do the same thing but if he does it will be the result of his courageous heart more than a stout body.

Ziebell, cf.....3	0	2	2	0	0
Ware, ss.....2	0	0	0	0	1
Olsen, c.....3	0	1	7	1	0
Marshall, 2b.....3	0	0	3	3	1
Larson, 1b.....3	0	0	8	1	0
Fogelstrom, rf.....3	0	1	0	0	1
Aro, lf.....2	1	0	1	0	0
Totals	26	3	6	21	9

Summary—Two-base hits: Anderson, Ringer. Struck out: by Sandgren, 4; by Ringer, 5. Bases on balls: off Sandgren, 2. Double plays: Engbretson to Anderson to Hanson (2), Sandgren to Anderson to Hanson.

Umpire—Buffalo.
Score by innings:
Seals002 010 0—3
Y. M. C. A.000 100 0—1

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
N. E.	4	1	.800
B. A. C.	2	1	.667
Y. M. C. A.	1	3	.250
Seals	1	3	.250

Watching the Scoreboard
Yesterday's Hero—Babe Ruth slammed out his 32nd homer in the third, helping the Yankees win 10 to 8 from the St. Louis Browns in 11 innings.

Although Zahner, on the mound for Boston, was harder hit than Whitehill, for the Detroit Tigers, the Red Sox won, 4 to 3, in the final game of the series.

Joe Shaute, pitching almost airtight ball, won 4 to 1 for the Cleveland Indians against Philadelphia. The Athletics did their only scoring in the sixth on a double and a single.

With the bases loaded in the ninth, Eddie Collins, manager of the Chicago White Sox, knocked in the winning Ringer, p.....3 1 2 0 2 0

PRISON TEAM IS PICKED FROM 3,200 MEN, 21 NATIONS

PLAYERS WORK TO WIN GAMES, WINNING 60 PER CENT ASSURES BONUS

NO. 3156 PLAYS THIRD BASE TO FORGET FORMER SWEET-HEART

The team coming to Brainerd next Wednesday, August 4, from the Joliet, Ill., state prison is a group of players chosen from a total of 3200 men at the institution. The variety of human nature represented in these 3200 men is represented in cross-section in the members of the baseball team. They represent a large part also of the 21 different nationalities at the place.

The players have an added incentive to win 60 per cent of their games. Otherwise they are given their expenses only. That they make their bonuses is indicated in their record of this year, having won 72 out of the last 100.

The third baseman of the team, No. 3156, will be seen next year in the uniform of an American Association team. His home is in Arizona. He first saw the light of day on a cattle ranch, 134 miles from any town. When he was 16 years of age, his father took him to town to show him one of the most thrilling sights of civilization, a railroad train. Immediately he was possessed of a great desire to travel, and soon after he ran away from home, friends and sweetheart. He was attracted to the big cities, and soon he was taking in the sights of Chicago.

It seems that No. 3156 fell in love with a charming blonde, who after a promise of marriage, informed him that her mother would surely die of some dread disease unless the sum of $1,200 could be raised at once. Of course our gallant knight gave his promised bride-to-be all the money he had, and she disappeared. His love turned to hate, and he spent the next two years tracing her, and now he is spending time trying to forget what happened then. His experience has made a man of him, and in prison he found that he could play baseball. He has the makings of a star.

Just lately he sent a small package containing a diamond ring to his boyhood sweetheart, and the managers of the team say they believe the couple will be standing before the preacher in the fall of 1927, after his first season in the American Association.

The game on Wednesday will bring out the classiest playing seen in Brainerd for years, and the added interest of these prison players playing before representatives of the society for the violation of whose laws they are now paying the penalty will be sure to attract the ardent baseball fans in this city. The game is a week-day game, starting at 5 P. M. on Wednesday.

SPORT TABLOIDS

Miss Collett Defeats Miss Orcutt
Eastern Point, Conn.—Miss Glenna Collett, national woman's golf champion, defeated Miss Maureen Orcutt, open champion, on the 18th green in a closely contested match here yesterday in the finals of Shennecossett Country club tournament.

Rosenberg Wins from Midget Smith
Cleveland—Charley (Phil) Rosenberg, bantamweight champion, won from Midget Smith of Chicago on a foul in the fifth round of their bout here last night.

Slaterry Knocks Out Britton
Albany, N. Y.—Jimmy Slaterry, Buffalo light heavyweight, knocked out Billy Britton of Kansas City in one minute and nine seconds. It was a short right hook to the jaw.

Loughran Takes Decision from Risko
Boston—Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia, took the decision from Johnny Risko, Cleveland, in a dull 10 round bout last night.

La Barba to Fight Paulos
Chicago—Fidel La Barba, world's flyweight boxing champion, has signed to fight Emil Paulos in Chicago August 13. Charley (Phil) Rosenberg, bantamweight king, will be on the same card, fighting Joey Sangor of Milwaukee.

Brady Wants to Put Up Half Million Purse
Chicago—W. A. Brady, New York theatrical producer, in Chicago to produce a new drama, says he is prepared to put up a purse of $500,000 for a Jack Delaney-Harry Wills heavy-weight boxing bout in Chicago.

There'll be no hot time in the old town to-night-----

Not in cool Pajamas we are showing. Pajamas that open more windows in your room and give you 8 hours of refreshing repose.

Not in these big film like gowns that contradict the expression that "one good turn deserves another."

You can sleep better tonight if you want to—

Here are the tickets to Dreamland.

The Pajamas-----$1.50 to $3.00

The Night Robes-----$1.50 to $2.00

Silk Hose—plaids and stripes

Palm Beach Suits $9.50 to $15.00

John M. Bye Clothing Co.

CLASSIFIED ADS TURN THIS WAY

When in a hurry use a
Want Ad for Results

When time is short and there's lots to be done—that's when you'll appreciate the wonderful results of a Dispatch Want Ad.

Whatever is on your mind, try a Want Ad for relief.

THE DAILY DISPATCH
Telephone 74

Additional Sports on Page 8

HELEN WILLS IS WINNING BACK HER FORM

SAYS SHE HAS NEVER FELT BETTER IN HER LIFE

WILL PLAY IN TENNIS SINGLES AT SEABRIGHT TOURNAMENT

MAY ALSO PLAY IN THE MIXED DOUBLES, SHE SAID

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent) Easthampton, N. Y., July 31. — Helen Wills, national champion, who is winning into her old form after her operation, will meet Mrs. E. H. Roeser of New York in the semi-final round of the Maidstone Tennis club's annual invitation tourney this afternoon.

If she defeats Mrs. Roeser, Miss Wills will meet Mary K. Browne of California in the finals tomorrow, a match calculated to extend the champion to the utmost.

"I will have to move around more than I have been doing if I reach the finals," Miss Wills commented. She added that she "never felt better in my life" and plans an extensive program for the rest of the season.

Miss Wills said she would play in the singles at the Seabright tournament next week and might play in the mixed doubles.

"I want to play with Bud Chandler," she said. "I prefer California players."

Chandler is intercollegiate champion and was a class mate of Miss Wills at the University of California.

Miss Wills reached the semi-finals by her defeat of Mrs. Frederick Schmitz in a match that was easy for her, winning 6-2, 6-1.

Miss Browne qualified by a brilliant defeat of Molla Mallory in a hard fought match, 6-4, 6-4.

Maidstone Club, Easthampton, N. Y., July 31.—Miss Helen Wills, national tennis champion, entered the final round of the Maidstone invitation tournament here today, when she defeated Mrs. Edna Roeser, 6-3 and 9-7.

She will play Miss Mary K. Browne of California in the final round Sunday morning.

STANDINGS OF CLUBS

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Team—	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	65	34	.657
Cleveland	56	44	.564
Philadelphia	51	48	.515
Detroit	52	40	.515
Chicago	51	49	.510
Washington	48	47	.505
St. Louis	41	58	.414
Boston	31	67	.316

Yesterday's Results
New York, 10; St. Louis, 8.
Cleveland, 4; Philadelphia, 1.
Boston, 4; Detroit, 3.
Chicago, 5; Washington, 4.

Games Today
New York at Chicago.
Philadelphia at Detroit.
Boston at Cleveland.
Washington at St. Louis.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Team—	W.	L.	Pct.
Pittsburgh	54	49	.524
Cincinnati	56	43	.566
St. Louis	53	44	.546
Chicago	50	47	.515
Brooklyn	50	49	.505
New York	46	49	.484
Philadelphia	38	56	.404
Boston	38	57	.400

Yesterday's Results
St. Louis, 5; New York, 2.
Brooklyn, 4; Chicago, 1.
Philadelphia, 6; Pittsburgh, 1.
Cincinnati at Boston, rain.

Games Today
St. Louis at New York, 2 games.
Chicago at Brooklyn.
Cincinnati at Boston, 2 games.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION
Team—	W.	L.	Pct.
Louisville	66	36	.647
Milwaukee	64	37	.634
Indianapolis	63	40	.612
Toledo	50	48	.510
Kansas City	52	52	.500
St. Paul	46	58	.442
Minneapolis	43	59	.426
Columbus	24	78	.235

Yesterday's Results
Columbus, 10; Minneapolis, 5.
St. Paul, 12; Toledo, 8 (15 innings).
Louisville, 3; Milwaukee, 2.
Indianapolis, 7; Kansas City, 3.

Games Today
Minneapolis at Columbus.
St. Paul at Toledo.
Milwaukee at Louisville.
Kansas City at Indianapolis.

First Baseball Fatality

De Quoin, Ill.—The first baseball fatality of the season in Illinois occurred here yesterday when Marian Pinkham, 21, on the Christopher team, succumbed to injuries when he was struck by a ball pitched by O'Grady of the Carbondale nine.

NOVEL BASEBALL GAME AUGUST 4

TODAY'S GAMES

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION
St. Paul	000
Toledo	000
Batteries—Mead and McCarthy; Pfeiffer and Heving.
Minneapolis	111
Columbus	200
Batteries—Hubbell and Buler; Sommers and Mueller.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
New York	00
Chicago	01
Batteries—Jones and Severoid; Edwards and Schaak.
Philadelphia	01
Detroit	00
Batteries—Quinn and Perkins; Wells and Woodall.
Boston	000
Cleveland	101
Batteries—Harriss and Gaston; Smith and L. Sewell.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
First game—	R. H. E.
St. Louis	204 000 000—6 12 1
New York	003 003 20x—8 13 3
Batteries—Haines and O'Farrell; Greenfield and McMullen.
Chicago	000 010
Brooklyn	200 000
Batteries—Kaufmann and Gonzales; Petty and Hargreaves.
First game—	R. H. E.
Cincinnati	000 000 100—1 8 0
Boston	000 010 001—2 7 1
Batteries—Rixey and Pleinich; Ben-A and J. Taylor.
Pittsburgh	101 2
Philadelphia	020 0
Batteries—Yde and Gooch; Mitchell and Wilson.
Second game—
Cincinnati	000
Boston	011
Batteries—Donohue and Hargreaves; Goldsmith and J. Taylor.

SEALS WIN FIRST GAME OF HALF BY DOWNING Y.M.C.A.

RINGER HOLDS Y TO FIVE HITS, WINS HIS GAME 3 TO 1

LOSERS MAKE THREE DOUBLE PLAYS BUT CANNOT HIT WHEN NEEDED

Games Next Week
Monday—Seals vs. N. E.
Tuesday—Y.M.C.A. vs. B.A.C.
Thursday—Seals vs. B.A.C.
Friday—N.E. vs. Y.M.C.A.

The Seals won their first game of the second half last night by defeating the Y. M. C. A., first half champions. This was the first victory for the Seals in four starts this half. The score was 3 to 1.

The game was on a par with the other games played during the week, and finished one of the best weeks of the summer, as far as fast, clean and interesting baseball is concerned.

Ringer, taking up the pitching burden for the Seals, proved himself worthy of the job, holding his former mates to five safe hits, striking out five, and not issuing a single walk. Besides this, he hit a double and a single, scoring one run himself, and driving in another with his double. He had his fast ball working fine, fooling the Y on many occasions.

The Seals scored first, in the third inning, when with one out, Aro walked, and went to second on Fitzharris' infield out. Ringer singled, putting Aro on third, and Ringer stole second. Both scored on Ziebell's long single to left center. Their other run came in the fifth, when Fitzharris was given a life on Engbretson's wild throw to first, which put Fitzharris on second. Ringer followed with his double to left center, scoring him.

The lone Y. M. C. A. tally came in the fourth, when Engbretson singled, with one out, went to second on Thompson's single. Brown forced Thompson at second, and on a double steal, Engbretson came home when the throw-back to the plate was late.

The Y. M. C. A. contributed three double plays to check rallies, but their work in the field could not offset their lack of work at the bat.

The box score:
Y. M. C. A.	Ab r h po a e
Anderson, 2b.	3 0 1 3 4 0
Bernard, lf.	3 0 0 1 0 0
Hanson, 1b.	3 0 0 9 0 0
Dillian, c.	3 0 1 6 0 0
Engbretson, ss.	3 1 1 0 3 2
J. Thompson, 3b.	3 0 1 0 1 1
Brown, cf.	3 0 0 1 0 0
L. Thompson, rf.	3 0 1 1 0 0
Sandgren, p.	3 0 0 0 3 0
Totals	27 1 5 21 11 3

Seals
Fitzharris, 3b.	4 1 0 0 2 0
Ringer, p.	3 1 2 0 2 0

JACK DELANEY, PERFECT FIGHTING MACHINE

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor)
New York, July 31.—Jack Delaney is the light-heavyweight champion of the world and the most perfect fighting machine of his weight that ever lived because he had faith in himself and found a friend who believed in him.

Bob Fitzsimmons was a more spectacular fighter and his world's heavy-weight championship is more than pay Delaney has achieved so far in his up-and-down career, but even the fondest admirers of Fitzsimmons will not deny that the present light-heavyweight champion is a more perfect all-around fighter.

No fighter that ever lived had more courage than Delaney and more faith in himself. There were the Nelsons, the Jeffries, and those who knew no fear in the ring, but there are none to compare with Delaney for the courage he exhibited in overcoming misfortunes that would have wrecked the patience and determination of a weaker hearted fighter.

Jack Delaney would be on the refuse heap of pugilism today and probably would be drawing his weekly pay envelope as a mechanic if he didn't believe that luck would turn some time and if he didn't have back of him, Pete Reilly, a friend who believed as he believed.

Three years ago, Reilly bought Delaney's contract for $900 from a manager who was convinced that the boxer was through and who figured he was getting a fancy price for a contract that meant little to him.

Today Delaney is probably worth $250,000, and Reilly's share of the firm's profits must have been at least $100,000 and they are just now in the big money.

Delaney had a right hand that would crumble against the body of an insect when Reilly took charge of his business affairs. He put Delaney under the care of the most skilled surgeon in New York, Dr. Fralick, and a miracle of surgery was performed.

The surgeon straightened out the bones in the bad right hand and built a new third joint knuckle on the second finger which has held up under the heaviest pressure.

This great turn in fortune was followed by more hard luck.

Just after he had surprised the boxing world and elevated himself to a commanding position in his class by knocking out Paul Berlenbach, Delaney picked a little pimple on his arm and blood poisoning developed. He escaped without an amputation but he nearly lost his life when the poison spread through his system.

Doctors told him that it would be at least a year before he would recover his vitality but he fought himself back into condition and courageously granted Berlenbach a return bout.

He trained himself into good condition but a week before the fight he cut a deep gash under his knee while chopping wood. Instead of asking for a postponement he tried to keep the accident a secret and went into the fight practically on one leg. He lost the decision to Berlenbach that many thought should have been a draw.

He asked for a return bout and Berlenbach, who is one of the few real first class fighters, returned the favor by giving him a chance at the title and Delaney won the championship by a margin so wide that no one could question it.

Even Berlenbach, the defeated, said after Delaney's arm had been raised by the referee—"You won, Jack, good luck to you."

Although the jinx that nearly wrecked him for years seems to have been broken, the championship may not bring to Delaney the good fortune that it should.

He will make plenty of money as the light-heavyweight champion but he will not make as much as he would have if there were more good men in the class. Berlenbach made most of his big money by fighting Delaney and Delaney now has no such a drawing card to draw the crowds.

Berlenbach may change his mind and remain in the 175-pound class for a time but this is to be doubted. He can make much more fighting in the heavyweight class where he will not be annoyed by boxing commissions or weakened by the necessity of making weight.

Delaney on the other hand, unless the commission takes one of its backflips, will not be permitted to fight heavyweights and he will not have much fun or profit fighting Mike McTigue, Tommy Loughran or the others that might be classed as challengers.

Delaney's weight, which is naturally about 168 pounds, is also against him. He is too heavy for the middleweight class and although he can hold his own as a light-heavyweight he hardly can hope to build himself up to a heavyweight where the real money is. Berlenbach perhaps will grow into a 180 or 185 pounder and may prove a serious contender for the heavyweight championship.

Fitzsimmons won the heavyweight championship as a light-heavyweight, and Delaney might be able to do the same thing but if he does it will be the result of his courageous heart more than a stout body.

Ziebell, cf.	3	0	2	2	0	0
Ware, ss.	2	0	0	0	0	1
Olsen, c.	3	0	1	7	1	0
Marshall, 2b.	3	0	0	3	3	1
Larson, 1b.	3	0	0	8	1	0
Fogelstrom, rf.	3	0	1	0	0	1
Aro, lf.	2	1	0	1	0	0
Totals	26	3	6	21	9	3

Summary—Two-base hits: Anderson, Ringer. Struck out: by Sandgren, 4; by Ringer, 5. Bases on balls: off Sandgren, 2. Double plays: Engbretson to Anderson to Hanson (2), Sandgren to Anderson to Hanson.

Umpire—Buffalo.
Score by innings:
Seals.....002 010 0—3
Y. M. C. A.....000 100 0—1

Standings of teams:
Team	W. L. Pct.
N. E.	4 1 .800
B. A. C.	2 1 .667
Y. M. C. A.	1 3 .250
Seals	1 3 .250

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's Hero—Babe Ruth slammed out his 32nd homer in the third, helping the Yankees win 10 to 8 from the St. Louis Browns in 11 innings.

Although Zahner, on the mound for Boston, was harder hit than Whitehill, for the Detroit Tigers, the Red Sox won, 4 to 3, in the final game of the series.

Joe Shaute, pitching almost airtight ball, won 4 to 1 for the Cleveland Indians against Philadelphia. The Athletics did their only scoring in the sixth on a double and a single.

With the bases loaded in the ninth, Eddie Collins, manager of the Chicago White Sox, knocked in the winning run with a single and his employees

PRISON TEAM IS PICKED FROM 3,200 MEN, 21 NATIONS

PLAYERS WORK TO WIN GAMES, WINNING 60 PER CENT ASSURES BONUS

NO. 3156 PLAYS THIRD BASE TO FORGET FORMER SWEET-HEART

The team coming to Brainerd next Wednesday, August 4, from the Joliet, Ill., state prison is a group of players chosen from a total of 3200 men at the institution. The variety of human nature represented in these 3200 men is represented in cross-section in the members of the baseball team. They represent a large part also of the 21 different nationalities at the place.

The players have an added incentive to win 60 per cent of their games. Otherwise they are given their expenses only. That they make their bonuses is indicated in their record of this year, having won 72 out of the last 100.

The third baseman of the team, No. 3156, will be seen next year in the uniform of an American Association team. His home is in Arizona. He first saw the light of day on a cattle ranch, 134 miles from any town. When he was 16 years of age, his father took him to town to show him one of the most thrilling sights of civilization, a railroad train. Immediately he was possessed of a great desire to travel, and soon after he ran away from home, friends and sweetheart. He was attracted to the big cities, and soon he was taking in the sights of Chicago.

It seems that No. 3156 fell in love with a charming blonde, who after a promise of marriage, informed him that her mother would surely die of some dread disease unless the sum of $1,200 could be raised at once. Of course our gallant knight gave his promised bride-to-be all the money he had, and she disappeared. His love turned to hate, and he spent the next two years tracing her, and now he is spending time trying to forget what happened then. His experience has made a man of him, and in prison he found that he could play baseball. He has the makings of a star. Just lately he sent a small package containing a diamond ring to his boyhood sweetheart, and the managers of the team say they believe the couple will be standing before the preacher in the fall of 1927, after his first season in the American Association.

The game on Wednesday will bring out the classiest playing seen in Brainerd for years, and the added interest of these prison players playing before representatives of the society for the violation of whose laws they are now paying the penalty will be sure to attract the ardent baseball fans in this city. The game is a week-day game, starting at 5 P. M. on Wednesday.

SPORT TABLOIDS

Miss Collett Defeats Miss Orcutt

Eastern Point, Conn.—Miss Glenna Collett, national woman's golf champion, defeated Miss Maureen Orcutt, open champion, on the 18th green in a closely contested match here yesterday in the finals of Shennecossett Country club tournament.

Rosenberg Wins from Midget Smith

Cleveland—Charley (Phil) Rosenberg, bantamweight champion, won from Midget Smith of Chicago on a foul in the fifth round of their bout here last night.

Slattery Knocks Out Britton

Albany, N. Y.—Jimmy Slattery, Buffalo light heavyweight, knocked out Billy Britton of Kansas City in one minute and nine seconds. It was a short right hook to the jaw.

Loughran Takes Decision from Risko

Boston—Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia, took the decision from Johnny Risko, Cleveland, in a dull 10 round bout last night.

La Barba to Fight Paulos

Chicago—Fidel La Barba, world's flyweight boxing champion, has signed to fight Emil Paulos in Chicago August 13. Charley (Phil) Rosenberg, bantamweight king, will be on the same card, fighting Joey Sangor of Milwaukee.

Brady Wants to Put Up Half Million Purse

Chicago—W. A. Brady, New York theatrical producer, in Chicago to produce a new drama, says he is prepared to put up a purse of $500,000 for a Jack Delaney-Harry Wills heavy-weight boxing bout in Chicago.

There'll be no hot time in the old town to-night-----

Not in cool Pajamas we are showing. Pajamas that open more windows in your room and give you 8 hours of refreshing repose.

Not in these big film like gowns that contradict the expression that "one good turn deserves another."

You can sleep better tonight if you want to—

Here are the tickets to Dreamland.

- The Pajamas-----$1.50 to $3.00
- The Night Robes-----$1.50 to $2.00
- Silk Hose—plaids and stripes
- Palm Beach Suits $9.50 to $15.00

John M. Bye Clothing Co.

CLASSIFIED ADS TURN THIS WAY

When in a hurry use a Want Ad for Results

When time is short and there's lots to be done—that's when you'll appreciate the wonderful results of a Dispatch Want Ad.

Whatever is on your mind, try a Want Ad for relief.

Additional Sports on Page 8

TOURIST CAMP PROVE POPULAR

About 1,700 Cars Registered to Date
This Season With About
6,000 People

TOURISTS PRAISE LAKES

Canadian Party on 8,000 Mile Trip
Delighted With Our
Lake Region

The tourist camp is proving to be as popular as ever this year. The grounds are being kept in excellent condition and according to H. E. Smith, the caretaker during the day, about 1,700 cars have registered with about 6,000 people comprising the tourist parties.

Tourists are loud in their praise of the 10,000 lakes territory and interviews with those coming from Kansas City, Lincoln and other places show that some have been coming back year after year and others say this is their first visit but not the last.

One tourist party from Saskatchewan motored to Montreal down the East coast to New York taking in all the Eastern coast states and are now making a return trip back through Minnesota and Iowa the entire journey so far having amounted to 8,000 miles. They were so pleased with our lake region that they remained several days and claimed to have found the most ideal conditions, country and climate in our state. They still have 1,500 miles to travel before their journey is completed.

The following is a list of some of the registered tourists from July 26-29:

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Salsburg, Waterloo, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sturges, Owatonna; Ina Norton, St. Paul; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Galle, Milroy; Syd Harvey, Des Moines; Elmer Malchou, Biscay, Minn.; R. O. Malchow, Contour, Sask.; A. A. Malchow, Biscay; Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Koehn, Milwaukee; C. R. Butler, Milwaukee; H. J. Carr, Kansas City; F. H. Graves, Madrid, Ia.; Y. S. Gray, Winnipeg; H. L. Gate and mother, Minneapolis; Jasper Jobe and mother, Aberdeen, S. D.; Mr. and Mrs. Pepper, Winnipeg; H. C. Lusty, Moline; Mr. and Mrs. C. Leonard, St. Paul; Erick Bereteph, Minneapolis; L. J. Gintner, Mason City; Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Eveleth; F. Jule, Winona; Mr. and Mrs. Pierce and daughter, Fulton, S. D.; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Gray, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. H. Schuman, St. Paul; Hans Olson, Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Haggard, Northfield; Walter Stenning, Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis, Ossage, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Perkins, Minneapolis; C. S. Martin, Kansas City, Mo.; A. J. Rettinger, Winnifred, Can.; W. J. Assmusen, Oakland, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Galle, Melroy, Minn.; George Pfeiffer, Canada; P. E. Berggren, Marshalltown, Ia.; S. B. King, Onamia; W. M. Pepper, Winnipeg; G. Robertson, Dazey, N. D.; Gerena Anderson, Carl A. Anderson, Red Oak; T. Parrish, Herman; Louis Hiltz, Reville; Chas. Peterson, Moorhead; Elmer Walstrom, Fergus Falls; Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Stuart, Minneapolis; I. Goodimer, Terra Bella, Calif.; R. J. Sharpe and family, Chisholm; S. P. Hall, Albert Lea; C. C. Larson, Waterloo, Ia.; W. L. McCool, Rouse, Neb.; G. H. Groom, Winnipeg; H. W. Wendt and family, St. Paul; P. O. Fletcher, Linden Hills, Minneapolis; A. R. Frankburg and family, Fergus Falls; D. Prentiss, Fergus Falls; R. E. Mosley, family and sister, Red Wing; G. D. Newcome, Des Moines; B. Brode, Minneapolis; N. Lindblom, Kansas City; E. Cook, Winnipeg; J. F. Hardin and family, Omaha; O. W. Mullen, Minneapolis; Geo. S. Barker, Junction City, Kas.; Gilman Halvorson, Fergus Falls; Aug. Johnson, Omaha; F. F. Farrar, Mason City; H. F. Ackerman, Worthington; J. Nichols and wife, Minneapolis; Otto Eastman, wife and daughter, Minneapolis; Walter Cobban, Shore Acres; Miss Janet McWilliam, Washington, D. C.; Alta K. Anderson, Milaca; F. G. Tease, Winnipeg; G. S. Erenson, Sioux Falls; A. F. Schulz, Fairmont; R. J. Webb, Spooner; A. M. Peterson, Minneapolis; Jack Pollock, Brule; G. A. Bonnell, Des Moines; E. M. Greysa, Eldon; Mr. and Mrs. Dexter, St. Paul; Mabel Doran, A. Thompson, Mary McCallister, Bemidji; J. B. Johnson, Young America; R. W. Buttuff, Sioux Falls; Floyd J. Martin, Owatonna; Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Gray, Winnipeg; J. E. Gray, Winnipeg; Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Dunlap, Winnipeg; W. D. Graham, Hancock, Mo.; C. A. Russell, Minneapolis; T. L. O'Keefe, St. Cloud; Helen Peterson, Lydia Anderson, Minneapolis; A. R. Apatt, St. Paul.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Anna Voss, who died one day ago today, August 1, 1925. Peaceful be thy sleep dear mother, may thy soul for ever rest. Though it is hard to be without you, God on high, no doubt, knows best.

Sadly missed by
MR. JULIUS VOSS,
and family.

TENNIS COURT DANCE

Another to be Given When Municipal Band Plays at Gregory Park

Another tennis court dance will be given at the next Municipal band concert at Gregory park on Wednesday night, August 11. The first dance drew a good attendance and it is hoped that the next one will be as well patronized. Music will again be furnished by the Municipal band under the direction of W. R. Hiller.

THE NEW BUICK

Now on Display at Imgrund Auto Co. Many New Features

The new Buicks for 1927 are now on display in the showroom of Imgrund Auto Co., local Buick dealer. There are sixteen body styles, mounted on chassis lengths of 114 1/2, 120 and 128 inches. The line is made up of four sport type open cars and twelve closed cars.

According to J. T. Imgrund, the Buick engineering department has developed a chassis which is built around Buick features of the past, but with additional improvements which are in most cases entirely new in the industry.

"The problem of period vibration has been solved in the new Buick," Mr. Imgrund said. "This is accomplished by a counter-balanced, four bearing crankshaft in combination with light, cast iron pistons, a heavy flywheel and an exclusive Buick creation called the torsion balancer. Counter-weights are used to keep the crankshaft from deflecting. They also balance the shaft so perfectly that there is no high bearing pressure or whipping out of line, which are the main causes of engine rumble, noise and roughness.

Any crankshaft, no matter how scientifically worked out, has periods of torsional vibration. The torsion balancer absorbs the tendency of the shaft to twist under the power impulses, and delivers those impulses back to the shaft after the piston forces are spent.

"It will be necessary to completely change the oil in the new Buicks only four times a year. This is accomplished by a vacuum ventilator without moving parts, an air cleaner and oil filter which keep all abrasives out of the oil, and with the help of thermostatic temperature control.

Objectional noises have been entirely eliminated in the 1927 Buicks by correcting the causes. The engine is unusually quiet because of perfect balance and lack of period vibration. This silence is enhanced by new valve springs which minimize noise from this source. There is a newly designed muffler and exhaust system which is very quiet.

"Transmission and gear noises have been reduced by use of new giant teeth and by an improved mounting of the transmission case to the engine.

"The engine is mounted at all three points of suspension in rubber. This insulates the body from the engine. There is a remarkable freedom from closed car rumble as a result. Silence has been developed to a high point throughout the car, in fact.

Custom body design and finish is found throughout the line. Every closed car is upholstered in mohair, with broadcloth optional in some models. Open cars are upholstered in genuine leather. Hardware is of new design. A dash temperature indicator and dash gasoline gauge are included in the equipment of several models. Color combinations are in Duco. Many are in two tone shades.

"The rear decks of roadster and coupe models are designed to give a streamline effect.

"The color of the body is carried out in the window recesses of the closed cars, in order to bring the color scheme in closer harmony. The tires and rims are jet black."

NOTICE

The Evergreen Cemetery Association will receive bids up to August 15th, 1926, for the purchase of the dwelling, barn and shed known as the Olson property and located on the cemetery grounds. Purchaser to remove buildings by September 1st. Address bids to G. W. Chadbourn, secretary, Brainerd, Minn. 49tf

Dice Used in Old Greece

Dice were known in ancient Greece, and their invention is attributed by some to Palamedes in the Thirteenth century, B. C. The dice exhumed from Trobes differ in no way from the ivory or bone cubes of today. They had spots ranging from one to six on them and the sum of the spots on the two opposite sides was always seven.

Annual Trail

Intelligence tests are given students during the year, but at the end the school heads fall back upon just plain old examinations. — Winston-Salem Journal.

GARAGE FIRE LOSS

Property of Mrs. Verkennes, 214 Front Street, Destroyed This Morning

A small garage owned by Mrs. Verkennes on her property at 214 Front street was destroyed by fire at 1:25 this morning. The fire department was called but were unable to save the car owned by a Mr. Olson and two small dogs that were in the building at the time. The building is a total loss.

On July 28 the department was called to save a car on Oak street that had been ignited by wires around the engine, and were successful in putting out the flames before much damage was done. The car was owned by Father Helleg.

N. P. TEAM BRINGS CARNIVAL TO TOWN

Blue Ribbon Mid-Summer Festival to Show Here All Next Week, August 2 to 7

HAS MANY SIDE SHOWS

Brainerd Post-Call Team to Share in Receipts of Carnival as Aid for Baseball

The Blue Ribbon carnival, which comes to Brainerd for a Mid-Summer Festival showing all of next week, has earned a reputation wherever they have been showing of being one of the highest type of street carnival, entirely within the law. They come to Brainerd on Monday for a week's engagement, under the auspices of the Brainerd N. P. city baseball team.

The baseball team will share in the receipts of the carnival to help them in their baseball for the summer. The team has brought a number of costly teams to the city for games, and the gate receipts have barely paid the main expenses, leaving many necessary side expenses to be taken care of in other ways. The team hopes to secure an amount from the showing of the carnival sufficient to make their season a success financially.

The shows which come here next week contain several side shows and riding devices, and will undoubtedly prove an attraction for all ages of the city.

CROP OUTLOOK IN KANDIYOHI COUNTY DISMAL

Willmar, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—With grain harvesting on many farms ended today, farmers declared that the crop outlook in Kandiyohi county was not bright and predicted that the average yield will be one-half of normal. The drought during most of the growing season and the extensive damage caused by the green bug are responsible for the decrease in yield.

BURNS FROM BLAZING KEROSENE KILLED BOY

Graceville, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—Burns suffered when blazing kerosene that was being used to kill potato bugs ignited his clothing caused the death of Eugene Curley, aged 5 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Curley, of Collins. The boy was brought to the hospital here and died the following day.

TRIAL OF PREACHER WHO SLEW LUMBERMAN TO START SEPT. 11

San Diego, Calif., July 31.—(UP)—Trial of Rev. J. Frank Norris, Fort Worth pastor, who shot and killed D. E. Chippis, wealthy lumberman, in Norris' study two weeks ago, will start Sept. 11, D. E. Hangar, district attorney of Fort Worth, announced here today. Hangar is here at the bedside of his father-in-law, who is in a serious condition. Norris claimed self defense.

USED AN OLD REVOLVER TO KILL SELF ON FARM

Alexandria, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—A revolver that he purchased at the time of his marriage eleven years ago was used by Christ Stahl, aged 63, a carpenter, in committing suicide near Millerville. Stahl's body was found in willow bushes on a pasture near the home. Despondency over ill health caused the act, it was said.

Announcement!

The Elks' Building Committee are now ready to consider applications for store rooms or other space in the Elks' Building now under construction. All applications should be made in writing to H. P. Dunn, Chairman.

BOYS' BAND PLAYS SUNDAY

Splendid Program Arranged by Director E. A. Page of Concert Band

GIVEN AT LUM PARK

Light Classical Numbers Included Among Popular Music

The second Sunday night band concert of the season will be given Sunday night at Lum park by the Brainerd Boys' Concert band under the direction of E. A. Page and will begin at 8 o'clock.

The following program will be given:

March, Hail to Lewiston—Chas. Abbott.
Overture, Poet and Peasant—F. Van Suppe.
Concert Waltz, Mission of Love—Edwin Russell.

Polka, Bye Bye Blackbird—Henderson.

Holy City, Baritone solo by Carl Peterson—Steve Adams.

March, Loyal Spirit—E. De Lala-mas.

Overture, Iron Count—K. L. King.
Polka, Faddling Madeline Home—Harry Wood.
Gallop, Long Run—A. J. Weidt.

Believes in Retrenchment of Road Appropriations

H. E. Kent, publisher of the Sanborn (Minn.) Central, was a caller at the Enterprise office, Monday. Mr. Kent published the Arena at Brainerd in 1907-08 and since leaving this county, has engaged in newspaper work in various towns. At present he is also the Postmaster at Sanborn, which is in Redwood county. Mr. Kent has been touring the northern part of the state, including the North Shore, and says that the crop situation in this section is fully as good, if not better than in the southern part of the state. In speaking of economic conditions in general, it was the opinion of Mr. Kent that the highway department had reached the limit in its expenditures, and that a program of retrenchment is necessary. Some of the farmers near Mr. Kent's home town are paying as much as $500 per year in taxes, a greater part of which goes toward highway appropriations, an amount altogether out of proportion to their investment and income. —Deerwood Enterprise.

Peoples Congregational Church Closed during August.

N. P. Olmsted, Minister.

† † †

First Congregational Church Sunday school every Sunday at 10 A. M.

No preaching service during August.

N. P. Olmsted, Minister.

PAPAL DISPLEASURE SHOWN AGAINST PROTESTANTS

Rome, July 31.—(UP)—Fifty American protestants today were refused an audience with the pope, as a mark of papal displeasure with the actions of English and American protestants who recently have been admitted to the presence of the holy father.

The ruling is the result of the refusal of an English protestant recently to kneel and kiss the pope's ring in the prescribed manner. It also was stated that the pope recently had noticed some American protestant girls giggling as they passed the pontiff.

WILD WEST IDEAS BROUGHT TROUBLE

Montevideo, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—Wild west proclivities of George Sturgeon and Glen and Nobel Bonrud resulted in jail sentences for all three, but for a time had Dawson in an uproar. They drove through streets firing guns at light globes and created panic among the residents.

Real Estate Transfers

JULY 29

Citizens State bank of Brainerd to Clarence A. Bower SW 1/4 SW 1/4-24 and SE 1/4 SE 1/4 33-44-29 W. D. $700.
R. A. Carlisle and E. R. Carlisle, wife and husband, to Albert J. Johnson lots 1 and 2, block 3 Klatties addition to village of Pequot W. D. $1,000.

Minnesota Conference of the Evangelical church to Albert Johnson, E 50 ft. of W 150 ft. of lot 6, block 2, Brown's plot of village of Pequot W. D. $150.

Henrietta Petersen, widow, to Earl H. Petersen, lots 15 and 16 block 1, Petersen's Play ground W. D. $1 etc.

JULY 30

N. M. Everhart, widower, to Sarah Maude Helmer part of lot 5-137-27 W. D. $1 etc.

U. C. T. DANCE IS VERY SUCCESSFUL

Leon Lewis and His 10 Cotton Pickers Furnish Delightful Program of Dance Music

PAVILION AND PARK CROWDED

Many Tourists Visit the Park and Enjoy Dancing and Other Recreations There

Brainerd Council United Commercial Travelers of America attracted to Lum park pavilion last night one of the largest crowds ever seen at a dance there. Leon Lewis and his 10 Cotton Pickers of Minneapolis furnished delightful music.

It was a warm evening, but stray lake breezes occasionally stirred through the pavilion. During an intermission, Leon Lewis gave his version of the Charleston and buck and wing dancing and was so loudly applauded, he had to do it all over again. Other numbers given by orchestra members in this diversion were piano solos and a saxophone solo.

Arrangements were almost perfect and in spite of the heavy attendance there were no jarring notes. The U. C. T. committee headed by Past Senior Counselor and present District Deputy Charles W. Gustafson functioned well night perfectly.

The attendance of tourists was especially large. Resort people came from Bay lake, Gull lake, Big Pelican lake and other points. Aitkin, Staples and the range country sent large delegations.

Announcement was made of the August dance date, Friday, August 13, when there will be another popular Battle of Music. The contestants, by popular request, will be Kenney Nelson's Tunesters (six pieces) and Norvy Mulligan and His Green Jackets (six pieces). This will be your last chance to hear them engage in a battle of music.

Humanity's Increase

It is estimated that there are over 40,000,000 births every year. Supposing that the children could be carried past a given point at the rate of twelve a minute, the one who was last would be seven years of age before he passed the counters.

D. B. C. SUCCESS "WORKS DOUBLE"

Everybody wins when a firm engages help from Dakota Business College, Fargo. Students perform business in fully equipped offices, (copyrighted—unobtainable elsewhere), begin work with experience.

Watch each week for results like these: Agnes Anderson gets position in county Auditor's office. Cashier Renfrow, Peoples Bank of Calvin (former D. B. C. man) engages Edw. Lorenz as assistant. E. W. Lavery obtains fine position with Tulsa (Okla.) Oil Co.

"Follow the Success" August 2. Save time. Write F. L. Watkins, Pres., 806 Front St., Fargo.

Mule Hide Shingles

Practically all slate surfaced shingles have the same general appearance, but there is a wonderful difference in the UNSEEN composition of the various brands on the market.

Crown your home with MULEHIDE

Standard Lumber Co.

Dainty Silk Undies

We have a very complete line of Silk Underwear to show you. For these extreme hot days they are so cool.

Teddies cleverly trimmed with dainty laces (some hand made), step-ins that are sure to please each one's individual taste.

A lovely assortment of fiber silk gowns—lace trimmed they come in three shades, maze, pink and peach.

Price $3.50

E. F. Gates

A Good Place to Trade

The history of this bank has been bound up closely with the prosperity of this community. The story of our own growth is written in a volume of many pages—each page bearing the story of some individual depositor's success in which we have had a part.

CITIZENS STATE BANK OF BRAINERD

Oldest State Bank in Crow Wing County
1889 1926

For the FIRST TIME IN THIS CITY

The marvelous NEW

EASY WASHER

Is on view. Dries clothes while it washes—without the aid of a wringer.

NOW to its famous Vacuum Cup Principle of washing clothes, the Easy has added an amazingly simple, safe, quick, and easy method of getting clothes so dry that you can start ironing without hanging them on the line. A whole tubful is dried at a time—while another tubful is washed. There's no water to handle.

Come in and see this revolutionary new washer—there's never been anything like it before. Or, better yet, let us demonstrate one in your own home—free. We will do your entire week's washing without cost. Then if you wish to keep the Easy, you can pay a small deposit and the balance on easy monthly terms. Phone us today.

We will gladly demonstrate.

Taylor Sales Service

708 Laurel Street

Telephone 544-W

"Frigidaire" Refrigerators and Thor Ironers

TOURIST CAMP PROVING POPULAR

About 1,700 Cars Registered to Date
This Season With About
6,000 People

TOURISTS PRAISE LAKES

Canadian Party on 8,000 Mile Trip
Delighted With Our
Lake Region

The tourist camp is proving to be as popular as ever this year. The grounds are being kept in excellent condition and according to H. E. Smith, the caretaker during the day, about 1,700 cars have registered with about 6,000 people comprising the tourist parties.

Tourists are loud in their praise of the 10,000 lakes territory and interviews with those coming from Kansas City, Lincoln and other places show that some have been coming back year after year and others say this is their first visit but not the last.

One tourist party from Saskatchewan motored to Montreal down the East coast to New York taking in all the Eastern coast states and are now making a return trip back through Minnesota and Iowa the entire journey so far having amounted to 8,000 miles. They were so pleased with our lake region that they remained several days and claimed to have found the most ideal conditions, country and climate in our state. They still have 1,500 miles to travel before their journey is completed.

The following is a list of some of the registered tourists from July 26-29:

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Salsburg, Waterloo, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sturges, Oatonna; Ina Norton, St. Paul; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Galle, Milroy; Syd Harvey, Des Moines; Elmer Malchou, Biscay, Minn.; R. O. Malchow, Contour, Sask.; A. A. Malchow, Biscay; Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Koehn, Milwaukee; C. R. Buller, Milwaukee; H. J. Carr, Kansas City; F. H. Graves, Madrid, Ia.; Y. S. Gray, Winnipeg; H. L. Gate and mother, Minneapolis; Jasper Jobe and mother, Aberdeen, S. D.; Mr. and Mrs. Pepper, Winnipeg; H. C. Lusty, Moline; Mr. and Mrs. C. Leonard, St. Paul; Erick Berenpeth, Minneapolis; L. J. Gintner, Mason City; Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Eveleth; F. Jule, Winona; Mr. and Mrs. Pierce and daughter, Fulton, S. D.; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Gray, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. H. Schuman, St. Paul; Hans Olson, Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Haggard, Northfield; Walter Stemming, Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis, Osage, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Perkins, Minneapolis; C. S. Martin, Kansas City, Mo.; A. J. Rettinger, Winnifred, Can.; W. J. Asmusen, Oakland, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Galle, Melroy, Minn.; George Pfeiffer, Canada; P. E. Berggren, Marshalltown, Ia.; S. B. King, Onamia; W. M. Pepper, Winnipeg; G. Robertson, Dazey, N. D.; Gerena Anderson, Carl A. Anderson, Red Oak; T. Parrish, Herman; Louis Hiltz, Reville; Chas. Peterson, Moorhead; Elmer Walstrom, Fergus Falls; Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Stuart, Minneapolis; I. Goodimer, Terra Bella, Calif.; R. J. Sharpe and family, Chisholm; S. P. Hall, Albert Lea; C. C. Larson, Waterloo, Ia.; W. L. McCool, Rouse, Neb.; G. H. Groom, Winnipeg; H. W. Wendt and family, St. Paul; P. O. Fletcher, Linden Hills, Minneapolis; A. R. Frankburg and family, Fergus Falls; D. Prentiss, Fergus Falls; R. E. Mosley, family and sister, Red Wing; G. D. Newcome, Des Moines; B. Brede, Minneapolis; N. Lindblom, Kansas City; E. Cook, Winnipeg; J. F. Hardin and family, Omaha; O. W. Mullen, Minneapolis; Geo. S. Barker, Junction City, Kas.; Gilman Halverson, Fergus Falls; Aug. Johnson, Omaha; F. F. Farrar, Mason City; H. F. Ackerman, Worthington; J. Nichols and wife, Minneapolis; Otto Eastman, wife and daughter, Minneapolis; Walter Cobban, Shore Acres; Miss Janet McWilliam, Washington, D. C.; Alta K. Anderson, Milaca; F. G. Tease, Winnipeg; G. S. Erenson, Sioux Falls; A. F. Schulz, Fairmont; R. J. Webb, Spooner; A. M. Peterson, Minneapolis; Jack Pollock, Brule; G. A. Bomewell, Des Moines; E. M. Greysa Eldon; Mr. and Mrs. Dexter, St. Paul; Mabel Doran, A. Thompson, Mary McCallister, Bemidji; J. B. Johnson, Young America; R. W. Buttuff, Sioux Falls; Floyd J. Martin, Oatonna; Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Gray, Winnipeg; J. E. Gray, Winnipeg; Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Dunlap, Winnipeg; W. D. Graham, Hancock, Mo.; C. A. Russell, Minneapolis; T. L. O'Keefe, St. Cloud; Helen Peterson, Lydia Anderson, Minneapolis; A. R. Appatt, St. Paul.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Anna Voss, who died one sad year ago today, August 1, 1925. Peaceful be thy sleep dear mother, may thy soul for ever rest. Though it is hard to be without you, God on high, no doubt, knows best.

Sadly missed by
MR. JULIUS VOSS
and family.

TENNIS COURT DANCE

Another to be Given When Municipal Band Plays at Gregory Park

Another tennis court dance will be given at the next Municipal band concert at Gregory park on Wednesday night, August 11. The first dance drew a good attendance and it is hoped that the next one will be as well patronized. Music will again be furnished by the Municipal band under the direction of W. R. Hiller.

THE NEW BUICK

Now on Display at Ingrund Auto Co. Many New Features

The new Buicks for 1927 are now on display in the showroom of Ingrund Auto Co. local Buick dealer. There are sixteen body styles, mounted on chassis lengths of 114 1/2, 120 and 128 inches. The line is made up of four sport type open cars and twelve closed cars.

According to J. T. Ingrund, the Buick engineering department has developed a chassis which is built around Buick features of the past, but with additional improvements which are in most cases entirely new in the industry.

"The problem of period vibration has been solved in the new Buick," Mr. Ingrund said. "This is accomplished by a counter-balanced, four bearing crankshaft in combination with light, cast iron pistons, a heavy flywheel and an exclusive Buick creation called the torsion balancer. Counter-weights are used to keep the crankshaft from deflecting. They also balance the shaft so perfectly that there is no high bearing pressure or whipping out of line, which are the main causes of engine rumble, noise and roughness.

Any crankshaft, no matter how scientifically worked out, has periods of torsional vibration. The torsion balancer absorbs the tendency of the shaft to twist under the power impulses, and delivers these impulses back to the shaft after the piston forces are spent.

"It will be necessary to completely change the oil in the new Buicks only four times a year. This is accomplished by a vacuum ventilator without moving parts, an air cleaner and oil filter which keep all abrasives out of the oil, and with the help of thermostatic temperature control.

Objectional noises have been entirely eliminated in the 1927 Buicks by correcting the causes. The engine is unusually quiet because of perfect balance and lack of period vibration. This silence is enhanced by new valve springs which minimize noise from this source. There is a newly designed muffler and exhaust system which is very quiet.

"Transmission and gear noises have been reduced by use of new giant teeth and by an improved mounting of the transmission case to the engine.

"The engine is mounted at all three points of suspension in rubber. This insulates the body from the engine. There is a remarkable freedom from closed car rumble as a result. Silence has been developed to a high point throughout the car, in fact.

Custom body design and finish is found throughout the line. Every closed car is upholstered in mohair with broadcloth optional in some models. Open cars are upholstered in genuine leather. Hardware is of new design. A dash temperature indicator and dash gasoline gauge are included in the equipment of several models. Color combinations are in Duco. Many are in two tone shades.

"The rear decks of roadster and coupe models are designed to give a streamline effect.

"The color of the body is carried out in the window recesses of the closed cars, in order to bring the color scheme in closer harmony. The tires and rims are jet black."

NOTICE

The Evergreen Cemetery Association will receive bids up to August 15th, 1926, for the purchase of the dwelling, barn and shed known as the Olson property and located on the cemetery grounds. Purchaser to remove buildings by September 1st. Address bids to G. W. Chadbourne, secretary, Brainerd, Minn. 49tf

Dice Used in Old Greece

Dice were known in ancient Greece, and their invention is attributed by some to Pythagoras in the Thirteenth century, D. C. The dice exhumed from Thebes differ in no way from the ivory or bone cubes of today. They had spots ranging from one to six on them and the sum of the spots on the two opposite sides was always seven.

Annual Trail

Intelligence tests are given students during the year, but at the end the school heads fall back upon just plain old examinations. — Winston-Salem Journal.

GARAGE FIRE LOSS

Property of Mrs. Verkennes, 214
Front Street, Destroyed
This Morning

A small garage owned by Mrs. Verkennes on her property at 214 Front street was destroyed by fire at 1:25 this morning. The fire department was called but were unable to save the car owned by a Mr. Olson and two small dogs that were in the building at the time. The building is a total loss.

On July 28 the department was called to save a car on Oak street that had been ignited by wires around the engine, and were successful in putting out the flames before much damage was done. The car was owned by Father Helleg.

N. P. TEAM BRINGS CARNIVAL TO TOWN

Blue Ribbon Mid-Summer Festival to Show Here All Next Week, August 2 to 7

HAS MANY SIDE SHOWS

Brainerd Baseball Team to Share in Receipts of Carnival as Aid for Baseball

The Blue Ribbon carnival, which comes to Brainerd for a Mid-Summer Festival showing all of next week, has earned a reputation wherever they have been showing of being one of the highest type of street carnival, entirely within the law. They come to Brainerd on Monday for a week's engagement, under the auspices of the Brainerd N. P. city baseball team.

The baseball team will share in the receipts of the carnival to help them in their baseball for the summer. The team has brought a number of costly teams to the city for games, and the gate receipts have barely paid the main expenses, leaving many necessary side expenses to be taken care of in other ways. The team hopes to secure an amount from the showing of the carnival sufficient to make their season a success financially.

The shows which come here next week contain several side shows and riding devices, and will undoubtedly prove an attraction for all ages of the city.

CROP OUTLOOK IN KANDIYOHI COUNTY DISMAL

Willmar, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—With grain harvesting on many farms ended today, farmers declared that the crop outlook in Kandiyohi county was not bright and predicted that the average yield will be one-half of normal. The drought during most of the growing season and the extensive damage caused by the green bug are responsible for the decrease in yield.

BURNS FROM BLAZING KEROSENE KILLED BOY

Graceville, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—Burns suffered when blazing kerosene that was being used to kill potato bugs ignited his clothing caused the death of Eugene Curley, aged 5 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Curley, of Collins. The boy was brought to the hospital here and died the following day.

TRIAL OF PREACHER WHO SLEW LUMBERMAN TO START SEPT. 11

San Diego, Calif., July 31.—(UP)—Trial of Rev. J. Frank Norris, Fort Worth pastor, who shot and killed D. E. Chippis, wealthy lumberman, in Norris' study two weeks ago, will start Sept. 11, D. E. Hangar, district attorney of Fort Worth, announced here today. Hangar is here at the bedside of his father-in-law, who is in a serious condition. Norris claimed self defense.

USED AN OLD REVOLVER TO KILL SELF ON FARM

Alexandria, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—A revolver that he purchased at the time of his marriage eleven years ago was used by Christ Stahl, aged 63, a carpenter, in committing suicide near Millerville. Stahl's body was found in willow bushes on a pasture near the home. Despondency over ill health caused the act, it was said.

Announcement!

The Elks' Building Committee are now ready to consider applications for store rooms or other space in the Elks' Building now under construction. All applications should be made in writing to H. P. Dunn, Chairman. 46tf-eod

BOYS' BAND PLAYS SUNDAY

Splendid Program Arranged by Director E. A. Page of Concert Band

GIVEN AT LUM PARK

Light Classical Numbers Included
Among Popular
Music

The second Sunday night band concert of the season will be given Sunday night at Lum park by the Brainerd Boys' Concert band under the direction of E. A. Page and will begin at 8 o'clock.

The following program will be given:

March, Hail to Lewiston—Chas. Abbott.
Overture, Poet and Peasant—F. Van Suppe.
Concert Waltz, Mission of Love—Edwin Russell.
Fox Trot, Bye Bye Blackbird—Henderson.
Holy City, Baritone solo by Carl Peterson—Cecilia Adams.
March, Loyal Spirit—E. De Lalan.
Overture, Iron Count—K. L. King.
Fox Trot, Laddling Madeline Home—Harry Wood.
Gallop, Long Run—A. J. Weidt.

Believes in Retrenchment of Road Appropriations

H. E. Kent, publisher of the Sanborn (Minn.) Central, was a caller at the Enterprise office, Monday. Mr. Kent published the Arena at Brainerd in 1907-08 and since leaving this county, has engaged in newspaper work in various towns. At present he is also the Postmaster at Sanborn, which is in Redwood county. Mr. Kent has been touring the northern part of the state, including the North Shore, and says that the crop situation in this section is fully as good, if not better than in the southern part of the state. In speaking of economic conditions in general, it was the opinion of Mr. Kent that the highway department had reached the limit in its expenditures, and that a program of retrenchment is necessary. Some of the farmers near Mr. Kent's home town are paying as much as $500 per year in taxes, a greater part of which goes toward highway appropriations, an amount altogether out of proportion to their investment and income.—Deerwood Enterprise.

Peoples Congregational Church

Closed during August.
N. P. Olmsted, Minister.

First Congregational Church

Sunday school every Sunday at 10 A. M.
No preaching service during August.

N. P. Olmsted, Minister.

PAPAL DISPLEASURE SHOWN AGAINST PROTESTANTS

Rome, July 31.—(UP)—Fifty American protestants today were refused an audience with the pope, as a mark of papal displeasure with the actions of English and American protestants who recently have been admitted to the presence of the holy father.

The ruling is the result of the refusal of an English protestant recently to kneel and kiss the pope's ring in the prescribed manner. It also was stated that the pope recently had noticed some American protestant girls giggling as they passed the pontiff.

WILD WEST IDEAS BROUGHT TROUBLE

Montevideo, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—Wild west proclivities of George Sturgeon and Glen and Nobel Bonrud resulted in jail sentences for all three, but for a time had Dawson in an uproar. They drove through streets firing guns at light globes and created panic among the residents.

Mule Hide Shingles

Practically all slate surfaced shingles have the same general appearance, but there is a wonderful difference in the UNSEEN composition of the various brands on the market.

Crown your home with MULEHIDE

Standard Lumber Co.

Real Estate Transfers

JULY 29

Citizens State bank of Brainerd to Clarence A. Bower SW 1/4 SW 1/4-34 and SE 1/4 SE 1/4 33-44-29 W. D. $700.
R. A. Carlisle and E. R. Carlisle, wife and husband, to Albert J. Johnson lots 1 and 2, block 3 Klatties addition to village of Pequot W. D. $1,000.

Minnesota Conference of the Evangelical church to Albert Johnson, E. 50 ft. of W 150 ft. of lot 6, block 2, Brown's plot of village of Pequot W. D. $150.

Henrietta Petersen, widow, to Earl H. Petersen lots 15 and 16 block 1, Petersen's Play ground W. D. $1 etc.

JULY 30

N. M. Everhart, widower, to Sarah Maude Helmer part of lot 5-137-27 W. D. $1 etc.

U. C. T. DANCE IS VERY SUCCESSFUL

Leon Lewis and His 10 Cotton Pickers Furnish Delightful Program of Dance Music

PAVILION AND PARK CROWDED

Many Tourists Visit the Park and Enjoy Dancing and Other Recreations There

Brainerd Council United Commercial Travelers of America attracted to Lum park pavilion last night one of the largest crowds ever seen at a dance there. Leon Lewis and his 10 Cotton Pickers of Minneapolis furnished delightful music.

It was a warm evening, but stray lake breezes occasionally stirred through the pavilion. During an intermission, Leon Lewis gave his version of the Charleston and buck and wing dancing and was so loudly applauded, he had to do it all over again. Other numbers given by orchestra members in this diversion were piano solos and a saxophone solo.

Arrangements were almost perfect and in spite of the heavy attendance there were no jarring notes. The U. C. T. committee headed by Past Senior Counselor and present District Deputy Charles W. Gustafson functioned well high perfectly.

The attendance of tourists was especially large. Resort people came from Bay lake, Gull lake, Big Pelican lake and other points. Aitkin, Staples and the range country sent large delegations.

Announcement was made of the August dance date, Friday, August 13, when there will be another popular Battle of Music. The contestants, by popular request, will be Kenney Nelson's Tunesters (six pieces) and Norvy Mulligan and His Green Jackets (six pieces). This will be your last chance to hear them engage in a battle of music.

Humanity's Increase

It is estimated that there are over 40,000,000 births every year. Supposing that the children could be carried past a given point at the rate of twelve a minute, the one who was last would be seven years of age before he passed the counters.

D. B. C. SUCCESS "WORKS DOUBLE"

Everybody wins when a firm engages help from Dakota Business College, Fargo. Students perform business in fully equipped offices, (copyrighted)—unobtainable elsewhere, begin work with experience.

Watch each week for results like these: Agnes Anderson gets position in county Auditor's office, Cashier Renfrow, Peoples Bank of Calvin (former D. B. C. man) engages Edw. Lorenz as assistant, E. W. Lavery obtains fine position with Tulsa (Okla.) Oil Co.

"Follow the Successful" August 2. Save time. Write F. L. Watkins, Pres., 806 Front St., Fargo.

Dainty Silk Undies

We have a very complete line of Silk Underwear to show you. For these extreme hot days they are so cool.

Teddies cleverly trimmed with dainty laces (some hand made), step-ins that are sure to please each one's individual taste.

A lovely assortment of fiber silk gowns—lace trimmed they come in three shades, maze, pink and peach.

Price $3.50

E. F. Gates

A Good Place to Trade

The history of this bank has been bound up closely with the prosperity of this community. The story of our own growth is written in a volume of many pages—each page bearing the story of some individual depositor's success in which we have had a part.

CITIZENS STATE BANK

OF BRAINERD

Oldest State Bank in Crow Wing County

1889 1926

For the FIRST TIME IN THIS CITY

The marvelous NEW

EASY WASHER

Is on view. Dries clothes while it washes—without the aid of a wringer.

NOW to its famous Vacuum Cup Principle of washing clothes, the Easy has added an amazingly simple, safe, quick, and easy method of getting clothes so dry that you can start ironing without hanging them on the line. A whole tubful is dried at a time—while another tubful is washed. There's no water to handle.

Come in and see this revolutionary new washer—there's never been anything like it before. Or, better yet, let us demonstrate one in your own home—free. We will do your entire week's washing without cost. Then if you wish to keep the Easy, you can pay a small deposit and the balance on easy monthly terms. Phone us today.

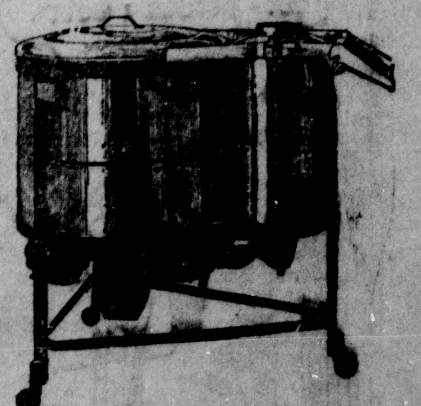

We will gladly demonstrate.

Taylor Sales Service

708 Laurel Street

Telephone 544-W

"Frigidaire" Refrigerators and Thor Ironers

MUD RUNNER EXPECTED TO WIN AMERICAN DERBY

$100,000 RACE ON TODAY AT HOMWOOD TRACK,
CHICAGO

RAIN LAST NIGHT HAS TURNED COURSE INTO A HOG
WALLOW

Chicago, July 31.—(UP)—A mud runner was expected to win America's richest horse race, the $100,000 American derby at the Homewood track here today.

Rain which began last night and abated this morning has turned the track into a hog wallow upon which possibility 11 entries, pitifully inadequate when the large purse is considered, were scheduled to go to the barrier. Four of the entries were almost certain to be scratched and two more were extremely doubtful, leaving only five probable starters when the wire is sprung.

Of these Boot to Boot from E. H. Bradley's stables; Display, the Prekness winner, and Black Maria, winner of the Kentucky and Illinois Oaks are the only three receiving much financial notice.

Odds of from 50 to 100 to 1 are being quoted on the others in the mediocre field. Bagenbaggage, according to all reports, is not fit and will not be able to answer the bugle.

Officials of the Illinois Jockey club predicted that 50,000 spectators would be out to witness the event. Others declared 30,000 would be a more accurate estimate.

Eastern race horse owners have almost completely neglected the derby, which was postponed from July 10 until today. Not a single eastern three-year-old of the class with Crusader and Blondin has been entered.

The entries:

Chicago, 118 pounds, F. M. Grabner, owner—H. Jones, jockey.

Smiling Gus, 118 pounds, C. Durnell, owner—E. Pool, jockey.

Display, 126 pounds, W. J. Salmon, owner—J. Malben, jockey.

Bagenbaggage, 126 pounds, Idle Hour Farm, owner—G. Johnson, jockey.

Bolton, 118 pounds, C. Durnell, owner—A. Pickens, jockey.

Col Board, 118 pounds, M. Loewenstein, owner—D. Froggata, jockey.

Black Maria, 116 pounds, W. R. Cee, owner—B. Bruening, jockey.

Open Hand, 118 pounds, Keeneland Stud, owner—S. Elston, jockey.

Blockhead, 118 pounds, C. Koerner, owner—F. Mommello, jockey.

Boot to Boot, 121 pounds, Idle Hour Farm, owner—A. Johnson, jockey.

Dykes Sets Record for Freak Batting in Game

Records for freak batting stunts were put in the discard last season by Jimmy Dykes of the Philadelphia Athletics in his phenomenal hitting against the Yankees on October 2.

Jimmy went to bat five times and each time up he safely hit the first ball pitched. Four of the hits were off Garland Braxton and one was off Herb Penneck, and they included a home run and a three-bagger.

Five out of five isn't so rare, but when one batter gets five clean hits out of five pitched balls he has done something which the old-timers concede is mighty unusual.

The same player had another perfect day at the plate on July 12, when he collected four hits out of that many times at bat. Two months later he made good on five out of six trips to the plate in the second game of a double-header.

Ira Flagstead, Red Sox infielder, also had an odd record. On May 8, at Detroit, Flagstead went to the plate six times, made one hit, walked five times and scored five times.

Condemned Son to Death

The Roman Emperor Constantine the Great in 324 put his eldest son, Crispus, to death for high treason. Crispus is said to have been the victim of an intrigue on the part of his stepmother, Fausta.

MILWAUKEE COUNTRY CLUB MAY GET THE TOURNAMENT

Milwaukee, Wis., July 31.—(UP)—At the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Women's Golf Association held this afternoon no bids were made for next year's women's state tournament. However it was thought that the tournament will probably be held at the Milwaukee country club next year.

JACK DEMPSEY SOON ON WAY TO NEW YORK

TO OPEN TRAINING CAMP AT SARATOGA SPRINGS,
NEW YORK

LAUGHS AT CONTRACT FLOUR-
ISHED BY CLEMENTS OF
CHICAGO

Colorado Springs, Col., July 31.—(UP)—Jack Dempsey will shake the dust of his native Colorado from his feet Sunday and start for New York, the scene of his coming battle with Gene Tunney.

Dempsey plans to open his training camp at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., within the coming week.

As usual he laughed at mention of B. C. Clements, who yesterday claimed he would prevent Dempsey from fighting Tunney because of a contract Clements claimed he held for the champion to fight Harry Wills.

"Clements is trying to make a good showing before his stockholders in the Coliseum club," he said. "I would not pay any attention to him, but I certainly shall to the court. My attorneys here will handle the case there for me.

"I'm rearin' to go," Dempsey said. "The worst part of the fight is over right now and I am anxious to get down to hard work."

ASK MORE PAVING ON HIGHWAY NO. 1

ASK IMPROVEMENT TO EXTEND
FROM KNIFE RIVER TO TWO HARBORS

Duluth, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—A request for the paving of state highway No. 1 from Knife River to Two Harbors and grading of the highway from Reservation river to its terminus at Pigeon river will be made of the state highway commission by the Duluth Chamber of Commerce.

Highway Commissioner Charles M. Babcock will be the guest of the organization at a luncheon August 16 and the improvements will be suggested to him at that time.

KEYNOTE SPEECH OF CHRISTIANSON AT FERGUS FALLS

Fergus Falls, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—The keynote address of his campaign for re-election will be delivered by Governor Theodore Christianson in Fergus Falls. Christianson has accepted an invitation by the republican county committee to speak here. The committee pointed out that this community gave the governor an overwhelming vote in the primary election.

Whole Front of Locomotive Brows Out

Hagerstown, Md., July 31.—(UP)—Explosion of the boiler of a running Western Maryland locomotive near here today resulted in the death of the fireman, W. G. Hammond, and the injury of John H. Tewart, engineer, and John W. Fleagle, conductor. The entire front of the locomotive was blown out and scattered several hundred yards.

The engineers, according to railroad officials, had replaced strikers.

VATICAN'S VIEW OF THE MEXICAN SITUATION GIVEN

BELIEVE MEXICAN BISHOPS WILL
SUSPEND CEREMONIES
SUNDAY

ISSUANCE OF AN EDICT FROM
ROME NOT THOUGHT OF
BY HOLY SEE

By THOMAS B. MORGAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Rome, July 31.—Vatican officials believe Mexican bishops will suspend ceremonies Sunday, this being a virtual interdiction.

The issuance of an interdiction from Rome is farthest from the thoughts of the Holy See at present, the United Press understands.

Such action by Rome would be a measure of last resort after all efforts at conciliation had failed.

RIOTOUS SCENES AND BLOODSHED

By A. W. FOLGER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Mexico City, July 31.—Riotous scenes and bloodshed have marked the first closings of Mexican churches on the eve of the introduction of government anti-religious laws.

No one can predict the results of the disturbed situation. Three riots last night marked the first church closings. At least 10 persons were wounded when troops fired on crowds. More are reported wounded. In one riot Attorney General Romero Ortega was struck on the head with a bottle wielded by a woman.

Two events during the week hastened the present situation. The first was the church's determination to abandon the churches in the face of the new laws; the second was the government's intention to place the C. R. O. M. labor body in charge of at least part of the churches. Further trouble is expected in the interior where the religious fervor of the Indians is traditional. Reports indicate they are already deeply moved by the situation.

LIVESTOCK, PRODUCE GRAIN AND BONDS

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Chicago, July 31.—(By Department of Agriculture)—CATTLE—Receipts, 500. Compared with a week ago: Heavy fed steers and grassers 25@50c lower; lowest levels since 1924; yearlings steady to 25c lower; choice heavies $9.75; vealers $10.50; extreme top $10.65; light grassers steady with fairly broad demand; grassy kinds predominate in the stock, 25c off; bulls 25c down; vealers 50c down. Bulk prices: Fed steers $8.50@10; grass steers $6.50@8; stockers and feeders $5.75@7; fat cows $4.50@6.25; slaughter heifers $6.50@8.75; all cutters $3.25@4; veal calves $12@13. SHEEP—Receipts, 1,000. Practically none on sale today. For week 9,500 direct and 149 doubles from feeding stations. Fat lambs 50@65c lower; culled 75c@11c lower; sheep 25@50c higher; yearlings weak to 25c lower; feeder lambs 25@50c lower. Top prices: Range fed lambs $14.95; natives $14.40; fat yearling $12; fat ewes $7.50; feeder lambs $14. Bulk prices: Range lambs $14.25@14.85; natives $13.50@14.25; culled $10.25@11.50; ewes $5.50@7.25; feeder lambs $13@14. HOGS—Receipts, 3,000. Steady to 10c higher. Top $13.75. 150 to 210 lbs averages $13.30@13.65; butchers $12@12.90; slaughter pigs $13.25@13.40; packing sows $10.15@10.50; heavies down to $10 and lower; some went at $10.75@10.85; shippers took 10,000; estimated hold over 1,000. Prices: Bulk of sales $10.30@12; heavyweights $11.85@13; medium weights $12.25@13.50; lightweights $13@13.75; light lights $13.10@13.75; packing sows $9.85@10.75; slaughter pigs $13@13.65.

SOUTH ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK

HOGS—Receipts, 600. Market steady with Friday's average; receipts very light. Quotations: (250-350 lbs) $12@12.75; (200-250 lbs) $12.50@13; (160-200 lbs) $12.75@13; (90-130 lbs) $12.50; packing sows $10@10.50. CATTLE—Receipts, 200. Calves, 200; compared to week ago veal calves 50c lower. Market compared to week ago: Weighty matured fed steers and low grade grass killing stocks 25c or more lower; others steady. SHEEP—Receipts, 100. Market compared to week ago: Fat lambs 50c lower; sheep steady to strong. Week's top quotations: Top fat lambs $13.50; bulk fat lambs $12@13.50; bulk cull lambs $9.50; bulk fat ewes $5@7. CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET CHEESE—Twins, 20c; Young Americas, 20 1/2@20 3/4c. LIVE POULTRY—Fowls, 21@23 1/2c; ducks, 22@25c; geese, 16c; springs, 20c; turkeys, 34c; roosters, 18 1/2c. POTATOES—Arrivals 48 cars; on track 163 cars. Kansas and Missouri sacked Irish Cobblers, $1.75@2. ST. PAUL PRODUCE MARKET BUTTERFAT—Per lb., 40c. MINNEAPOLIS CLOSING CASH PRICES SPRING WHEAT—No. 1 Dark Northern, $1.62@1.71 1/2; No. 1 Dark Northern, to arrive, $1.60 1/2. No. 1 Northern, $1.62@1.65 1/2; No. 1 Northern, to arrive, $1.59 1/2. No. 2 Dark Northern, $1.59@1.68 1/2. No. 2 Northern, to arrive, $1.57 1/2. No. 3 Dark Northern, $1.54@1.65 1/2. No. 3 Northern, to arrive, $1.54 1/2. CORN—No. 2 Yellow, 86@87c. No. 3 Yellow, 85@86 1/2c; No. 3 Yellow, to arrive, 85c. No. 4 Yellow, 83@84c. No. 5 Yellow, 81@82c. No. 3 Mixed, 83@84c. No. 4 Mixed, 81@82c. No. 5 Mixed, 79@80c. OATS—No. 2 White, 42 1/2@42 3/4c. No. 3 White, 41 1/2@42 1/4c; No. 3 White, to arrive, 41 1/2c. No. 4 White, 39 1/2@41c. BARLEY—Choice to fancy, 68@69c; medium to good, 64@67c; lower grades, 59@63c. RYE—No. 2, $1.04@1.05 1/2; No. 2, to arrive, $1.04 1/2. FLAXSEED—No. 1, $2.50@2.52 1/2; No. 1, to arrive, $2.50@2.51 1/2. VIGOROUS BULL DEMONSTRATION New York, July 31.—(UP)—Friday's reactionary tendency in the industrial list was thrown aside in the week end session and another vigorous bull demonstration was staged in this section of the market. At the same time aggressive buying operations went ahead in public utilities and rails, creating a buoyant tone in the whole list. New York Central and C. & O. were two leading carrier issues, which reached new highs, while Consolidated Gas, Detroit Edison and North American moved ahead spiritedly in the utilities division. Motor shares continued the principal features of the industrials. Studebaker, Nash and Hudson imitated the example recently set on the upside by General Motors. Sentiment was heartened by the varied character of the stocks furnishing leadership and the week closed with the traders in a more confident mood than at any time since the advance began. The market closed higher.

BANKER FOUND DEAD UNDER HIS OVERTURNED CAR

Granite Falls, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—P. C. Saunders, president of the Farmers & Merchants Bank of Milwaukee, S. D., was found dead under his overturned automobile near the Yellowstone trail bridge here this morning.

Saunders, who was returning home from Minneapolis, where he had left his wife and three young children, apparently fell asleep or fainted and drove his car through the guard rail of the bridge. It plunged to the river bed. He had been dead several hours when found.

BOILER EXPLODES; SCALDS TWO MEN

Lewes, Del., July 31.—(UP)—Two men were scalded, one perhaps fatally, today when a boiler exploded on the Munson Line's steamship Munchape off the north coast. The injured are: Roy Lawrence, New York, second assistant engineer, serious scalds, and Jose Hosa, Cuban fireman, also seriously scalded. Hosa may die, physicians at the hospital here report.

STATE POLICE CONTINUE TO GAIN EVIDENCE

REOPENED INVESTIGATION OF
HALL-MILLS CASE NOW
UNDER WAY

ALL WITNESSES ARE CLOSELY GUARDED, FORIDDEN TO DISCUSS CASE

Somerville, N. J., July 31.—(UP)—With Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall at liberty on $15,000 bond and the release of the only other person arrested expected momentarily, the reopened investigation of the Hall-Mills case today became a game of "watchful waiting."

William Phillips, night watchman, held as a material witness under $50,000 bail, obtained a reduction to $2,500 this afternoon through his attorney from Justice of Peace William Suthphen. He expected to leave the county jail as soon as a bondsman could be obtained.

State police are still gathering evidence in the four years' murder mystery of Rev. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, choir singer in his church. All witnesses were closely guarded and were forbidden to discuss the case.

Mrs. Hall after her release from the county jail where she was held on a double charge of murder passed the day at her home with friends and relatives of her husband, the slain minister.

Willie Stevens, her eccentric half-brother was at the house, but members of the family saw to it that reporters got nowhere near him.

FURTHER ANGLE IN KIDNAPING CASE OF EVANGELIST

Los Angeles, Calif., July 31.—(UP)—Further indication that Kenneth D. Ormiston, former radio operator at Angelus Temple, has rallied to the defense of Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, whose kidnaping story is doubted, was seen in a telegram received by District Attorney Asa Keyes today.

The message signed "Attorney Martin," read: "Sending you via air mail Ormiston's affidavit. You can communicate with him through my office."

The telegram was sent from Chicago and followed by a few hours announcement that Mrs. McPherson had received a wire direct from Ormiston pledging his aid in refuting claims of prosecutors that the couple spent several days together at Carmel following the evangelist's disappearance.

Keyes left his office immediately following receipt of the telegram today presumably to visit Mrs. McPherson.

READ THE WANT ADS DAILY

VALET
AutoStop
Razor sharpens itself

FLIT
DESTROYS
Moths, Roaches
Bedbugs, Flies
STANDARD OIL CO. (NEW JERSEY)

Dispatch Want Ads

PRICE—One cent a word for each insertion

HELP WANTED

WANTED—Night clerk, Ideal Hotel. 6522-4913

WANTED—Cook and one woman for kitchen work. Island View Lodge, R. R. 4. 6487-4511

WANTED—Woman for housekeeping 35 to 40. Phone 448 before 6 P. M. 6504-4811

WANTED—Girl to work in restaurant. Phone 27-F-11 or write Mrs. Moran, Nisswa. 6531-5012

LADIES—We pay $7 per hundred for gilding greeting cards; pleasant, easy work; write immediately. King Card Co., 155 East 42nd St., N. Y. 6527-5011

4 SOLICITORS WANTED—We have a money making proposition for you. Ladies or gentlemen. Kelly Studio, Opsahl block. 6511-4813

LADIES—Work for us at HOME in SPARE TIME. INTERESTING AND PROFITABLE. NO SELLING. Enclose stamp. Cosmos Manufacturing Co., 4401 Broadway, Chicago. Room A. 6496-4712 p.w.

REAL JOB FOR REAL MAN—Something entirely different for full or part time. No investment or red tape. Million dollar concern. Write Sales Manager, 1900 West 86th, Cleveland, Ohio. 6526-5011 p

HELP WANTED—Male or female—Reliable Representative wanted to handle our Nationally advertised line of Hosiery and Linen. Exclusive territory and rapid advancement. Splendid opportunity. Write immediately to 211 Wilmae Building, Minneapolis, Minn. 6525-5011 p

FEMALE HELP—Several Ladies of good appearance to do special work, salary $35.00 per week, chance to make permanent connection with good pay, work will be in your own town or county, give age in first letter, enclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply—address W. LEO, 108 Seymour street, New Britain, Conn. 6514-4912 p

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Holstein cow. Phone 165. 6512-4914 p

FOR SALE—Hay stumpage. Call 487-J. 6498-4714 p

FOR RENT—House at 303 N. Broadway. Call 207-J. 6518-4916 p

FOR SALE—7 room house and 2 lots. 904 South Seventh street. 6528-5011 p

FOR SALE—Good team, heavy harness, wagon. E. J. Jennison, Garrison, Minn. 6505-4816 p

NEW boat and trailer at a bargain. Pat Rardin, 205 Main St. 6515-4912

FOR SALE—Minnows and frogs at 114 Gillis Ave. N. E. Phone 314-M. 6240-2011

FOR SALE—One quart ice cream freezer and electric washing machine, both in good condition, also a lot. Call 637-J. 6509-4811

FOR SALE—Entire line of household goods, all like new. Garden tools, lawn mower. 209 Kingwood. 6500-4716 p

FOR SALE—Two used light twin Eltons, $62.50 and one Ferro, $30.00. Outboard motors. See them at Dan's Radiator Shop, Gardner block. 6507-4811

FOR QUICK SALE CHEAP—Leaving town, all household goods—Seeger Refrigerator, electric range dining set, dishes, etc. Dr. K. H. Hoorn. Phone 345-W. 55 Bluff Ave. N. 6530-5011

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—Modern house. Phone 793-W. 5922-2991 p

FOR RENT—Concrete garage. 921 S. 8th St. 6516-4913 p

FOR RENT—2 modern furnished rooms. E. A. Page, Jeweler. 6279-2511

FOR RENT—Garage, E. A. Page, Jeweler. 6192-1611

FOR RENT—3 furnished rooms with bath, upstairs for two people. 714 1/2 Norwood St. 6532-5011

GOOD rooms at National Hotel by day or week. Prices reasonable. 6031-3081 p

FOR RENT—Two modern office rooms. Lyceum building. 1537-1431 p

FOR RENT—Garage, 713 Main St., next the Public Library. 6378-3411

400 acres land unimproved, fine soil. Will rent from 1 to 10 years. J. Gordinier, Brainerd. 6524-5012 p

FOR RENT—Furnished room. Very reasonable. Van's Lunch Room. 6488-4511

FOR RENT—Sleeping room with bath in modern home. 722 South Broadway. 11

FOR RENT—Comfortable house nicely located, north side, modern except heat. M. E. Hitch. 6521-4912 p

FOR RENT—5 and 6 room house, 3 room downstairs flat and 2 room furnished apartment. Call 236-W. 6506-4813

FOR RENT—Furnished cottage on North Round Lake, with boat, ice, etc. Reasonable. Phone 593. See 722 South Broadway. 11

FOR RENT—Several moderately priced houses and apartments. Near shops. J. H. Krekelberg. 4169-1071 p

FOR RENT—Four room cottage with ice and boat, near Lone Pine Camp on South Long Lake. Inquire L. J. Erickson, 1603 Norwood St. 6513-4916

FOR RENT—Attractive apartments, steam heated, electric lighted, with gas and bath. Also desirable store, centrally located R. R. Gould, phone 197. 2058-2201 p

MISCELLANEOUS

FOUND—Bow glasses. 318 3rd Ave. 6519, 4913

LOST—Pair of glasses. Finder please leave at Dispatch. 6523-5013 p

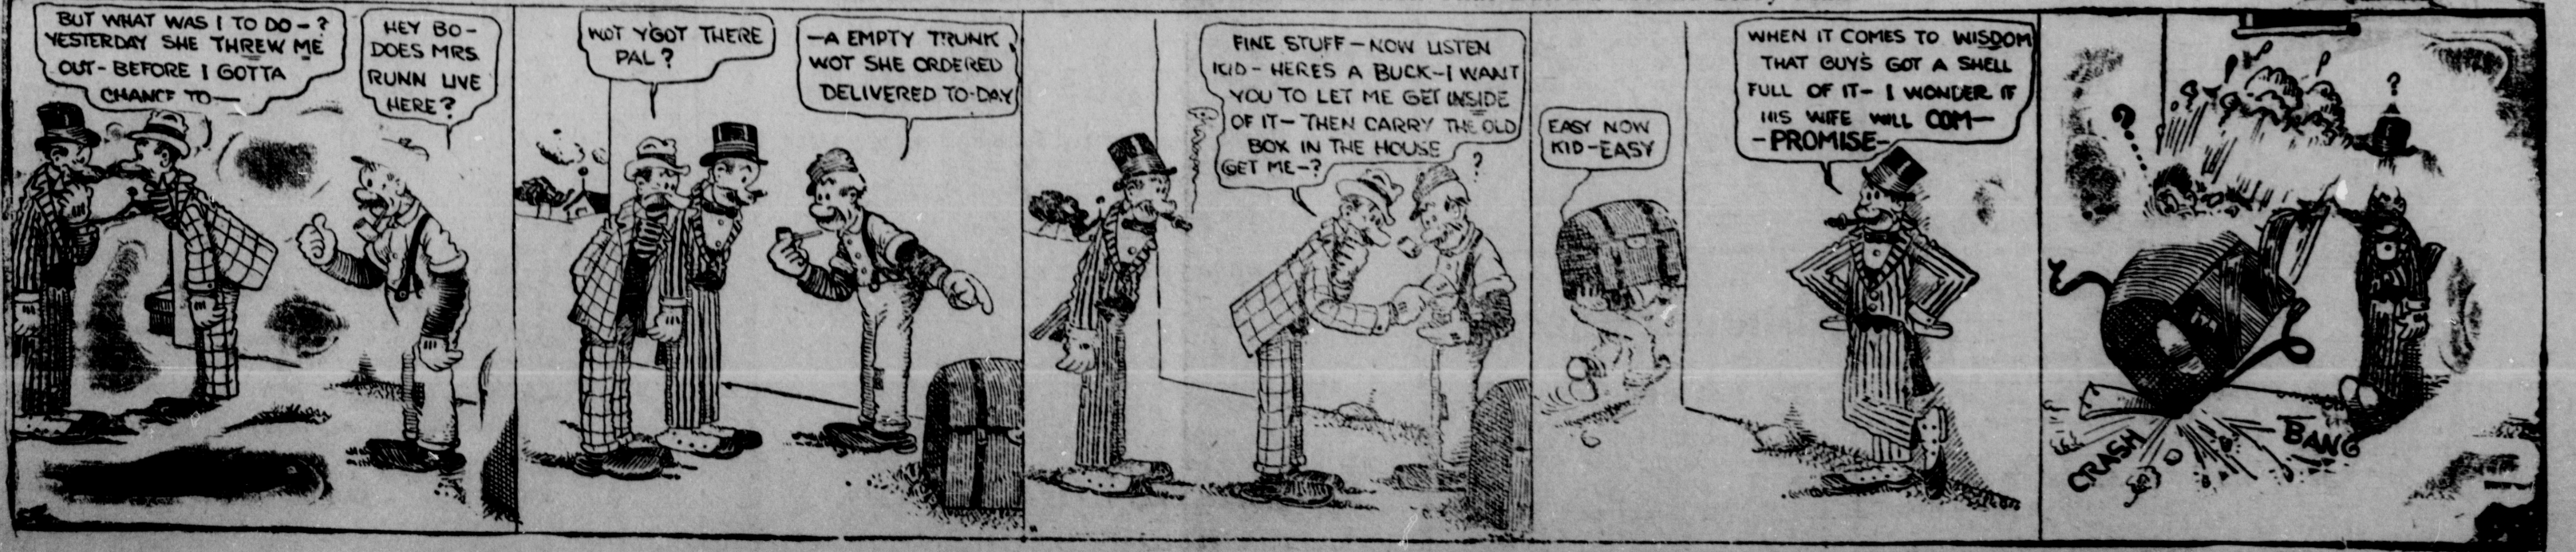

WANTED—Boarders at 224 N. 9th St. Phone 1123-J. 6508-4816 p

NEW Shoe Shop, open after supper. 824 Front street. Prices reasonable. 6482-4516 p

WANTED TO RENT—Small farm with lake shore, good house, and chicken coop on lake within 10 miles of Brainerd. Address X-50 Dispatch. 6520-4916 p

THE party who took the leather jacket from Gilbert Lake last night is known. Return to owner to avoid trouble. Name inside of coat. 6529-5012

HIT AND RUN—Nevertheless, It's Far From Our Intention to Discredit the Contention That Bull's a Second Story Man!

MUD RUNNER EXPECTED TO WIN AMERICAN DERBY

$100,000 RACE ON TODAY AT
HOMEWOOD TRACK,
CHICAGO

RAIN LAST NIGHT HAS TURNED
COURSE INTO A HOG
WALLOW

Chicago, July 31.—(UP)—A mud runner was expected to win America's richest horse race, the $100,000 American derby at the Homewood track here today.

Rain which began last night and abated this morning has turned the track into a hog wallow upon which possibility 11 entries, pitifully inadequate when the large purse is considered, were scheduled to go to the barrier. Four of the entries were almost certain to be scratched and two more were extremely doubtful, leaving only five probable starters when the wire is sprung.

Of these Boot to Boot from E. H. Bradley's stables; Display, the Preakness winner, and Black Maria, winner of the Kentucky and Illinois Oaks are the only three receiving much financial notice.

Odds of from 50 to 100 to 1 are being quoted on the others in the mediocre field. Bagenbaggage, according to all reports, is not fit and will not be able to answer the bugle. Officials of the Illinois Jockey club predicted that 60,000 spectators would be out to witness the event. Others declared 30,000 would be a more accurate estimate.

Eastern race horse owners have almost completely neglected the derby, which was postponed from July 10 until today. Not a single eastern three-year-old of the class with Crusader and Blondin has been entered. The entries:

Chicago, 118 pounds, F. M. Grabner, owner—H. Jones, jockey.

Smiling Gus, 118 pounds, C. Durnell, owner—E. Pool, jockey.

Display, 126 pounds, W. J. Salmon, owner—J. Maiben, jockey.

Bagenbaggage, 126 pounds, Idle Hour Farm, owner—G. Johnson, jockey.

Bolton, 118 pounds, C. Durnell, owner—A. Pickens, jockey.

Col Board, 118 pounds, M. Loewenstein, owner—D. Froggatt, jockey.

David L, 118 pounds, M. Loewenstein, owner—L. Schaefer, jockey.

Black Maria, 116 pounds, W. R. Cee, owner—B. Bruening, jockey.

Open Hand, 118 pounds, Keeneland Stud, owner—S. Elston, jockey.

Blockhead, 118 pounds, C. Koerner, owner—F. Monello, jockey.

Boot to Boot, 121 pounds, Idle Hour Farm, owner—A. Johnson, jockey.

Dykes Sets Record for Freak Batting in Game

Records for freak batting stunts were put in the discard last season by Jimmy Dykes of the Philadelphia Athletics in his phenomenal hitting against the Yankees on October 2. Jimmy went to bat five times and each time up he safely hit the first ball pitched. Four of the hits were off Garland Braxton and one was off Herb Penneck, and they included a home run and a three-bagger. Five out of five isn't so rare, but when one batter gets five clean hits out of five pitched balls he has done something which the old-timers concede is mighty unusual.

The same player had another perfect day at the plate on July 12, when he collected four hits out of that many times at bat. Two months later he made good on five out of six trips to the plate in the second game of a double-header.

Ira Flagstead, Red Sox infielder, also had an odd record. On May 8, at Detroit, Flagstead went to the plate six times, made one hit, walked five times and scored five times.

Condemned Son to Death

The Roman Emperor Constantine the Great in 324 put his eldest son, Crispus, to death for high treason. Crispus is said to have been the victim of an intrigue on the part of his stepmother, Fausta.

MILWAUKEE COUNTRY CLUB MAY GET THE TOURNAMENT

Milwaukee, Wis., July 31.—(UP)—At the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Women's Golf Association held this afternoon no bids were made for next year's women's state tournament. However it was thought that the tournament will probably be held at the Milwaukee country club next year.

JACK DEMPSEY SOON ON WAY TO NEW YORK

TO OPEN TRAINING CAMP AT SARATOGA SPRINGS,
NEW YORK

LAUGHS AT CONTRACT FLOUR-
ISHED BY CLEMENTS OF
CHICAGO

Colorado Springs, Col., July 31.—(UP)—Jack Dempsey will shake the dust of his native Colorado from his feet Sunday and start for New York, the scene of his coming battle with Gene Tunney.

Dempsey plans to open his training camp at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., within the coming week.

As usual he laughed at mention of B. C. Clements, who yesterday claimed he would prevent Dempsey from fighting Tunney because of a contract Clements claimed he held for the champion to fight Harry Wills.

"Clements is trying to make a good showing before his stockholders in the Coliseum club," he said. "I would not pay any attention to him, but I certainly shall to the court. My attorneys here will handle the case there for me."

"I'm rearin' to go," Dempsey said. "The worst part of the fight is over right now and I am anxious to get down to hard work."

ASK MORE PAVING ON HIGHWAY NO. 1

ASK IMPROVEMENT TO EXTEND
FROM KNIFE RIVER TO TWO HARBORS

Duluth, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—A request for the paving of state highway No. 1 from Knife River to Two Harbors and grading of the highway from Reservation river to its terminus at Pigeon river will be made of the state highway commission by the Duluth Chamber of Commerce.

Highway Commissioner Charles M. Babcock will be the guest of the organization at a luncheon August 16 and the improvements will be suggested to him at that time.

KEYNOTE SPEECH OF CHRISTIANSON AT FERGUS FALLS

Fergus Falls, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—The keynote address of his campaign for re-election will be delivered by Governor Theodore Christianson in Fergus Falls. Christianson has accepted an invitation by the republican county committee to speak here. The committee pointed out that this community gave the governor an overwhelming vote in the primary election.

Whole Front of Locomotive Brows Out

Hagerstown, Md., July 31.—(UP)—Explosion of the boiler of a running Western Maryland locomotive near here today resulted in the death of the fireman, W. G. Hammond, and the injury of John H. Tewalt, engineer, and John W. Fleagle, conductor. The entire front of the locomotive was blown out an scattered several hundred yards.

The enginemen, according to railroad officials, had replaced strikers.

VATICAN'S VIEW OF THE MEXICAN SITUATION GIVEN

BELIEVE MEXICAN BISHOPS WILL
SUSPEND CEREMONIES
SUNDAY

ISSUANCE OF AN EDICT FROM
ROME NOT THOUGHT OF
BY HOLY SEE

By THOMAS B. MORGAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Rome, July 31.—Vatican officials believe Mexican bishops will suspend ceremonies Sunday, this being a virtual interdict.

The issuance of an interdict from Rome is farthest from the thoughts of the Holy See at present, the United Press understands.

Such action by Rome would be a measure of last resort after all efforts at conciliation had failed.

RIOTOUS SCENES AND BLOODSHED

By A. W. FOLGER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Mexico City, July 31.—Riotous scenes and bloodshed have marked the first closings of Mexican churches on the eve of the introduction of government anti-religious laws.

No one can predict the results of the disturbed situation. Three riots last night marked the first church closings. At least 10 persons were wounded when troops fired on crowds. More are reported wounded. In one riot Attorney General Romero Ortega was struck on the head with a bottle wielded by a woman.

Two events during the week hastened the present situation. The first was the church's determination to abandon the churches in the face of the new laws; the second was the government's intention to place the C. R. O. M. labor body in charge of at least part of the churches. Further trouble is expected in the interior where the religious fervor of the Indians is traditional. Reports indicate they are already deeply moved by the situation.

LIVESTOCK, PRODUCE GRAIN AND BONDS

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Chicago, July 31.—(By Department of Agriculture)—CATTLE—Receipts, 500. Compared with a week ago: Heavy fed steers and grassers 25@50c lower; lowest levels since 1924; yearlings steady to 25c lower; choice heavies $9.75; vealers $10.50; extreme top $10.65; light grassers steady with fairly broad demand; grassy kinds predominate in she stock, 25c off; bulls 25c down; vealers 50c down. Bulk prices: Fed steers $8.50@10; grass steers $6.50@8; stockers and feeders $5.75@7; fat cows $4.50@6.25; slaughter heifers $6.50@8.75; all cutters $3.25@4; veal calves $12@13.

SHEEP—Receipts, 1,000. Practically none on sale today. For week 9,500 direct and 149 doubles from feeding stations. Fat lambs 50@55c lower; culls 75c@1 lower; sheep 25@50c higher; yearlings weak to 25c lower; feeder lambs 25@50c lower. Top prices: Range fed lambs $14.95; natives $14.40; fat yearling $12; fat ewes $7.50; feeder lambs $14. Bulk prices: Range lambs $14.25@14.85; natives $13.50@14.25; culls $10.25@11.50; ewes $5.50@7.25; feeder lambs $13@14.

HOGS—Receipts, 3,000. Steady to 10c higher. Top $13.75. 150 to 210 lbs averages $13.30@13.65; butchers $12@12.90; slaughter pigs $13.25@13.40; packing sows $10.15@10.50; heavies down to $10 and lower; some went at $10.75@10.85; shippers took 10,000; estimated hold over 1,000. Prices: Bulk of sales $10.30@12; heavyweights $11.85@13; medium weights $12.25@13.50; lightweights $13@13.75; light hogs $13.10@13.75; packing sows $9.85@10.75; slaughter pigs $13@13.65.

SOUTH ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK

HOGS—Receipts, 600. Market steady with Friday's average; receipts very light. Quotations: (250-350 lbs) $12@12.75; (200-250 lbs) $12.50@13; (160-200 lbs) $12.75@13; (90-130 lbs) $12.50; packing sows $10@10.50.

CATTLE—Receipts, 200. Calves, 200; compared to week ago veal calves 50c lower. Market compared to week ago: Weighty matured fed steers and low grade grass killing stocks 25c or more lower; others steady.
SHEEP—Receipts, 100. Market compared to week ago: Fat lambs 50c lower; sheep steady to strong. Week's top quotations: Top fat lambs $13.50; bulk fat lambs $12@13.50; bulk cull lambs $9.50; bulk fat ewes $5@7.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET

CHEESE—Twins, 20c; Young Americas, 20 1/2@20 3/4c.
LIVE POULTRY—Fowls, 21@23 1/4c; ducks, 22@25c; geese, 16c; springs, 20c; turkeys, 34c; roosters, 18 1/2c.
POTATOES—Arrivals 48 cars; on track 163 cars. Kansas and Missouri sacked Irish Cobblers, $1.75@2.

ST. PAUL PRODUCE MARKET

BUTTERFAT—Per lb., 40c.

MINNEAPOLIS CLOSING CASH PRICES

SPRING WHEAT—No. 1 Dark Northern, $1.62@1.71; No. 1 Dark Northern, to arrive, $1.60. No. 1 Northern, $1.62@1.65; No. 1 Northern, to arrive, $1.59. No. 2 Dark Northern, $1.59@1.62. No. 2 Northern, $1.54@1.65. No. 3 Dark Northern, $1.54@1.58.
CORN—No. 2 Yellow, 86@87c. No. 3 Yellow, 85@86c; No. 3 Yellow, to arrive, 85c. No. 4 Yellow, 83@84c. No. 5 Yellow, 81@82c. No. 3 Mixed, 83@84c. No. 4 Mixed, 81@82c. No. 5 Mixed, 79@80c.
OATS—No. 2 White, 42 1/2@42 3/4c. No. 3 White, 41 1/2@42 1/4c. No. 3 White, to arrive, 41 1/2c. No. 4 White, 39 1/2@41 1/4c.

BARLEY—Choice to fancy, 68@69c; medium to good, 64@67c; lower grades, 59@63c.
RYE—No. 2, $1.04@1.05 1/2c; No. 2, to arrive, $1.04 1/2c.

FLAXSEED—No. 1, $2.50@2.52 1/2; No. 1, to arrive, $2.50@2.51 1/2.

VIGOROUS BULL DEMONSTRATION

New York, July 31.—(UP)—Friday's reactionary tendency in the industrial list was thrown aside in the week end session and another vigorous bull demonstration was staged in this section of the market. At the same time aggressive buying operations went ahead in public utilities and rails, creating a buoyant tone in the whole list.

New York Central and C. & O. were two leading carrier issues, which reached new highs, while Consolidated Gas, Detroit Edison and North American moved ahead spiritedly in the utilities division.

Motor shares continued the principal features of the industrials. Studebaker, Nash and Hudson imitated the example recently set on the upside by General Motors.

Sentiment was heartened by the varied character of the stocks furnishing leadership and the week closed with the traders in a more confident mood than at any time since the advance began.

The market closed higher.

BANKER FOUND DEAD UNDER HIS OVERTURNED CAR

Granite Falls, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—P. C. Saunders, president of the Farmers & Merchants Bank of Milwaukee, S. D., was found dead under his overturned automobile near the Yellowstone trail bridge here this morning.

Saunders, who was returning home from Minneapolis, where he had left his wife and three young children, apparently fell asleep or fainted and drove his car through the guard rail of the bridge. It plunged to the river bed. He had been dead several hours when found.

BOILER EXPLODES; SCALDS TWO MEN

Lewes, Del., July 31.—(UP)—Two men were scalded, one perhaps fatally, today when a boiler exploded on the Munson Line's steamship Munchape off the north coast. The injured are:

Roy Lawrence, New York, second assistant engineer, serious scalds, and Jose Hosa, Cuban fireman, also seriously scalded. Hosa may die, physicians at the hospital here report.

STATE POLICE CONTINUE TO GAIN EVIDENCE

REOPENED INVESTIGATION OF
HALL-MILLS CASE NOW
UNDER WAY

ALL WITNESSES ARE CLOSELY GUARDED, FORBIDDEN TO DISCUSS CASE

Somerville, N. J., July 31.—(UP)—With Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall at liberty on $15,000 bond and the release of the only other person arrested expected momentarily, the reopened investigation of the Hall-Mills case today became a game of "watchful waiting."

William Phillips, night watchman, held as a material witness under $50,000 bail, obtained a reduction to $2,500 this afternoon through his attorney from Justice of Peace William Sutphen. He expected to leave the county jail as soon as a bondsman could be obtained.

State police are still gathering evidence in the four years' murder mystery of Rev. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, choir singer in his church. All witnesses were closely guarded and were forbidden to discuss the case. Mrs. Hall after her release from the county jail where she was held on a double charge of murder passed the day at her home with friends and relatives of her husband, the slain minister.

Willie Stevens, her eccentric half-brother was at the house, but members of the family saw to it that reporters got nowhere near him.

FURTHER ANGLE IN KIDNAPING CASE OF EVANGELIST

Los Angeles, Calif., July 31.—(UP)—Further indication that Kenneth D. Ormiston, former radio operator at Angelus Temple, has rallied to the defense of Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, whose kidnaping story is doubted, was seen in a telegram received by District Attorney Asa Keyes today.

The message signed "Attorney Martin," read: "Sending you via air mail Ormiston's affidavit. You can communicate with him through my office."

The telegram was sent from Chicago and followed by a few hours announcement that Mrs. McPherson had received a wire direct from Ormiston pledging his aid in refuting claims of prosecutors that the couple spent several days together at Carmel following the evangelist's disappearance.

Keyes left his office immediately following receipt of the telegram today presumably to visit Mrs. McPherson.

READ THE WANT ADS DAILY

VALET
AutoStop
Razor sharpens itself

FLIT
DESTROYS
Moths, Roaches
Bedbugs, Flies
STANDARD OIL CO. (NEW JERSEY)

Dispatch Want Ads

PRICE—One cent a word for each insertion

HELP WANTED

WANTED—Night clerk, Ideal Hotel. 6522-4913

WANTED—Cook and one woman for kitchen work. Island View Lodge, R. R. 4. 6487-451f

WANTED—Woman for housekeeping 35 to 40. Phone 448 before 6 P. M. 6504-481f

WANTED—Girl to work in restaurant. Phone 27-F-11 or write Mrs. Moran, Nisswa. 6531-5012

LADIES—We pay $7 per hundred for gilding greeting cards; pleasant, easy work; write immediately. King Card Co., 155 East 42nd St., N. Y. 6527-5011p

4 SOLICITORS WANTED—We have a money making proposition for you. Ladies or gentlemen. Kelly Studio, Opsahl block. 6511-4813

LADIES—Work for us at HOME in SPARE TIME. INTERESTING and PROFITABLE. NO SELLING. Enclose stamp. Cosmos Manufacturing Co., 4401 Broadway, Chicago. Room A. 6496-4712pws

REAL JOB FOR REAL MAN—Something entirely different for full or part time. No investment or red tape. Million dollar concern. Write Sales Manager, 1900 West 86th, Cleveland, Ohio. 6526-5011p

HELP WANTED—Male or female—Reliable Representative wanted to handle our Nationally advertised line of Hosiery and Lingerie. Exclusive territory and rapid advancement. Splendid opportunity. Write immediately to 211 Wilmac Building, Minneapolis, Minn. 6525-5011p

FEMALE HELP—Several Ladies of good appearance to do special work, salary $35.00 per week, chance to make permanent connection with good pay, work will be in your own town or county, give age in first letter, enclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply—address W. LEO, 108 Seymour street, New Britain, Conn. 6514-4912p

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Holstein cow. Phone 165. 6512-4914p

FOR SALE—Hay stumpage. Call 487-J. 6498-4714p

FOR RENT—House at 303 N. Broadway. Call 207-J. 6518-4916p

FOR SALE—7 room house and 2 lots. 904 South Seventh street. 6528-501f

FOR SALE—Good team, heavy harness, wagon. E. J. Jennison, Garrison, Minn. 6505-4816p

NEW boat and trailer at a bargain. Pat Rardin, 205 Main St. 6515-4912

FOR SALE—Minnows and frogs at 114 Gillis Ave. N. E. Phone 314-M. 6240-201f

FOR SALE—One quart ice cream freezer and electric washing machine, both in good condition, also a lot. Call 637-J. 6509-481f

FOR SALE—Entire line of household goods, all like new. Garden tools, lawn mower. 209 Kingwood. 6500-4716p

FOR SALE—Two used light twin Eltos, $62.50 and one Ferro, $30.00. Outdoor motors. See them at Dan's Radiator Shop, Gardner block. 6507-481f

FOR QUICK SALE CHEAP—Leaving town, all household goods—Seeger Refrigerator, electric range dining set, dishes, etc. Dr. K. H. Hoorn. Phone 345-W. 55 Bluff Ave. N. 6530-501f

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—Modern house. Phone 793-W. 5922-2991f

FOR RENT—Concrete garage. 921 S. 8th St. 6516-4913p

FOR RENT—2 modern furnished rooms. E. A. Page, Jeweler. 6279-251f

FOR RENT—Garage, E. A. Page, Jeweler. 6192-161f

FOR RENT—3 furnished rooms with bath, upstairs for two people. 714 1/2 Norwood St. 6532-5013

GOOD rooms at National Hotel by day or week. Prices reasonable. 6031-3081f

FOR RENT—Two modern office rooms. Lyceum building. 1537-1431f

FOR RENT—Garage, 713 Main St., next the Public Library. 6378-341f

400 acres land unimproved, fine soil. Will rent from 1 to 10 years. J. Gordinier, Brainerd. 6524-5012p

FOR RENT—Furnished room. Very reasonable. Van's Lunch Room. 6488-451f

FOR RENT—Sleeping room with bath in modern home. 722 South Broadway. 1f

FOR RENT—Comfortable house nicely located, north side, modern except heat. M. E. Hitch. 6521-4912p

FOR RENT—5 and 6 room house, 3 room downstairs flat and 2 room furnished apartment. Call 236-W. 6506-4813

FOR RENT—Furnished cottage on North Round Lake, with boat, ice, etc. Reasonable. Phone 593. See 722 South Broadway. 1f

FOR RENT—Several moderately priced houses and apartments. Near shops. J. H. Krekelberg. 4169-1071f

FOR RENT—Four room cottage with ice and boat, near Lone Pine Camp on South Long Lake. Inquire L. J. Erickson, 1603 Norwood St. 6513-4915

FOR RENT—Attractive apartments, steam heated, electric lighted, with gas and bath. Also desirable store, centrally located R. R. Gould, phone 197. 2058-2201f

MISCELLANEOUS

FOUND—Bow glasses. 318 3rd Ave. 6519-4913

LOST—Pair of glasses. Finder please leave at Dispatch. 6523-5013p

WANTED—Boarders at 224 N. 9th St. Phone 1123-J. 6508-4816p

NEW Shoe Shop, open after supper. 824 Front street. Prices reasonable. 6482-4516p

WANTED TO RENT—Small farm with lake shore, good house, and chicken coop on lake within 10 miles of Brainerd. Address X-50 Dispatch. 6520-4916p

THE party who took the leather jacket from Gilbert Lake last night is known. Return to owner to avoid trouble. Name inside of coat. 6529-5012

HIT AND RUN—Nevertheless, It's Far From Our Intention to Discredit the Contention That Bull's a Second Story Man!

